Report of Director of Veteran's Services

January 10, 1956

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen
and Town Manager:

This department takes pleasure in submitting to you a summary of services and financial aid to the veteran and his dependents of the Town of Randolph for the past year.

This office developed and processed 127 claims for veterans benefits and war allowance applications, which were authorized by the State Department of Veterans Services and we received 50% of all monies spent for the year 1955.

I wish to thank you gentlemen for supplying this office with a full time clerk, as it has paid dividends for the taxpayers of Randolph in so much as the appropriation for the year of 1955 was $40,000, this office turned back to the E. and D. Account $1129.96, plus the reimbursement from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

As Director of Veterans Services, 1955 has been an exceptionally busy year as we had hundreds of Korean Veterans discharged from service, filed, developed and processed 595 claims for insurance, advisement and guidance on the job training, dental, education, war and peace time disabilities, Part III Benefits, State Bonus applications, W. W. I and W. W. II Widow's Pensions, hospital care, out-patient treatment, burial allowance, real estate loans, abatement of real estate tax, widow's, orphans, veterans annual income questionnaires. Would call your attention to the fact that this office was successful in processing claims for disabilities of veterans of all wars and they received $10,038.00 in retroactive payments which is long range economy to the Town of Randolph, and also hundreds of young Randolph Korean Veterans are attending college under the G.I. Bill, which means on completion of their education, it will put them in the higher income bracket, which is also good economy for the town.

I would take this opportunity to thank you, the Veterans' Organizations, local doctors and the Finance Committee for their splendid cooperation, without it, the services to the veteran and his dependent by this office would not be possible.

"There will be no period during the lifetime of those of us now concerned, when the need of this type of service shall have ceased to exist".

Respectively submitted,

WILLIAM S. COLE,
Director.

Report of Board of Public Welfare

TO: Town Manager

SUBJECT: Annual Report of Board of Public Welfare

The duties and functions of a Welfare Department are manifold, serving needy citizens and non-citizens. This Report is abridged and fails to include all of the detailed operations imposed by statute. For financial information this department's disbursements and reimbursements, you are referred to the report of the Town Accountant.

The need for welfare services is contained in Section 1, Chapter 117 of the General Laws of Massachusetts which states, "Every town shall relieve and support all poor and indigent persons lawfully settled therein whenever they stand in need thereof".

This department administers four categories of public assistance, each with its own set of laws and State Department rules and regulations. The categories include:

A Old Age Assistance. An average of 169 persons per month during 1955 received a total of $153,197.41 of which $43,130.00 comprised medical expenditures. Thirty-five formal applications were received and investigated during the year; 31 applications were approved and four disapproved.

B Aid to Dependent Children. An average of 17 families per month during 1955 received at total of $20,146.41 of which $1,623.00 comprised medical expeditures. Nineteen formal applications were received and investigated; 16 were approved and three disapproved.

C Disability Assistance. An average of nine persons per month during 1955 received a total of $11,-621.52 of which $8,118.00 comprised medical expenditures. Eleven formal applications were received and investigated of which five were approved, four disapproved, two pending at the close of 1955.

D General Relief. An average of 16 families per month during 1955 received a total of $11,801.91 of which $4,245.00 comprised medical expenditures. Twenty formal applications were received and investigated of which 19 were approved and one disapproved. This type of assistance, also known as Temporary Aid, is usually of short duration, and consists of persons who do not qualify for the first three named categories. Veterans who do not qualify for Veterans' Benefit are aided under this program.

The first three named categories involve the local, State and Federal Governments. Depending upon the settlement status of General Relief recipients, the financial responsibility rests solely with either the State or the Town. There is no Federal reimbursement under General Relief. The net cost of the entire Welfare Department to the taxpayers of Randolph is 25 cents on each dollar expended. This includes aid to all recipients and the cost of administration.

The present staff consists of one Welfare Agent, one Social Worker, one Senior Clerk, and one Junior Clerk. Each is under the jurisdiction of the State Division of Civil Service which determines the minimum and maximum salary figures. According to State and Federal welfare officials, the Randolph Welfare Department is in urgent need of a second Social Worker. With a total case load that averages 210 per month, the miximum efficiency for sound, practical investigation is unobtainable which can and does result in greater expenditures by the Department. To do effective, all around good work, a Social Worker should be responsible for not more than 120 cases, preferably 100. The Randolph Board of Public Welfare unanimously voted to recommend that a second Social Worker be obtained.

For the first time in the history of Randolph, the Board of Public Welfare consists of local citizens who do not hold elective Town offices. On June 27, 1955, Town Manager Charles R. Iovino appointed Col. Ralph E. MacLeod, who is the Chairman, Mrs. Loyal R. Safford, clerk, and Mr. William J. Leahy, member. Each serves without remuneration.

The Board and staff members wish to express their appreciation for the cooperation received by the Town Manager, and all other departments, especially the Board of Assessors, the Board of Public Health, the Town Clerk and Treasurer, the Town Accountant, the Veterans Department and the Police Department.

Respectfully submitted,

COL. RALPH E. MACLEOD, Chairman
MRS. LOYAL R. SAFFORD, Clerk
MR. WILLIAM J. LEAHY, Member

Report of The Planning Board

The Randolph Planning Board submits herewith the annual report of the year 1955.

During this period many changes have taken place. Some of these changes are the result of study and effort on the part of previous Boards and some from the efforts of your present Board.

These changes include:

Personnel—complete change except for one member.

Plan File and Business File—updated and new files put into use.

Rules and Regulations — re-written, adopted March 22, 1955. Copies made available for interested parties.

New Map of Town Streets—made available to the public.

Procedure Changes Instituted—for closer inter-departmental cooperation.

The Board has held meetings at least once a week throughout the past year, with the exception of Christmas week, and attendance has been about 95% complete although for two periods we have worked as a four-man Board rather than at our full complement of five men.

As is typical with many Planning Boards, due to the present building boom, by far, the greater part of our time and effort has been spent on Subdivision Control and its corallary control not required, which means that all land transfers have to be processed by this Board. For many months Randolph has been on the top of the list in number of deed transfers registered at Dedham Registry for the towns in our population size or smaller.

We believe that considering our sewerage program, drainage problems, anticipated street construction and reconstruction and for full control of subdivisions that the town will save money by spending more wisely under the direction of a Town Engineer.

We realize fully the importance of developing new business and industrial sites which can be the means of locating more business within the Town. Your Board is steadily working towards that end with the Business and Industrial Development Commission. We believe that controlled growth in this field will do much to broaden the tax base and provide work for our residents which will lighten the tax burden on the homeowner caused by demand for new schools and new and expanded municipal services.

We will appreciate your comments and suggestions regarding the future growth of your Town and will welcome your attendance at Public Hearings, particularly those dealing with Zoning. Hearing dates are published in our local newspapers.

In all these matters we are earnestly working, we believe, in the best interests of the entire Town.

Report of The Town Counsel

Mr. Charles R. Iovino, Town Manager,
Town of Randolph

Randolph, Massachusetts.

Having been Town Counsel for only the last two and a half months of the year 1955, my report is necessarily brief.

Since the Town has experienced over the past few years a spectacular growth in population, and with it the Town Departments and services have grown, the demands on the time of the Town Counsel have also proportionately grown.

Opinions to the various Town Departments absorb a great segment of the Town Counsel's time. In addition thereto, there are land damage cases pending against the Town, and claims of various types including property damage and tax abatements.

In addition to the Departments requesting opinions, the Town Counsel must prepare and render opinions for some of the Town Committees.

There is also legal work done in connection with contracts, retirement of town personnel, taking of easements, and matters involving the disposing or acquisition of land.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM J. CARR, Town Counsel

Report of Business and Industrial Commission

The Business and Industrial Commission was established by vote at the 1955 Annual Town Meeting and appointed by the Moderator. The seven-member board met weekly through the summer and twice monthly following the Special Town Meeting in September.

The general objective of the Committee was to study ways and means to encourage the industrial and business development of Randolph and to be advisory in these respects to the Town. Meetings were held with Town officials, realty and development interests, and members of the Massachusetts Department of Commerce. From these, there was evolved a three-point program which involved: (1) the acquisition of suitable sites within the Town for business development, (2) the preparation and circulation of a brochure advertising the facilities of Randolph to businessmen, and (3) the active recruitment of new business by personal contact.

Partial fulfillment of the first phase began with enactment of three of eight articles offered jointly by the Commission and Planning Board at the September Special Town Meeting. These were intended to establish industrial zones proximally located to new or proposed highways restricted for use as suggested by members of the Massachusetts State Department of Commerce. The present status of land suitably zoned for industry is that a sufficient acreage exists for a good beginning of industrialization, but that future zoning needs is a matter for responsible Town officials to provide. It is urged that the Selectmen and Town Manager recognize the vital need to develop the interests of commerce and to lead the community in this respect rather than remain detached from the problem.

The preparation of a brochure (point two) has been started with a compilation of statistics concerning Randolph, and a study of format and requirements for publication. Completion of the brochure will require an appropriation, to be requested at the Annual Town Meeting of 1956, in order to cover composition, printing and circulation costs.

Active recruitment of new business (point three) has commenced with attempts by the Commission to locate industry which is in the process of expansion or relocation, and with encouragement of private development of the Town's industrial land. It is recommended that financing such development be undertaken by civic or business groups with private capital. These may or may not encourage investment by Town citizens but should absolve the Town of development costs. The opinion of the Commission is that the Town should do all in its power to create a favorable atmosphere and to encourage industrialization without incurring large indebtedness for site development. Since each $1,000 of new value created for private investors will be worth only the amount of the tax rate to the Town, it is necessary to place the financial burden upon the developers. The recruitment of new business should be an active function of every taxpayer and not be exclusive to the Commission. No amount of persuasion should be spared to convince everyone, starting with the Town's highest official that every effort must be expended to enter into the competition with other Towns for sufficient increase of business and industrial assessment. Successful activities of this type will help stabilize the upward influence on tax rates caused by increased municipal costs.

Report of The Town Manager

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:
Gentlemen:

I herewith submit the Annual Report of the Town Manager for the year 1955.

From May 23rd, to December 31st, 1955, approximately 7 months, it has been my pleasure to serve the people of Randolph as the first Town Manager under "An Act Establishing A Selectmen-Town Manager Form of Government For the Town of Randolph." These have been months of adjustments to make the transition from the former Selectmen form of municipal government to the Selectmen-Town Manager type as smooth as possible. In making the change-over, I wish to thank the people of the town, the clergy of all denomination, the Board of Selectmen, the Finance Committee and the town employees for the acknowledgement that they have given to my position.

While the activities of my office have been extremely limited in the matter of reorganization of the municipal departments, offices, boards and committees due to the amount of the appropriation made, I wish to state that concerted effort directed toward modernizing and stabilizing municipal activities of a growing town will be accelerated in the year ahead. Linked to this too is a simultaneous determination to create a favorable atmosphere for all segments of our social, civic, religious, political and economic life based on impartial government. Intimately related to these facets of human endeavour is the costs that must be borne to provide the municipal services, personnel, tools and equipment so essential to modern, democratic civilization.

Faced with a protracted period of depreciating values of money, the ever increasing demand for more and more municipal services, the need for additional school facilities, the correction of many drainage problems throughout the town, the construction of new roads, re-surfacing of existing roads and the implementation of the initial phase of the sewerage program, it is clear that a tremendous effort must be exerted toward a broadening of the tax base otherwise a crushing burden will be placed on the small home-owner. I have channeled my entire personal strength to sell Randolph to industry no matter where I happen to be. It is of paramount importance that we procure industry and business to locate here so that our municipal life will be brought in balance. No matter how residential a town is, it needs industry and business within its borders so as to increase the productivity, earning capacity and provide diversified job opportunities for its citizens as well as secure an equitable assessment to defray and spread out the cost of municipal government.

The municipal budget reflects, in a broad sense, the standard of living of the community. It is a formulated plan of financial operation embodying an estimate of proposed expenditures for a given period of time and the means of financing them. The budget represents the process by which municipal policy is made, by which the program is put into operation, and by which the legislative and administrative controls are setup. Planning is the very heart of budgeting. In conformance with improved techniques in industry and government is the performance budget which makes it possible more specifically to identify and relate costs to actual work performed. In short, the budget is based upon functions, activities and projects thus focussing attention upon the service to be rendered, rather than upon things to be acquired. The service to be accomplished and what the service will cost is, therefore, most important. The budget process is always affected by political, economic and social forces and pressures originating in the town itself rather than in the municipal offices. Therefore, it is a fact that government is responsive to many of these forces and pressures in keeping with our democratic institutions.

In the year 1955, the municipal budget amounted to approximately $1,640,000. To service this sum, a tax rate of $55.00 was set of which $24.75 was for schools and $30.25 for general government operations. In the year ahead we are faced with heavier commitments, growing requirements for services plus the implementation of activities that have not kept pace with the growth of the town. It is no wild stretch of imagination to add that when the new elementary school is in operation that the School Budget alone will reach $1,000,000 annually. At the present level, the school system is taking almost 50% of the tax rate and with the additional costs that will beset us in 1957, it is apparent that a challenge of tremendously awkward proportions is upon us now. Rather than bring this crushing financial blow on the homeowner, the immediate task is to bring new industry within our corporate limits.

Unquestionably, the lack of planning due to the lack of full-time administrative and management responsibilities has served to intensify the difficulties that confront us today. This is not to imply criticism on those who exercised responsibility in other years. Rather it is to point out the growing complexities of government on all levels.

In the year 1956, the official program is incorporated in the budget and warrant recommendations. I wish to point out that a great deal of hard-work remains to be done so that the tax dollar can be stretched out without impairment to our health, safety, spiritual and economic values. However, we must recognize that certain departments must be built up to sufficient strength, personnel recruited and equipment provided to render the services that are most urgent to our well-being. It is the intention of my office, if approved by the Town Meeting, that the following be provided:

1. a full-time Town Engineer
2. a full-time Assessor
3. additional personnel for the Highway Department
4. the beginnings of a complete Public Works Department
5. a clerk for the Town Accountant
6. an additional clerk for the Tax Collector's Office
7. a clerk for the Highway Department

8. equipment for the Highway and Fire Departments
9. additional office space in Town Hall
10. additional social worker in Welfare Department

Activities of the Town Manager shall be increased and accelerated to the extent that human endeavor will permit and will encompass the following:

1. centralized purchasing
2. centralized personnel office
3. long-term budget program
4. encumbrance accounting in the Town Accountant's Office
5. impetus to an effective industrial development program
6. financial stabilization
7. planning and zoning. Anticipation and plan for future needs in school sites, parks, water supply, and other public facilities.

Accomplishments of the Town Manager in 1955:

1. instituted an orderly complaint system
2. expedited tax billing
3. savings from purchasing procedures
4. delivery of better quality merchandise
5. cleaning of catch basins
6. recovery of town gravel pit
7. work under flood control
8. servicing of public inconveniences
9. beginning of centralized purchasing
10. radio publicity for the Town
11. substantial increase in allotment for Chapter 90, Maintenance.

The Town of Randolph today is a vibrant, growing progressive community with an illuminating future provided that we, its citizens, respond readilly with vigor and courage to solve the many problems that stand in the pathway. With full co-operation from all segments of our community we can leave behind an invigorated municipal government that will be looked upon with respect by the rest of the Commonwealth, the nation, attractive to newcomers whether they be industrial, commercial or residential in character.

While we have made definite strides in this direction, the largest part of the job still lies ahead. It is imperative that we develope our municiapl facilities to a high degree of efficiency so that they will serve as a willing tool for the forward advancement of the Town of Randolph.

May I, therefore, express my deep appreciation to my associates in the Town family for their ardent co-operation during the past 7 months. And to the people of the Town may I extend my gratitude for the many kindnesses and forebearance which has made my past number of months in the town such a pleasant experience.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES R. IOVINO
Town Manager

Fortunately for the past year there has been very little crime of any serious nature in the town. As you all know the traffic problem in Randolph is a serious one. In spite of constant patrol on our highways we still have had many accidents, especially on Route 28. Warnings and suspensions of licenses have helped to reduce the accident rate and we will continue to do our best to alleviate it.

We wish to extend our thanks and appreciation to the town officals, townspeople and all who have cooperated in the past year in maintaining the department and helping with its various activities.

Very truly yours,

PATRICK T. MCDONNELL
Chief of Police

Report of The Fire Department

To the Town Manager and the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

Gentlemen:

I hereby submit my report of the Fire Department for the year ending December 31, 1955.

The department responded to 438 calls classified as follows:

Number of calls	438
Building fires	111
Automobiles	24
False alarms	14
Inhalator calls	16
Miscellaneous	34
Aid calls out of town	2
Brush & Grass	237
Permits granted	458
Inspections made	1082
American Legion Ambulance calls	212
Feet of hose used—11,400-2½—8,725-1½—500—1⅛—39,050 Booster
Feet of ladders used	1,069
Assessed value of property damaged by fire	$118,130.00
Insurance on property damaged	528,300.00
Damage to property	26,608.17
Insurance paid on damage	26,608.17
Loss not covered	None
Value of contents involved	771,200.00
Insurance on contents	769,700.00
Damage to contents	36,206.41

Insurance paid on damage	23,581.44
Loss not covered	12,625.00

Due to the fact that we have approximately four thousand buildings to protect from fire loss it is necessary that the department be expanded both in manpower and equipment. One of our great problems is manpower during the day time when most of the call men are not available. Therefore, I feel it necessary to ask for two additional permanent firefighters in 1956. Also we are badly in need of a new forestry truck which I have asked for. Both the radio equipment and the aerial ladder truck have proven of great value during the past year. I have asked for one more radio for Engine 1 which will complete the equipment of all the trucks with radio. The new Fire Station voted at the annual meeting of 1955 is under construction and we expect to occupy it about June of 1956.

I wish at this opportunity to thank the Town Officials, the Finance Committee and the citizens of the Town for their co-operaiton during the past year, also the other members of this department.

Yours sincerely,

CARLTON P. HARRIS,
Chief of Randolph Fire Department

Report of Board of Health

POLIO EPIDEMIC OF 1955 RANDOLPH

The people of Randolph during the months of July through October of 1955 have experienced the most severe epidemic of Infantile Paralysis which has ever occurred in this Community. Records of the Board of Health reveal that in no year in the past have more than two cases of Polio been reported. For about one half of the years since 1916 there have been no reported cases. This year 32 cases occured (rate of 2.4 cases per 1000 of population) 22 of which were paralytic in nature and 10 were of the non-paralytic variety. There were four deaths. In the entire State of Massachusetts during this epidemic year there were approximately 160 deaths. Thus 25% of all Massachusetts polio deaths occured in the cases among our 14,000 population. Much more than our share.

This outbreak occured concomitantly with and was a part of the epidemic which has involved a major portion of the eastern part of the State of Massachusetts. During July the disease gained a foothold in the Boston area and thereafter seemed to spread radially to other parts of the State. Indeed several of our first cases in Randolph give history of contact with children of the earlier involved areas of Dorchester and South Boston and Boston. They and others probably were exposed to the virus during such visits or contracts and unintentionally brought the disease into Randolph. By mid-August it became apparent that Massachusetts was experiencing an epidemic second only in severity to that which occured in the year 1916. Some of the older Randolph residents may recall that outbreak, although our town was mysteriously spared and there was only one reported case that year.

Geographical Distribution of Cases

The accompanying spottings (see figure 1) shows the distribution of cases throughout the town during this outbreak. Cases were widely distributed over the town. There were, however, two main epidemic foci:

(1) Highland Ave., and Warren Street areas;

(2) Canton Street and Old Street triangle

The first two cases reported in the middle of July resided one each in these locations. Throughout the months of July, August, September and October cases occured in these areas and during these months spread from these to other regions of the town except for two or three heavily populated areas which escaped with either no cases at all or with only one or two cases.

Reason for Absence of Cases in Certain Parts of Randolph

Two heavily populated areas of Randolph were fortunate to completely escape without any recognized cases during this years' epidemic. One other area had far less cases than could have been expected for the size of the population invoked.

These areas which were spared during this epidemic are: (see figure 1)

In searching for reasons why these areas were spared while other population segments were so hard hit, we observed that these areas contained the polio cases which occured during the previous years of 1953 and 1954. The presumption is that the absence of cases in these areas during the present epidemic may be the result of considerable residual immunity resulting from previous experience with the polio virus in these population segments during 1953 and 1954. It is important to appreciate that whenever there is a recognized case of infantile paralysis there are usually many other people in the enviroment of each case who become infected with the virus (or germ of polio) without knowing it. Most people who get infected don't develop any sickness recognizable as polio or only slight fever for a few hours which may be almost unnoticed, or which the doctor may diagnose as "Virus" or as pharyngitis or by some other such diagnostic language. It is these carriers or "unapparent causes" or "unrecognized cases" that account for the great amount of the spread of polio. Sometimes, of course, it is possible to trace the spread of the disease from a recognized case to another person who was a close contact of the case. This is observed occasionally among family contacts of a case especially. But the occurance of most cases of polio cannot be accounted for on any such clearcut basis. Most acquire their infection directly or indirectly from people who do not know they are infected, or possibly by contact with intestinal discharges of such persons. Thus there is a strong probability that during 1953 and 1954 there were many people infected within the above described areas of Randolph, and that these people became immunized as a result of this experience and were protected from polio during the present epidemic.

Distribution of Cases in Time

The first cases had their onset during the middle of July (see figure 2) and during the last two weeks of July there were reported seven cases, four of which were paralytic; and one of these cases died. Thirteen cases occured in August, nine of which were paralytic with two deaths. There were only seven cases in September, six of which were paralytic. Only four paralytic cases occured in October and one of these died. One case, a non-paralytic case from which virus was not recovered, had its onset in the month of November.*

*This case is not included in figures 2, 3 and 4 but is the case spotted on the map (figure 1) on Woodlawn Street.

During the last two weeks in July and again during the last two weeks of August the physicians of the town were exceptionally busy. They were seeing hundreds of cases of an illness, especially occuring in younger age groups, which was characterized by slight to moderate fever, often sore throat and malaise—but without evidence of stiff neck or muscle weakness. For the lack of a better diagnosis many cases were called "virus" or "pharyngitis" or "low grade tonsillitis". During the first week of October a third but smaller wave of this sort of illness occured.

The occurence of this "epidemic" of illness in two major waves followed by a third smaller one which exactly coincide in time with the three waves of diagnosed cases of infantile paralysis (see figure 3) leads to the conclusion that most of these cases were in all probability infections with polio virus which did not cause paralysis nor other signficant central nervous system involvement. In other words these cases were un-diagnosable cases of non-paralytic poliomyelitis. By inference from what is known about the epidemiology of infantile paralysis it is estimated that there may have been between 4000 and 8000 people in Randolph infected with polio virus during the three and a half months interval after the middle of July. The people who were so infected are fortunate because they escaped paralysis and are now immune or protected against the type I polio virus. A large proportion of people so infected had no knowledge that they were carriers of the virus and were capable of passing the virus onto others. Doubtless some of the very parents who were isolating their children at home were infected and passed the virus to these children.

It is only the more severe cases which are recognized and diagnosed as polio and reported to the Board of Health. Of the probable 4000 to 8000 infections in Randolph only 32 cases were severe enough to be called "polio" during this epidemic and 10 of these developed no paralysis.

These 32 cases occured in three waves of cycles (see figure 3) approximately one month each. Ten of the cases occurred in the first wave, 12 in the second and nine in the third with another non-paralytic case spotted thereafter. Thus the peak of our epidemic was reached during the last of August or in early September during the peak of the second wave. This was also the intervale of time during which the local physicians were seeing the maximum number of so-called "virus" cases. The epidemic was essentially completed on the tenth of October, the date of onset of the last case of the third wave, although another non-paralytic case did occur which had its onset about 12 days later.

Age Distribution of Cases

Approximately half of the cases occured in patients under the age of five years (see figure 4). Two-thirds of the cases occured in children under the age of 10 years. The youngest case was that of a 15 months old infant and the oldest was a woman of 39 years. The age distribution of cases as shown in figures 4 and 5.

Age Distribution of Cases in Relation to the Rate of Opening of Schools

During the current epidemic careful consideration was given to the question of whether or not the opening of schools should be postponed. At the end of the last week of August the Board of Health, after consultation with polio experts and after a careful sanitary survey of the schools, recommended opening schools on schedule. Four days later, the Randolph School Committee announced a two week postponment of school opening until September 19. This action was taken because numerous of these surrounding towns had done so. Many of the announcements of these surrounding towns had stated that their action was not taken on advice of medical or health authority but because of great emotional concern on the part of parents, and to absolve town or city officials from blame for any cases which might occur in children of school age. In this conncetion it is of interest to consider what percentage of cases occured in children of school age before and after the actual opening of schools: (See figure 3).

Before schools opened on Sept. 19, there had been 22 cases of polio of which eight or nine (approximately 40%) had occured in children of school age. After school opened only 10 cases occured in the entire town of which only four cases (approximately 40%) were in children of school age and attending Randolph schools. Thus there was no significant difference in the percentage of school children affected after the opening of schools. In other words, the opening of schools did not cause any increase in the percentage of school children affected.

Investigation of individual cases occuring in school children after the opening of school reveal no evidence that any of these acquired their infections in the school enviroment. As an example, one such case in a child of the first grade of the Devine School shows clearly that this child did not acquire his infection at school. This child and a younger brother who attended kindergarten in another part of the town came down with paralysis within a few hours of each other. Both of these children of the same family must have been infected with polio virus almost simultaneously a week or two before these almost simultaneous onsets of their illness. The incubation period of polio averages about 12 days. The important point is this:—that if they both acquired their infection from a common source as is almost obvious, neither was infected at school because each went to a different school. One of the other cases occuring in a child of school age gave history of definite exposure 12 days before onset to another known case of paralytic polio in another community. No sure explanation was uncovered by investigation for the occurance of the other cases, but there was nothing which pointed to the school environment as their sources. Suggestive evidence in these cases pointed elsewhere.

Extremely careful and frequent attention was given by the Board of Health and by the full time agent, and by the school doctors, and by the school and Public Health nurses to the sanitation of the school enviroment. Children have been carefully observed by teachers and nurses, and children with fevers have been excluded for 48 hours and returned to school by doctor's certificate. Physical exercise and athletic programs were curtailed for several weeks at school, or, when permitted, the participants were screened for presence of fever. This was done not for the purpose of preventing infection with the polio virus nor even for the purpose of preventing close physical contact; instead it was done to prevent the paralytic form of the disease from manifesting itself in a participant in athletics who might be infected with the virus without knowing it. Physical exertion during preliminary phases of the disease is believed to be related to the difference between non-paralytic and paralytic forms. By instituting these measures we were directing our effort toward prevention of paralytic disease.

On the basis of our recent experience in this epidemic it would appear unnecessary in the future to postpone arbitrarily the opening of public schools if those schools are as well sanitated as ours; and if there is as efficient and cooperative group of superintendents, teachers, principals, school committeemen and medical staff as we have the good fortune to possess in our town.

Postponement of the opening of our schools did not result in any less disease in children of school age or in the population at large than could otherwise have been expected. On the other hand, after schools were opened there was no evidence whatsoever of spread in the schools. The postponement did achieve the two stated objectives of:

(1) Somewhat aleviating the emotional concern of parents who were more afraid to have their children in the school enviroment than to have them at home.

(2) Absolved the town officials from blame for any cases occuring in children who would have been attending the public schools during the two-week interval of their postponed opening.

Sex Ratio of Cases

Twenty-one, or 66%, of the 32 cases occured in males. Two-thirds of the cases occuring in males reflects a sex ratio which is usually observed in polio epidemics. The relative physical activity and exertion expended by the male of the human species during the early onset of polio infection seems to account for the bigger incidence of severe and disagnosable polio. Probably an equal proportion of females become infected with polio virus—but they do not tend to develop paralytic disease with the frequency of the males. Pregnancy is a stress which does seem to result in a high incidence of paralytic disease if infection in the absence of immunity occurs at that time.

Multiple Cases in Families in Randolph

Two cases occured in each of two Randolph families. In one of these families two brothers came down with paralysis within a few hours of each other. This clearly represents what is referred to as "common source" infection. They doubtless came in contact with the virus at the same time and place one or two weeks before onset of their disease. In the other family one son developed paralysis and 12 days later his brother developed fever and sore throat and other symptoms which enabled the doctor to diagnose non-paralytic polio. The second son thus acquired his infection from the first. The source of infection in most cases of polio cannot be traced as easily as this, however, since it is frequently contracted by contact, direct or indirect, with carriers or "missed cases" instead of from a recognized and diagnosed case.

Gamma Globulin

Early in the course of the epidemic gamma Globulin was made available by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, to whom we are grateful, and this was used by the physicians of the town especially for protection of pregnant women and for family contacts of cases.

Analysis of the results of the use of this substance is very difficult for many technical reasons, and has not been completed. However, our preliminary data shows no instance of polio occurence in a pregnant women of the town who received gamma globulin early in the epidemic.

The protection capacity of gamma globulin is controversial and the conditions for its use are not defined. Theoretically, if it could have been given to the entire population of Randolph during about the first week of July (before the first wave of the epidemic) and repeated in mid-August our epidemic could have been postponed or prevented. It has not been proven to be of value after exposure. The theoretical indications for use of gamma globulin are difficult to meet. Therefor many authorities consider it to be of little or no practical value. However, we consider that the effort expanded to make this material generally available to the citizens of Randolph for contacts of cases and on a clinic basis for pregnant women was worthwhile. No cases are known to have occured in the latter group; and the use in contacts in the hope of preventing the disease was of great psychological value, even if not proven to be of definite preventive value under the conditions of its use.

Salk Vaccine

One dose of Salk vaccine was given during the last few days of May to the children of the first and second grades whose parents requested it. Six hundred four children were inoculated. Second and booster doses of the vaccine have not been given to date because of non-availability of the vaccine for public programs in Massachusetts. Analysis of our cases reveals no evidence that the Randolph cases were in any way related to the administration of the vaccine. It is noteworthy that among the highly susceptible age group inoculated last May only two non-paralytic cases of polio occured. Of the 1075 children in town in the six seven and eight year age groups 563 were vaccinated with Salk vaccine and only two non-paralytic cases occured in this group. There were 512 who were not vaccinated and four cases occurred one of which was a respirator paralytic case and another of which died.

In an epidemic of the severity of the one which we have just experienced we could have expected a few more cases wihin this group of the first and second graders. It would appear that even one dose of the vaccine probably prevented several paralytic cases, but it is impossible on the basis of the small numbers in Randolph experience above to assess the value of the vaccine.

Sewage and Poliomyelitis

Research workers have demonstrated that cases and "carriers" of polio virus may continue to secrete the virus in their intestinal discharges for various intervals up to three months. Furthermore, the virus has been repeatedly recovered from sewage.

Thus sewage or human fecal contamination of the environment may be an important factor in the spread of polio. Just how important is not known since the virus can also be recovered from the throat of patients, but only for a day or two. If environmental contamination with sewage because of inadequate or overflowing local disposal units is a factor in spread, then this would tend to account for the excess severity and rates and deaths encountered in unsewered Randolph as contrasted with the lower rates encountered in numerous other better sanitated communities.

Certainly the disease occurs, and sometimes with high rates in well sewered communities. On the other hand, in areas of extremely poor sanitation such as in India and China the disease attacks practically all infants before they are one year of age with little or no resulting paralysis because the disease is notably less severe in this age group. Thus the disease is seldom diagnosed in these very poorly anitated communities. But Randolph remains partially protected with spotted areas of poor sanitation cropping up at irregular times depending upon rains or other situations favorable for overflow of local disposal units. In this regard this year was a bad one. It is entirely probable that a casual relationship exists between these inadequacies and our excessively high rates this year for polio.

Your Board of Health again takes this opportunity to urge that every possible step be taken to expedite the installation of a system of Sanitary Sewers in this rapidly growing town.

Present Status of Paralytic Cases as of Dec. 31, 1955

Of the 22 paralytic cases, 18 lived. Of these, nine have had a virtually complete recovery with little or no residual paralysis. Children under the age of four years have had the highest excellent recovery rate. In this respect our experience is quite typical for the disease is notoriously more severe when it occurs in older age groups (see figure 4).

The nine patients who have residual paralysis are receiving physiotheraphy and appropriate after-care at various clinics and hospitals. Some of these will require later hospitalization, costly prolonged treatment, orthopedic operations and appliances.

An appeal is made here by the members of your official health agency (your Board of Health) to generously continue your support of the voluntary health agency which is dedicated to assisting these polio patients. The latter agency is the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING PROGRAM

Miss Beatrice Scannell and Mrs. Janet Dimmick the public health nurses provided skilled nursing care in the home of patients who were under the care of a physician.

They instructed and gave demonstrations of care to be carried out during their absence to some capable member of the family. They also demonstrated certain treatments ordered by physician and instructed as to the safeguarding of the health of the entire family.

The public health nurses help, guide and instruct mothers before and after birth of the baby and help her plan for the care of the rest of the family during this time. Care of the newborn is taught through demonstrations and instructions. Statistics as follows: Antepartum, 57; Post-partum, 348; Prematures, 111; Newborn, 232; Over 1 month-under 1 year, 265; Pre-school, 128; and School, 26.

One pre-school clinic held each month—number seen up to school age 228. Assisted at Toxid clinic in the schools. Salk vaccine clinics, Blood Bank, and school coverage following polio epidemic.

When new and early cases of diseases were found, they assisted. They planned for clinics to help maintain better health in the Town. The nurses follow up on all reported cases and assist in planning for continuance of care for complete recovery. Classes were attended and meetings were held with other Public Health nurses and physicians in order to be able to give the best care and advice possible to our people. Records of all data pertaining to health are kept and studies made of each case in order to be able to understand the problems each one faces. There is a continuous effort on the part of the nurses to maintain and keep good health in the Town.

COMMUNICABLE DISEASE REPORT

Communicable diseases for the year of 1955 were as follows: Poliomylities, 32; Chicken Pox, 25; Dog-bite, 87; Spinal Meningitis, 1; Measles, 72; Mumps, 15; Tuberculosis, 6; Cat-bite, 1; Infectious-Hepatitis, 1; and Salmonelsisis, 1.

All incidents of communicable disease were investigated from an epidemioligical viewpoint by the Visiting Nurses and the Board of Health Agent.

ENVIRONMENTAL SANITATION REPORT

Many of the nuisance complaints investigated by the Board of Health have been related to overflowing cesspools. With one exception all were abated without recourse to court action.

The possibility of sewage contamination in the reservoir still exists and will be eliminated only when the catchment area of our water supply is completely sewered by a sanitary sewerage system.

During the flood rains of August 17-18 and for a few weeks thereafter special and frequent chlorine residual tests were taken of the town water supply to insure adequate chlorination. Requests were made of the Water Department in a few occassions to increase the chlorine input for safety and health reasons. Cooperation between the Board of Health and the Water Department has been excellent.

Many inspections of the piggeries were made and three licenses were revoked as a result of repeated noncompliance with Board of Health regulations regarding Pigs and Piggeries.

Three hundred twenty-six permits for local sewage disposal systems were issued after building sites were approved by the Board of Health.

FOOD SANITATION PROGRAM

A sanitation program for food handling establishments has been initiated. Regulations have been printed and distributed to each establishment. Restaurants, fountains and bar-rooms are inspected at least monthly and bacteriological tests of utensils are taken periodically.

The improvement in the sanitation of all food handling establishments has been most gratifying.

REVENUE PRODUCED BY THE BOARD OF HEALTH

The sum of $2939.36 was received including $652.00 for permits for local sewage disposal units; regular licenses, $68.00; hospitalization subsidies, $475.86; plumbing licenses, $1,695.00; and for milk and dairy products licenses, $66.50.

Expenditures for personnel and services are shown elsewhere in this Town report.

ANIMAL INSPECTION

Cornelius J. Crowley, Animal Inspector reports as of December 31, 1955 there were in the Town of Randolph, 80 cows, 50 horses and 406 swine. The swine population is markedly lower than the number reported as of December 31, of the previous year and reflects the fact that the Board of Health has revoked the licenses of three piggeries.

Mr. Crowley reports that during the calender year of 1955, he quarantined 87 dogs as a result of reported bites. This of course is in conjunction with a rabbies control program. This number of dog bites occuring annually indicates a need for a rabies vaccination program in dogs. In view of the fact that no rabies in dogs has been reported for several years and because of other programs of higher priority, dog vaccination is not included in the budget expense for the year. Attention must be given to this in the near future, however, because animal rabies is present in the States surrounding the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

The Board of Health will watch for reports of rabies in animals in Massachusetts and if necessary emergency arrangements will be made for dog vaccination during this year. In any event, it is believed during 1957 a dog vaccination program should be initiated, since human rabies is 100% fatal.

PLUMBING INSPECTOR

Mr. Thomas O'Riley, plumbing inspector issued 267 permits for plumbing installations in Randolph; and the sum of $1,695 was collected and turned into the Town Treasurer.

The following fixtures were installed. Three hundred forty-five water closets, 288 sinks, 320 washbowls, 263 bathtubs, 16 wash trays, 5 slop sinks, 10 urinals, 22 washing machines, two drinking fountains, 24 gas heaters, 93 pressure boilers and 141 tankless heaters.

Report of Dental Clinic

William F. Maguire, D.M.D., has concluded another year in the dental clinic with the very able assistance and cooperation of the school nurses.

This past year, the dental clinic was conducted with emphasis being stressed on the children from the first to the sixth grades. Again, we endeavored to impress upon them the importance of the preservation of the six year molar which is known as the keystone to the dental arch.

With the ever growing population of our community there was a marked increase in the number of children needing dental care. The present appropriation is insufficient to carry on this work in a satisfactory manner.

Report of The Water Commissioners

To the Citizens of the Town of Randolph:

The seventieth annual report of the Board of Water Commissioners is herewith submitted, covering activities of the Department for the year ending December 31, 1955.

We ask that you analyze the entire report which gives complete data relative to collections, maintenance, metering, pumping, purification, new construction etc:

Organization of the Board was as follows:

Frederick D. Driscoll ..... Chairman
Martin E. Young ..... Clerk
William J. Almond ..... Associate

DEPARTMENT MAINTENANCE

During the calendar year 1955, the Department received applications for three hundred and eight new services. These have been installed and added to the water system.

Sixty-seven service leaks were repaired; of these; forty-one were renewed from main to stop; two services were abandoned; four services were relocated. Twenty three services were rodded out and cleaned and twenty eight frozen services were thawed out by electricity. Twenty-four service boxes, found broken and filled, were replaced.

METER DEPARTMENT

In the meter department one hundred and forty-nine meters were removed from service during the year. Seventy-four were not registering, twenty-one were frozen and burst, seven were removed for tests, eight were removed to be junked, and thirty-nine were removed for various other reasons. One hundred and seventeen were reset and twenty-five new ones were set as replacement. Two hundred and seventy-three additional new meter settings were made.

In conjunction with the widening and resurfacing of South St., forty-five services were renewed and the curb stops relocated to the new curb lines. The department also replaced, gated and relocated all of the old hydrants, found to be faulty, on this job.

During the year the department had eight broken hydrants, all done by automobiles. The town has been reimbursed, through insurance, for some of these. Three other hydrants were relocated. Also, one new six inch fire service was added to the system. About one hundred and fifty feet of two inch main was lowered on Upham St., to prevent freezing, and one hundred feet of one inch line was also lowered on Rockfeller St., for the same purpose.

In connection with the drainage job on Allen St., seven services were renewed and lowered. And all service boxes on Old St., were raised to the new sidewalk grading.

The Board is asking for an additional $700.00 to finish the installations.

Report of Tree and Moth Department

To the Honorable Town Manager and Board of Selectmen and Citizens of Randolph.

I herewith submit my report as Tree Warden and Moth Superintendent for the year of 1955.

Within the past year 1955 we trust you have found that we performed our duties conscientiously and to the best of our ability. The regular program of repairing storm damage, trimming and removal of dead and dangerous trees was carried on during the year. The Dutch Elm disease is increasing each year. There is no doubt but what this disease is here to stay. We are making every effort to keep it a minimum.

The never ceasing work of eliminating bushes which because of view obstruction has been carried on this year. The need of cabling and bracing, pruning and surgery on many storm damaged trees. Fifty-two dead trees were removed during the year and a great many pruned. These trees should be replaced where possible with new ones.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts through its insect pest control department has notified this department, that liability for gypsy moth work for the coming year is $3330.00

At this time I wish to thank the Town Manager and the Board of Selectmen and Citizens for their splendid cooperation during the past year.

Respectfully submitted

JOSEPH J. HART
Tree Warden and Moth Superintendent.

Ralph H. Hutchinson — Theodore S. Luddington
John E. Lynch

To the Citizens of Randolph:

Pursuant to the provisions of Article 3 of the By-Laws of the Turner Free Library, this Report for the calendar year 1955 and being the eightieth report, is submitted showing the condition of the Trust consisting of the building, library and funds, together with the Report of the Librarian and of the Treasurer, and so much of reports submitted to the Trustees by the various committees as seem to be of general interest.

The Library Committee reports that the books, charts and furnishings are in good condition, and that all books owned by the Library are accounted for by the Librarian.

The appropriation in the amount of $3,000 voted by the Town for 1955 was all expended excepting .78c, for general repairs and expenses. The new double doors to the entrance have been installed, linoleum laid in the reference room to conform to that previously laid in the reading room; also drapes in the reference room matching those in the reading room. Lettering on the glass portion of the new door stating Library hours is being placed thereon. Replacing frames holding large glass in the north portion of the dentist office is in process.

The Trustees again request $3,000 for general repairs and expenses. The Trustees have given serious consideration over the past few years to enlarging the activities of the Library for the benefit of the citizens and school children. A number of conferences were held with State Library authorities as to the best method to be adopted to accomplish the desired results. Upon the suggestion of these authorities the Trustees engaged Mr. Joseph L. Wheeler to give a study of our library problems. This study was made in May and the report dated June 30, 1955 covered all angles, not only of the building itself but as well of a re-vamping of the various placing of the different classifications for ready finding of a particular volume. Many of the recommendations contained in the report, while having great merit, were felt to beyond our adoption owing to the great expense to be entailed. Among the items which the Trustees feel should be adopted is that of increasing the personnel by the addition of a capable librarian experienced and possessing adminstrative ability.

The increase in the number of librarians would permit longer open hours in order that persons wishing to obtain books or reference data might do so within a period of 2 to 9 or 1:30 to 8:30, rather than the present hours. In view of the foregoing the Trustees request an additional amount of $4,000. A copy of the Wheeler Report was delivered to the Town Manager. It is felt that the facilities of the Library shoud be used by a far greater number of the Town's people as well as the schools for the benefit of all.

A copy of each of the following reports is hereunto subjoined: Report of the Librarian and of the Treasurer showing receipts and expenditures as well as the investments of the several funds.

FREDERICK E. KNEBEL

Report of The Civil Defense Agency

9 January, 1956

Board of Selectmen
Randolph, Massachusetts

1. One of the purposes of this report is to describe as concisely as possible the functions, responsibilities and organization of your Civil Defense Agency, which is the key unit of the entire civil defense structure, and directs all emergency action within the town.

2. The objective of the civil defense organization is to provide a means for utilizing the entire resources of the community to deal with the effects of enemy attack, or with major natural disasters which may be too great for regular public protective forces to deal with unassisted.

3. Your local civil defense director is appointed by the Board of Selectmen as provided by Section 13 of Chapter 639, Acts of 1950, to act as 'disaster coordinator' for the various civil defense services (Fire, Police, Medical, Radiac, etc.) which utilizes all available resources of the town. The technical direction of each service rests with the head of that service. The over-all approach to disaster situations, and the coordination of each service with the others, is the responsibility of the civil defense director. He is responsible for organizing, equipping and training the civil defense organization. In time of disaster, he will direct the overall disaster operations within the town.

4. It is essential that the director have some staff assistants to help him carry out his responsibilities, especially in time of emergency. A short definition of staff assistant is a person who will do what the director would do, if he had sufficient time, and who acts for the director.

5. The civil defense services now authorized in Massachusetts include the following: Communications, Education, Engineering, Facilities, Fire, Police, Medical, Radiac, Supply, Transportation, Utilities, Water, Welfare and Wardens. Additional staff services include women's activities and religious activities.

6. Executive Order 28, signed on June 23, 1955 by his Excellency Governor Christian A. Herter, transferred adminstrative responsibility for the Ground Observer Corps in Massachusetts from the Adjutant General of the Commonwealth to the State Director of Civil Defense.

7. As in the past, operational control of the Ground Observer Corps rests with the Department of the Air Force, which provides the Coordinator and Field Traning Sergeants for GOC activities in Massachusetts.

8. Local expenditures for the Ground Observer Corps, which have previously been a separate item in the budget, should henceforth be included as an added item in the civil defense budget.

9. GOC posts are included in the severe-weather warning system of the Weather Bureau in Massachusetts, to assist in reporting any violent weather conditions. This is a continuing aspect of GOC activities.

10. During the past year progress has been made to increase the efficiency of the civil defense organization and the Ground Observation Corps. However, much remains to be done before we are ready to meet a real emergency.

11. Following are some of the activities that have been and are being developed:

(a) First Aid medical supplies, stretchers and blankets, sufficient to establish one first aid station, are stored in readiness for emergency use under the direction of Doctor William C. Sloane, Medical Director for our Civil Defense.

(b) A communication system including a Receiver, Transmitter and Generator is set up and in use for training purposes, and ready for emergency use under the direction of the Communications Officer, George H. Foley.

(c) Establishment of a First Aid Class under the supervision of Miss Jeane Norris, for Police, Fire and Civil Defense personnel.

(d) A Warden Service to provide a warden for each ten families in Randolph, who will be ready to furnish necessary instruction for individual self protection in emergency, and acquaint families with latest approved instruction for cooperative action is being inaugurated under the direction of the Chief Warden, Allan Reed.

(e) The Alarm system still lacks sufficient coverage for the town, but plans are now in progress to complete this phase of civil defense preparedness.

(f) The Observation Post of the Ground Observation Corps is on a twenty-four hour basis and continues to operate with a personnel shortage. (It may be of interest that the Supervisor and the Chief Observer have been on active alert since the inception of the GOC in 1950 and have credit for approximately 31,000 hours service, each).

12. Under present world conditions civil defense has become an integral part of our national life. It is for us who love freedom to make civil defense so effective that no emergency will find us unprepared.

Report of The Highway Department

The Director of Highways and members of the Highway Department wish to extend it's sincere appreciation to the townspeople and officials for their cooperation and sincere interest. All seem to be aware of the steady growth and increase in our road network as well as the responsibility involved in its care and upkeep. Although our department is quite small for a town of this size, a great deal has been accomplished.

MAINTENANCE

During the year 1955 many types of work were completed under the heading of maintenance: Sweeping streets, cleaning catch basins and manholes, painting fences and sign posts, repairing sidewalks, patching and graveling, tar and calcium chloride treatment on accepted roads, cleaning drainage lines and clearing brooks.

CHAPTER 90 MAINTENANCE

Work completed on Highways under Chapter 90 consisted of the following: Sweeping gutters, repairing brooks and basins. A section of Union Street was resurfaced with bituminous concrete.

CHAPTER 90 CONSTRUCTION

The first section of South Street was completed by contract under state and town supervision.

DRAINAGE SYSTEMS

Allen and Belcher Streets drainage systems have been completed by the Highway Department. Contracts have been awarded and work has commenced on drainage systems on Webster Street and Pond Lane although this work will not be completed until the spring. Other drainage projects were not attempted because of our limited crew and bad weather.

SIDEWALK CONSTRUCTION

The construction of a sidewalk on Old Street was completed last fall under contract. Construction of a section on Lafayette Street will be completed in the Spring, and also a section on Warren Street between North Main Street and Highland Avenue.

CLEANING TOWN BROOKS

The cleaning of town brooks has continued to prove of great value to the citizens of Randolph. Hurricane Dianne dropped over 12 inches of rain causing considerable damage to many communities. Fortunately, our losses were lessened and much damage was avoided because many of the town brooks had been lowered prior to the storm.

ENGINEERING APPROPRIATION

This appropriation of funds for engineering services to the Department affords better planning and enables us to properly check projects and construction within the town.

CHAPTER 386

This appropriation has enabled us to better condition many of our unaccepted streets.

SNOW AND ICE

The year 1955 was not as severe as we have been experiencing in the past resulting in less plowing, sanding and carting away of snow.

RECOMMENDATIONS

The Director of Highways recommends the following: The Ten Year Highway Construction Program, continuance of Chapter 386, (Private Road Assistance), sidewalk construction, Brook Cleaning Program and continuance of Drainage Construction Projects.

May I at this time, again, acknowledge my sincere appreciation for the cooperation this Department has received througout the year from the Town Manager, the Board of Selectmen, Officers and citizens of the town and to my fellow employees.

Respectfully subimtted,

JOHN A. FREDERICKSON,
Director of Highways

ANNUAL REPORT

of the

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

of the

TOWN OF RANDOLPH

For the Year Ending December 31, 1955

1955

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE

To the Citizens of the Town of Randolph

Please accept herewith the annual report of your School Committee.

Your School Committee consists of five men. Our meetings are held every other Thursday in the School Office and your interest and suggestions are always welcome. At these meetings we act on recommendations of the superintendent of schools and plan the year's budget.

Our superintendent, Mr. E. Perley Eaton, resigned in June of last year and several special meetings were held during the summer to select his replacement. After interviewing a large number of candidates Mr. Thomas Warren was selected. Mr. Warren comes to us from Dighton where he was superintendent of a regional system and began his duties in September. The office of Assistant Superintendent was created this year and Mr. William Lynch, formerly principal of the Stetson School was elected to fill this position.

The Committee knows that the townspeople realize only too well that the continued rapid growth of the town is reflected in the crowded conditions of our schools. We estimate that there will be a shortage of at least eight classrooms this coming fall. Inquiries are underway to several of the churches and other organizations in the town regarding their willingness to allow us to use some of their space for classrooms. If these groups do not cooperate the only alternative will be a platoon system in some grades.

The High School which was built only five years ago is already filled beyond capacity and with the many new housing developments planned in various sections of the town the situation will become rapidly worse as time goes on. To meet this situation the school committee recommends your support of the articles in the Town Warrent that deal with the taking of land adjoining the McNeil and Tower Hill Schools. In addition we recommend that the Planning Board take the need of more school buildings into consideration when allowing contractors to build new housing developments in this town.

Your School Building and Planning Committee will report on the progress of the new school planned for the Vesey Road section of the town.

We were disappointed to find that all bids submitted for work to be done on the athletic field were far in excess of the amount appropriated at the last Town Meeting. It is hoped that additional funds will be added at this Town Meeting, which together with the unspent balance will enable us to complete the first section of the proposed new field.

The School Committee wishes to thank all Principals, Supervisors, teachers and other staff members for their cooperation and hard work during the past year. We hope that parents will take every opportunity to visit the schools and talk with the teachers. We are all working for your child and would like to do the best job we can. To that end we will appreciate any help or criticism you may be able to give us.

Respectfully submitted,

CLARK W. FREEMAN, Chairman
MURRAY LEWIS, Clerk

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Thomas L. Warren, Superintendent

I herewith submit my first annual report as Superintendent of the Randolph Public Schools.

A careful reading of the reports of the various staff members will serve to inform the townspeople of what is being done for the pupils of the Randolph Public Schools. It might be well to state at this point that regardless of what is done for the pupils it is necessary that they also do for themselves if they wish to be successful in reaching their educational goals. The greater the cooperation of teachers, parents, and pupils, the greater will be the success of our educational system.

The provision of proper facilities for our constantly expanding school population continues to be our most pressing problem and cause of concern. If you will examine our total enrollments printed elsewhere in this report you will see that we now have more pupils in grades 1-6 than we had in all grades in 1949. In most grades of the Devine, Stetson, and Tower Hill schools there is no longer room for even one more pupil and for some weeks now it has been necessary to assign any new pupils to the Belcher school which will also soon reach its capacity enrollment. The completion in September 1957 of the new elementary school will be a great aid, but it will not be the final solution to our problem. If we are to avoid at least a partial use of the two platoon system this coming September, it will be necessary to find other facilities, such as church hall, or similar room in order that we may establish approximately eight more elementary classrooms. The warrant for the annual Town Meeting will contain a number of articles calling for the acquisition by the town of parcels of land for school purposes. Positive action on these articles is absolutely essential.

The Randolph Vocational High School consisting of an auto shop and a classroom for the teaching of academic and related work opened in September in the high scool building. In this unit a maximum of thirty-two boys are given the opportunity to not only gain the necessary academic credits for a high school diploma, but thev are also prepared to accept positions in industry as trained mechanics. Fifty per cent of the annual cost of this program is reimbursed by the State and Federal government. Only boys whose attendance and performance records warrant their being recommended for employment after graduation will be allowed to participate in this program.

The Pauline School was completely repainted, repaired, and a new oil burner installed, in order that special classes, required by a new law passed two years ago, might be inaugurated. The State also reimburses 50% of the operating cost of these classes.

The Amvets are to be congratulated for their interest in the pupils of the special classes which was manifested by their donation of audio-visual aids to the Pauline School. The Auxiliary of the Amvets has also performed an excellent service by carrying on the sale of Savings Stamps in the schools.

We are grateful to the M. B. Claff & Sons, Inc., for the donation of funds for the purchase of library books for the Devine and Stetson Schools, to Mrs. Milton Lind for a donation of $25.00 for visual-aids in memory of her son Ronald, and to the P.T.A. groups of the various schools for their continued donations and enthusiastic support.

I wish to thank the members of the School Committee, the Assistant Superintendent, the teaching personnel, the clerks, the custodians, the cafeteria workers, the parents and the pupils for their cooperation and I urge all to put forth their best efforts always in order that each and every pupil in the Randolph Schools may achieve to the utmost of his capabilities. I would be remiss were I not to also thank the members of the various town departments for their cooperation and friendly assistance.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS L. WARREN
Superintendent of Schools

REPORT OF THE HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

HUBERT F. GILGAN, PRINCIPAL

In our last report, we said it would be a matter of two years when we would be faced with the prospect of double sessions at the high school. We will be forced to the limits of the four walls of the school to find suitable classrooms for all anticipated classes next September. We know, from our experience with double sessions five years ago, that with the two platoon system, it is the children who lose, and we will do our utmost to prevent it. Even now, we are using rooms for classrooms which were not intended as such. In the Oral English room, we have eighty pupils in the homeroom, and we use this room daily as a classroom. We have eighty homeroom pupils in the library, one half of which is also used all day, daily, as a classroom, and the other half is used part time as a classroom. The student activity room is now a classroom, and the auditorium is used one period daily as a study hall.

In other words, we are now overcrowded, and the time is not far away when relief must be furnished if our students are to be given an adequate time schedule of instruction.

The past year has seen many changes in personnel Our top administration has changed. Our superintendent, Mr. Eaton, left us to accept a more lucrative position in New Jersey; we wish him good luck in his new position. Our new superintendent Mr. Thomas L. Warren. comes to us from Dighton, and, to help him carry out the duties of an ever-expanding school system, Mr. William J. Lynch was promoted from principal of Stetson School to assistant-superintendent. To both men, the faculty of the high school bids a sincere welcome. We know that they will be good for the system and the children. All of us will be glad to help them in any way we can.

We lost many good teachers during the year, most of whom preferred to stay in Randolph, but accepted better paying offers elsewhere. These were Mr. Fox, Mr. Schmatzler, Mr. Sullivan, Miss Hassett, Mr. Hughes. Miss McCarthy, Mr. Quagge, Mr. Kearns and Mr. Thomas. It is encouraging to know that the School Committee has seen fit to adjust the salary schedule in an attempt to keep good teachers in Randolph. It is our opinion that the children of Randolph are just as deserving of experienced teachers and the best of instruction as children of other communities.

We have found the reading problem among the pupils of grades seven to twelve to be serious enough to warrant action, and so a remedial reading program has been started, involving pupils in grades ten, eleven and twelve who have a reading percentile of forty and under and evidence of sufficient native ability. It is too early to report on results, but it should be said here that evidence is present to indicate that this program will be highly successful in bringing up the reading level of many a student, and thereby help them to be more successful in their school work. Although pupils were assigned to these reading classes, we have had many voluntary requests from other puils to be assigned to one of these groups.

The faculty of the school has begun a program of self-evaluation, which will take the greater part of the year to complete. It is a requirement for continued membership in the New England Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges, with which Randolph High School is affiliated, and must be done every ten years in order to have our association with this group remain in good standing. Among the topics embraced by this evaluation program are Pupil Population and School Community, Program Studies, Library Service, Guidance Service, School Plant, School Staff and Administration, Pupil Activity Program, as well as all the regular academic subjects offered by the school. When this self-evaluation survey has been completed, the Association will send in a team of educators to spend a week with us to look us over. We expect much good will come to us from this survey.

REPORT OF THE GUIDANCE DIRECTOR

JOSEPH W. DALY, DIRECTOR

The guidance program during the past years continued to try to provide the maximum of guidance services in Educational, Vocational, and personal guidance. We think and hope much was accomplished along these lines although the need for additional help is now becoming clear. This is true at high school, junior high, and elementary school level. At the high school, the great increase in the size of the Senior classes means twice as much work in both placement and college entrance work. In this respect, we are pleased to note that nearly twice as many students are going to college. This in so much as it is state wide, is making the problem of college administration a serious one. It will not improve but get worse as the years pass. It is estimated that there will be twice as many pupils of college age as at present, in 1970. Therefore, the need for maintaining an "A" and "B" average is of vital importance for all students today.

During the year, Metropolitan Achievement and Intelligence tests were also given. Binet Tests were given to many students. These tests are required by state law for admission to the class where special help is needed. It is to be noted that behind this is the thought of what is best for the youngster.

Personal Interviews are held with all our youngsters, and cumulative records are kept. These are of great importance with our rapidly growing school population.

I wish to express my thanks to Mr. Warren, Mr. Lynch, Mr. Gilgan, the School Committee, and all the elementary school Principals for their excellent cooperation. The teamwork and help is most appreciated by the director. I also wish to express my thanks for the excellent work of the counselors, Miss Winifred Brennan, Miss Anna Good and Mr. Lloyd Clark.

REPORT OF THE ART SUPERVISORS FOR 1955

ETHEL B. ATWOOD

ELEMENTARY ART-SUPERVISOR

The reader of a report is primarily interested in the factual side of the subject. Concerning the Art Department in the Randolph School system interest doubtless lies in the number of classes visited, the trend in presentation, type of media used, and any new approach to the work.

Therefore, I submit the following. The Art Supervisor has visited each of the elementary grades every second week. This includes the five which were added to the schedule in September and which makes a total of 54 classes.

As to the presentation, I have endeavored to create a course of instruction in which the practical angle of basic art and the freedom of expression advocated by the modern or contemporary school are each emphasized.

Crayons, scissors, water-colors are the media most frequently used. Experience in tempera, brushwork and simple crafts would be enjoyed more often if classes were not so large or time so limited.

During American Education Week the art angle was stressed by Special room decoration in all schools and original art displays created and arranged by the pupils were set up in the windows of three of our Main Street stores. These little exhibits seemed of interests to hosts of passers-by.

I believe that the results of art training cannot always be seen at the time. Basic knowledge often becomes more and more useful as time goes on. Art "know-how" is a key to a better way of doing many things.

In conclusion: I have made the required number of routine visits and given personal instruction. The response of the teachers has been satisfying. Special projects have been worked out whenever feasible and serious thought given to the classes at the Pauline School.

The rapid growth of population in Randolph, with consequent expansion of school needs, has created a real civic problem.

It is hoped that in time the Supervisors shall have a headquarters where supplies, reference material, examples of current work or inspiration from the past may be available. Meanwhile, the present challenges one to keep abreast the times through acquaintance with best being done in his subject; aware and appreciative of the cooperation of fellow-teachers and content in the knowledge that Randolph is a very pleasant place to work.

REPORT OF REMEDIAL READING

MARY C. GAUGHEN, SUPERVISOR

It is with pleasure and a feeling of accomplishment that I submit this report on Remedial Reading in the Public Schools in Randolph.

I was very pleased with the reading results shown by the Metropolitan Achievement test. This test was given from the second through sixth grades. The results showed Randolph to be several months above the average norm.

Unfortunately, this test does not prove we are without problems in reading. We have many problems, and the number has been increasing. Our increased enrollment has given us an increase in the number needing remedial help. With our present enrollment it is possible to give remedial help to the second and third grades. This means the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades do not have remedial help in reading. Those grades must depend solely upon the group work within the class.

Growth in reading is an individual and continuous matter. It cannot be hurried. Some learn quickly, while others move at a much slower rate. To take care of all the needs in any class would mean many reading groups.

While many groups in reading would be ideal, we must face the problems they present. It takes an excellent teacher to handle more than three groups and get good results.

I feel we could solve many of our reading problems in the grades by enlarging our reading department.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF MUSIC

EDMUND A. ALUISY

Music education is a definite adjunct to the total education of the child.

Through the subject of music an added and very valuable means is provided us to teach and promote personality development, leadership training, vocabulary, arithmetic concepts, and constructive attitudes.

With the exception of a few classes that are visited once every other week, all classes in grades I through VI are visited once a week by our elementary music supervisor. At the close of each lesson an assignment is left so that the classroom teacher can carry on the music work in her absence.

It is with regret that I must report that Miss Abbott, our elementary supervisor, is unable to finish out her first year with us because of her forthcoming marriage. Mrs. Hodgkins, who has taught in Beacon, New York, for two years, will take her place after the Christmas vacation.

Glee clubs were reorganized in both the Stetson and the Devine Schools. They included selected pupils from the fifth and sixth grades in each school respectively. Each of these glee clubs meet once a week. The glee clubs sang carols for their student bodies in their own schools prior to the Christmas vacation.

There are thirty elementary school instrumentalists presently taking lessons and there is the prospect of some twenty-three more after the first of the year.

The seventh and eighth grade general music classes meet once a week. The Junior High School Band composed of pupils in grades six, seven and eight meets twice a week on Mondays and Thursdays.

The Junior High School Band played at the Spring Concert and marched in the Memorial Day parade.

The High School Chorus sang for the Spring Concert, the S.E.M.S.B.A. Concert in Hingham, and the Eastern Massachusetts Festival in Mansfield. The rehearsal schedule for the chorus has been changed this Fall to allow more time. They meet four times a week in a period. There is provision for flexibility so as to allow for sectional rehearsals on two or more of these four sessions per week.

The High School Band played for the Spring Concert, the Eastern Massachusetts Festival at Mansfield, and the Memorial Day parade. They shared a concert with the Post 35 American Legion Glee Club of Brockton in the High School on October 19th. This concert was sponsored by the American Legion Post, 169, Randolph. Mass. The High School Band has also played for the home football games this fall.

The rehearsal schedule of the High School Band has been changed for the better. There are five rehearsals a week within school time. Flexibility is allowed for sectional rehearsals along with complete band sessions.

Randolph instrumentalists and vocalists were represented in the All State Band, Orchestra, and chorus in Boston, Mass., and the New England Solo and Ensemble Festival at Keene, New Hampshire.

Mr. Myron Thomas who has served as Director of Music in Randolph for the past fourteen years completed his work in June, 1955 and is presently Director of Music in Hingham, Mass.

I wish to express my appreciation for the fine cooperation I have received from all the school department personnel.

REPORT OF SCHOOL NURSES

HELEN F. CONLON, R. N.

SIGNE H. HEATH, R. N.

Following is a brief report of the nurses' part in the health program.

The nurses assisted the school physicians, Dr. William S. Sloane and Dr. Justin V. McGuirk with the health appraisals in grades one, four, seven and ten. Pupils from other grades who were referred by the teacher, and those transferred from other schools were also examined. Parents were advised to secure early correction of defects.

Dental inspections were done by the nurses, and parents of children needing dental care were notified. The Board of Health sponsors a dental clinic under the direction of Dr. William S. Maguire. The children who were unable to have their work done by a family dentist were referred to this clinic.

Diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus immunization clinics were held in the Spring for pre-school children and those in grade one who had never been immunized against these diseases. Booster shots were given at this clinic to children who had been previously immunized.

Vision and hearing tests were given to all children in grades one through twelve. It was gratifying to find that 90% of the children with a defect were seen by either an eye or ear specialist.

Individual inspections of pupils referred by teachers, and the usual program of weighing and measuring the children were carried out during the year.

The census of physically handicapped children was made and the children who were unable to attend school had visiting teachers.

In May Poliomyelitis inoculations were given in our schools to children in grades one and two. We wish to thank our local doctors and nurses for their cooperation at this time.

At the opening of School in September the Board of Health issued strict rules for the protection of children during the final months of the polio epidemic. We were assisted by the Visiting nurses, whom we wish to thank for their cooperation. All schools were visited each morning, and each and every child who had any illness at all was carefully examined.

The Norfolk County Chest X-ray Program was held in October. Under this program all seniors were X-rayed and found to be free of tuberculosis. This program is supported in full through the sale of Christmas seals.

The results of all examinations were recorded on health cards.

Reports of examinations, surveys and clinics were sent into the Massachusetts Department of Public Health as required.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION REPORT

JOSEPH J. ZAPUSTAS,

Director of Physical Education

Since general education is concerned with all aspects of life, physical education does not limit itself entirely to muscular responses, but also provides opportunity for intellectual, social and emotional responses. Physical education today is an integral part of the educational program. In keeping with other phases of education, physical education will only result in desirable outcomes when the learning activities are properly organized and conducted. Boys and girls need instruction in how to play. They cannot participate in plays and games with profit merely through being provided with facilities and equipment. For the vast majority of children need skillful instruction and guidance if desirable outcomes are to come about from partcipation in a program of physical education. More emphasis should be placed on teaching children through participation than just teaching the skill.

Far too many people look upon physical education as a special subject. This point of view results from the idea that the purpose of physical education is different from the purpose of general education. But today, all teachers and all phases of education must function in helping the children to develop to the fullest of their capacities and to adjust to the social environment in which they find themselves. Physical education as one phase of education, has a distinct contribution to make toward the personal social growth and development of the child; it represents a phase of the educational program providing unique situations and experiences through which social behavior, rather than anti-social behavior, can be learned and practiced.

If physical education is to be an integral part of the education program and assure educational status, a sound curriculum must be developed and put into operation. Procedures for general curriculum development apply also to physical education; consequently persons responsible for the physical education program must have an understanding of the principles of curriculum development. Procedures will vary according to the level of education for which the curriculum is being developed but there are some basic principles that will apply in all cases.

I want to thank all the personnel in the Physical Education Department for their cooperation and hard work. Also the School Doctors and Nurses. Last but not least, all the teachers in the system for their follow-up of the curriculum.

NO SCHOOL SIGNALS

By courtesy of the Randolph Fire Department, three blows repeated three times will be sounded at:

7:00 a. m.—No school all schools all day
7:30 a. m.—No school all day the first six grades
11:30 a. m.—No school—afternoon session in first six grades

The Junior-Senior High School will be in session every scheduled school day regardless of the weather. If transportation is tied up and the buses cannot operate on the streets, school sessions will be discontinued.

Elementary grades, one through six, may be discontinued if the weather is very bad.

By courtesy of WBET, WJDA and WBZ Broadcasting Stations, no school announcements will be given by radio as near the local hours as is convenient and possible for the station announcer.

"No School" (grades 1 through 6) will be signaled only on cold, stormy winter days when health and safety factors are generally involved. Heavy rain at other times of the year will not be considered a cause for closing school.

In the final analysis, each parent can best decide whether or not to send his child to school on a stormy day. Individual factors of health, distance from school, available transportation, etc., can be considered in making the decision.

Please do not call the Fire Department as they have only one phone which must be kept open to be used for fire calls. Keep tuned to the above-mentioned radio stations, and you will be the first to know about "no school".

Report of The Board of Selectmen

To the Citizens of the Town of Randolph:

Your Board of Selectmen submits herewith the Annual Report of their year 1955.

PERSONNEL

Our report begins with a note of sadness, the loss to the Town of their newly elected Selectman, John M. Sullivan. Although his term of office was a comparative short one, his sudden death was sincerely felt by the remainder of your Board. His ideals left with us a challenge not too easily won, but worthy of the best works we can perform.

As soon as was practicable and possible, Henry J. Rota was appointed to fill the existing vacancy.

After many interviews and after much study, Charles R. Iovino was appointed Town Manager. His selection was from a score of applicants.

Your Board viewed with much regret the resignation of George N. Welch as Town Counsel. He has given much to his community. William J. Carr, our new Town Counsel, has been most efficient, and we sincerely hope he remains with us.

During this past year, we lost the services of Raymond E. Lyons, Town Accountant, and Mrs. Clara M. Nickerson, our secretary for many years. We wish them good health and good fortune in their new positions.

In accordance with the type of government now in effect, Selectman Joseph J. Semensi resigned as a Trustee of the Stetson School Fund.

Your Board was extremely pleased that Dr. F. Randolf Philbrook reconsidered his resignation, as we feel he is doing an outstanding job for the Town while serving on our Board of Health.

We welcome Mrs. Elizabeth Connolly as Secretary to the Town Manager and the Board of Selectmen.

All appointments necessary under the powers of our office have been made, and are listed elsewhere in this booklet for the information and guidance of every one.

BUSINESS

Your Board has concerned itself with all matters placed before them, even to the point of overstepping our duties as outlined in the General Laws, Town By-Laws, and the Selectmen-Town Manager Form of Government Plan.

We have earnestly tried to serve the people in all ways and we feel we have accomplished much. Your Board takes an Active part in All Town affairs. Full cooperation with all other Town agencies, department heads, Town employees, townspeople, business firms, and business, professional, and general groups has been our practice.

We have endeavored to benefit the citizens at every opportunity and carry out their every wish and desire.

Your Board is a harmonious, hardworking group. Needless to say, our opinions vary, but this is for the best, as we get each others views for the question before us. The majority rules, however, which is truly the "American way".

The Board has been represented at all functions to which we were invited. We have met in session at any and all hours beyond our regular schedule. These meetings have taken place in many different places, both in and out of town, to handle emergency and routine matters. Our attendance has been above question.

Some of our duties have been distasteful to accomplish, but we sincerely hope that these decisions have been accepted as right and just. This has always been the measure by which we have governed our decisions.

Some of our accomplishments are listed here:

* Completed all matters voted by the citizens at the Annual and Special Town Meetings, and prepared all new Warrants.
* Improved upon the plan of additional and better street lighting.
* Widened streets and constructed same that are under our jurisdiction. (Work still in progress).
* Improved unaccepted streets as far as legally possible, at least.
* Corrected some drainage problems, if only minor in most instances.
* Sold land to put it back into tax paying property, and otherwise disposed of land by vote of the Townspeople.
* Took land, as voted for school purposes and for easements.
* Faced budget problems with a positive attitude, which in itself is always a matter of debate.
* Handled Corporation papers with the utmost speed so as to avoid delaying plans of others.
* Recommended to the Town Manager plans for furthering the safety and comfort of the townspeople and for securing additional revenue for the Town treasury.
* Sponsored additional land for business and industrial zones.

* Completed our phases relative to the Hurricane reimbursements of last year.

* Studied parking, traffic, and general problems for our citizens and taxpaying business groups and afforded some assistance in most cases.

* Discharged claims and assessments for and against the Town, with a view towards economy and practicability.

* Continued the Insurance program and further protected the Town and its inhabitants.

* Held hearings on varied subjects, always respecting the concern of proponents and opponents.

* Processed applications for various licenses, granting and transferring as many as was practicable and just.

* Executed lawful zoning disciplinary actions when necessary.

* Perambulated the Town lines.

* Attended many hearings, protecting the interests of the Town.

* Discussed the many problems relative to Civil Service, and acted on same.

* Assisted various groups in providing for greater recreational space.

* Upheld all laws under our control, and assisted other departments in enforcing theirs.

* Met with other governmental agencies to foster, discuss, and eventually work out solutions for our joint and varied problems.

* Released our duties as a Welfare Board, and assisted in setting up a new Welfare Board.

* Deeded the land voted to the Post No. 51 AMVETS—American Veterans of World War II.

* Completed the engineering for some streets, planning to continue this necessary work for the future.

* Assisted in correcting land problems for the Town, some of which are still pending.

* Concerned ourselves directly with the road and drainage situations, and are jointly sponsoring a ten year road plan, and overall general drainage survey, which we will try to carry out as soon as the town makes it possible.

* Followed up the Piggery situation as voted by the Town, and tried to assist the Board of Health on this matter.

* Cooperated fully with the public utilities, so that they may better serve our citizenry, while not jeopardizing the rights of the Town.

* Originated some and aided in carrying out some changes in office space and use of Town property to facilitate and economize on Town expenses.

* Assisted all Townspeople in all emergencies and in all ways to better existing conditions, if not solving all their problems.

* Granted permission and permits for many things to assist all, and only when not in the best interests of the community have requests been turned down.

* Acted on all petitions after due deliberation.

* Completed the problems at the old No. 2 Fire Station.

* Kept informed of the other departments and on all general matters.

* Forced the clearing up of many troublesome items by the originators of these general nuisances.

* Worked at (not completed as yet) a plan for having the Fire Insurance rates, both for the Town and the townspeople, lowered.

* Encouraged the use of Belcher Park by various groups, supplying the staff as voted by the Town. Much can be done to bring this park up to the status of a park, but appropriations have been kept to a minimum, so that more necessary work could be accomplished.

* Assisted in the result of having additional police and fire-fighting personnel appointed as voted by the Town, and handled all other safety precautions brought to our attention and that we can legally take care of.

In closing we should like to state that we are well aware of most of the needs of the Town, and we are also aware that most situations can be corrected by one thing —MONEY. To get problems corrected and to do it economically is the only problem we face. We realize the Sewerage Program is in its infancy. The field survey is being done now. We realize the need of a Town dump, or some place where the citizens can dispose of the extra refuse that once in a while accumulates. We realize the cost of modernizing the equipment of the Town, both administrative and non-administrative. These problems and many more shall be met, and eventually beaten. We commend the townspeople for bringing some new equipment into the Town's list of property. They will cause some savings and a smoother flow of normal business procedures.

We commend all Town personnel for carrying on their duties, sometimes even under hardship. We admire all the committees for their unselfish devotion to their duties, picking out in particular the Finance Committee which has met and worked almost nightly for many months now.

We are deeply appreciative and thankful to the late Ellen F. Bennett for her remembrance to the Town; to the C. Corkin and Sons, Incorporated firm for their generous desire to give the Town their building for use as a clinic; to the Randolph Manufacturing Company, Incorporated, and the firm of Frank Diauto for jointly sponsoring a weekly hour long radio program benefitting the Town of Randolph; to the Bay State Raceways, which yearly makes donations to some of our Town's worthy causes; to the M. B. Claff Company, Incorporated for their generous gifts, to the firm of Good Brothers for supplying a car to the Visiting Nurses; and to all the Townspeople who have assisted us in any way. We commend them all, and add to that list, the various departments, groups, and organizations for their programs of betterment for the general public. All we can do is sincerely thank you and pledge our continued support to you, one and all.

This department is the least costly one in the Town we feel, for the services rendered. Our only employee is a secretary which we share with the Town Manager.

We have met all problems squarely and remedied many. Your comments and constructive criticisms are always welcomed. Only in this way can we know of the particular problem facing a minority of our neighbors. We earnestly solicit your assistance and cooperation. Let us say we are honored to have served you and thank you for having given us the privilege of holding this high office.

NOTICE

The attention of parents is called to law relating to the registering of birth. The present requirement is as follows:

Chapter 29, Sec. 6, of the Revised Laws. Parents within forty days after the birth of a child . . . shall cause notice thereof to be given to the clerk of the town or city in which such child is born.

Section 8. A parent . . . who neglects to do so for ten days after the time limited therefor . . . shall forfeit not more than five dollars for each offense.

Attention of PHYSICIANS and MIDWIVES is called to Chapter 280, Section 1, Acts of 1912: Section 1. Physicians and midwives shall, within forty-eight hours after the birth of every child in cases of which they are in charge, mail or deliver to the clerk or registrar of the city or town in which the birth occurred, a notice stating the date and place of the birth, giving the street number, if any, the number of the ward in a city and the family name. Failure to mail or deliver the said notice shall be punished by a fine not exceeding twenty-five dollars for each offense.

In accordance with the provisions of the law, the Town Clerk is prepared to furnish parents, physicians, and midwives applying therefor, blanks for return of births as required by law.

Report of The Town Manager

Board of Selectmen
Randolph, Massachusetts

Gentlemen:

To render an accounting of municipal activities implemented by the Town Manager's Office during the year just passed so that the people can evaluate fairly the town's stewardship for the year and 7 months that town manager government has been in operation is indeed my honor and pleasure.

From the very day of my assuming office, May 23rd, 1955, the pace and increasing demand for services has necessitated that a 7 day work week schedule and a work day schedule of 15 to 16 hours daily be followed so that my office would not be buried by a multitude of diverse needs for services. Since I was sworn in I have taken only two days vacation. I mention these facts so that the public will fully appreciate that without a town manager the municipal government would have been completely snarled and unable to make any genuine progress in providing the required services economically. The very fact that I have had to put in so much time and effort indicates how important it is to have a single responsible head in office with the powers that are conveyed by the excellent charter that was adopted by the deep thinking citizens of Randolph. The people of Randolph today are looked upon with envy by many communities because they are noting the accomplishments that are being made in our community. Almost every week visitors to my office request that I come to their municipality to assist in creating a town manager government like that prevalent in Randolph. Therefore, it is with humility that I say many thanks to our people for placing in my hands such a fine instrument of municipal government as the Selectmen-Town Manager Charter so that their well-being be provided in keeping with our democratic traditions.

Unmistakably, the $50,000 Road Program, the first of a ten year project, was one of the greatest accomplishments insofar as field operations were concerned. From this appropriation the town received approximately 5 miles of roadways. In addition, this same fund was used to finance all patching, construction of sidewalks in some locales because of drainage problems, insertion of driveway aprons where required because of the increased elevation of the road and makeup a deficit of approximately $700.00 for Chapter 90—Maintenance on Union Street. Calculating this in distance, the town received better than 8 miles of road work for an expenditure of $48,000. There remains a balance of $2,000 in this account which can be turned into the Excess & Deficiency Fund, if the people desire to do so. Without any hesitation this program should be continued. I very strongly urge that both Oak Street and Chestnut Street be done with Chapter 90 participation from the County and State and with town money as well. These two streets are a blight on the town.

Closely linked with the Road Program, is the remarkable progress made by the Town Engineer, Mr. Eugene J. Mulligan, in the many projects passed at the Annual Town Meeting in 1956. For the first itme in the history of the town, with the exception of two small projects, all articles providing funds for drainage, roads, and improvements of existing work were finished in the same year as the funds were made available. Of the two projects undone, one was to have been completed by a private contractor. The town spent in the vicinity of $3,500 for the services of a Town Engineer. What did it get in return? The very first job that I assigned the Town Engineer to, namely the Sewerage Addition at the McNeil School, more than paid for his salary. Private contract estimates for this work, of which $5,200 was the lowest figure, was far beyond the $1,000 that the School Department had set aside for this work. The School Department was spending $50.00 every two weeks to have the cesspool pumped out. With the expenditure of less than $1,000 the Town Engineer completed the work and there has been no trouble from the installation. Savings made were over $4,000. Use of all town labor, technicians and equipment compressed the costs considerably. Savings by judicious management, careful planning and increased productivity has left balances in many of the special articles for drainage, construction and improvements besides accomplishing much more work than originally scheduled. Measuring in dollars the accomplishments made by the Town Engineer, many of which are unseen, and the savings that have been realized, a figure of $35,000 is not opportunistic. The creation of this office is easily vindicated especially when consideration is given to an expense account of only $250.00, lack of personnel to assist and lack of technical equipment.

Creation of a Maintenance Division in the Highway Department has borne large savings and economies. Previously, the town was burdened with sizable bills for repairs to Fire Department equipment, Police vehicular facilities, Water Department equipment, School Department units and Highway Department equipment. It was my pleasure to appoint "Pete" Sarofeen last June 18th to become the one and only mechanic in the Maintenance Division. Funds were not available for this division except what could be scratched out of "Highway Expense" and thanks to the kindness of Mr. Sarofeen to provide his own personal tools so that a beginning could be made. Having a mechanic on the payroll has helped materially in increasing productivity, making available equipment as quickly as possible for the next day's work by working late at night and realizing savings and economies that amount to over $12,000. Attaching dollars and cents values to the increase in production would list savings to over $20,000. From the expenditure of $688.00 for welding equipment alone savings of several thousand dollars has been made. Mr. Sarofeen has mounted the welding unit so that it is now portable and can carry out services to all town facilities as it has been doing. The town could have owned a dozen of such welding units if the money spent for private welding services in the past was taken into account.

In association with the Town Engineer and the Maintenance Division is the purchase of the Sand Screening Plant. The bid price of this machine was $8,100. I purchased it for $7,500. The amount of the appropriation was $8,000. The balance of $500.00 was used to install the plant on concrete footings and piers, increase the size of the hopper so that trucks could dump a complete load and proceed for another load of sand and to pay for crane operations so that the plant could be permanently installed. What has the town received for the expenditure of $8,000 of the people's money? In four short months the Sand Screening Plant has produced over $12,000 of sand for combatting icy conditions on our roads and tailings which we have used to improve drainage and for bedding and foundational work. It is well to point out also that without the Sand Screening Plant, I would have been forced to ask the Selectmen to declare the existence of an emergency so that funds for de-icing operations could be provided. About $4,000 would have been required to pay for sand up to December 31st. A large stockpile of sand is in inventory and should suffice for the winter unless an unusually severe period is cast upon us within the next three months. I wish to add that the combined "know-how" of the Town Engineer and Mr. Sarofeen assisted very heavily in making the efficient installation of the plant possible and in maintaining a steady productive flow.

There have been many changes in the Highway Department. Physically, the Highway Yard is in an orderly state, the Highway Garage has been completed with the exception of a heating system and electrical installations for light and power, the brook has been breached with large reinforced concrete culverts to permit greater maneuverability of mobile equipment and accessibility to the new garage. A large mound of earth must be moved to provide more room area. Fill from this mound will be used to fill in a swamp area in the yard. One portion of the existing garage has been winterized by the application of a second grade of asphalt shingles. Productivity of personnel has increased considerably under the capable guidance of Acting Highway Director Mulligan and General Foreman Arthur Franke. Lack of personnel prevents the setting up of an adequate stores system so that accountability for tools, parts and accessory items can be fixed. Supervision over gasoline and oil has been established by a record system. Maintenance records are being set up for orderly preventive maintenance of all motorized equipment. To apply dollars and cents savings here is somewhat difficult, but an extremely conservative figure would be about $20,000.

For field operations, these are the major elements of accomplishments. But much more remains to be done before I will feel completely satisfied. Limitations of funds, personnel and equipment act as a strong barrier to making progress. However, for the means that have been at my disposal, there is no doubt that the headway made is indeed remarkable.

Turning to administrative matters, here too, the amount and degree of progress and the accomplishments that have been made are outstanding, measuring in dollar values and scope of services and activities rendered. The remodeling of the second floor of the Town Hall at a cost of under $14,000 was a major accomplishment. Procurement of badly needed office space at an initial construction cost of $13,500 that might have reached over $100,000, if some other proposals were followed, is of itself phenominal. What has the town received for its appropriation of $15,000 for this work? Office space is being used by the Town Accountant and the Board of Health at this writing. The Town Counsel is commencing to house all his records in an office provided for him. A general conference room is available for the deliberations of the Finance Committee, Planning Board and Advisory Board. A private conference room is being readied on the former stage area for the Finance Committee, Planning and Advisory Boards and for the safe-keeping of their records. A large room has been set aside and is being readied for the Public Works Department with the following divisions being included—Town Engineer, Highway, Water, Sewer, and Forestry. An office area is ready for the administrative functions of the Water Department. Space is available to house the administrative offices of the School Department—the School Department has been informed that if their present quarters are needed for classroom areas, I will be very happy to provide space on the second floor of the Town Hall. Remodelling of the upstairs section of the Town Hall will permit reorganization of administrative functions and activities along lines conducive to better service to the public and economic operations. In the coming year, I have plans set to create a Department of Finance consisting of the following elements—a Director of Finance who will be the Town Accountant, a Division of Accounts, a Budget Division, Division of Assessments, Purchasing Division and a Treasury-Collector Division. All town records will be housed in the Town Hall and no where else. Values received from the remodelling of the Town Hall can be better appreciated when the reorganization is in full operation.

Under present circumstances, administratively speaking, we have made considerable progress in expediting tax bills, water bills, and other paper work. Improvement in the quality of work, work attitudes and productivity is noticeable.

The full time activities of the Assessor, Mr. Frank Teed, has produced many dividends for the town in point of work accomplished and in setting the Assessor's Office in the right direction. There is a noticeable change in the work quality and productivity in this office as well as better arrangement of records and judicious approach to the difficult tasks that require processing. The heavy task of fairly and wisely finding the revenue to pay for the cost of the municipal government is being handled impartially by Mr. Teed and his two associates, Edward Roycroft and George Bonney. This team of public servants deserves the full respect of the community. Their job is a thankless one on many occasions, but, I am certain, that the public recognizes the value of their efforts in an area where the nerve center is very delicate.

In the past year, it has been my pleasure to appoint Mr. Edward F. Fahey as Town Accountant. If I were to pin-point, or crystallize the administrative accomplishments in one person, then I must single out Mr. Fahey to receive the bow for a "big-job-well-done". Mr. Fahey has taken many burdens off my shoulders since his appointment as Town Accountant besides carrying on his many duties as Accountant and Auditor for the town. Mere expressions of thanks and gratitude from me can never repay Mr. Fahey for the many, many hours he has given to the town in carrying out a multitude of activities in addition to his normal work. That his labors are and have been in the best interests of the town is a mild expression. I cannot command strong enough words to reveal my feelings for Mr. Fahey both as a public servant and as a citizen whose whole life is wrapped around Randolph, the community of his birth. The tremendous savings being made in insurance coverage for the town is largely the work of Mr. Fahey. The creation of the Randolph Insurance Agents Association which I fathered and which Mr. Fahey works closely with is a symbol of what can be done by all people working cooperatively. Our insurance agents, local people, working with the town are setting up a program that provides the town, at no cost wise counsel for coverage and fair apportionment of the town's business. To enumerate the qualitative work of our Town Accountant would require several pages of words and data. I must state that the town is better-off today because Edward F. Fahey is in the town government.

In appreciation of the many services rendered my office by the Police and Fire Departments, I wish to express sincere thanks to Chief Patrick T. McDonnell and Chief Carlton Harris. As Acting Town Manager for approximately one year, Chief McDonnell has unselfishly given many hours of his time in full devoted duty to the town. His quick response to serve our community at all times is only one indicator of the sterling qualities of leadership and civic-mindedness of Chief McDonnell. I am proud to serve the Town of Randolph by his side.

I wish to thank the Board of Public Welfare for their patience and many considerations that they have rendered to the increasing burdens of the welfare department. Their efforts in behalf of humanity and their civic-mindedness is to be commended and their play is an example what can be accmoplished by people who are interested in assisting their local government function as an instrument for promoting democracy.

It is to be noted that the new building fees adopted by the town in the last Annual Town Meeting has brought in approximately $4,200 as against about $1,000 in prior years. Mr. Frank Teed, Building Inspector, reports that the fees were paid without any complaints of injustices.

Much credit for assistance in pushing through work of many sorts through my office expeditiously and qualitatively goes to my secretary, Mrs. Barbara Golding. She joined the municipal family in the past year and has been a veritable work-horse from the very first day of employment. Of deep loyalty, conscientious, sincerely interested in good government, I owe Mrs. Golding a deep debt of gratitude for her untiring efforts and her supreme loyalty to the town. Without her services, I would have been hospitalized, or under medical care many times. I am genuinely grateful that the town provided me with a secretary with sterling characteristics that are embodied in Mrs. Golding.

Moving to another area of municipal activity that of School Custodians and Building Maintenance. Prior to the closing of schools, as laid down in the Selectmen—Town Manager Act, the Town Counsel ruled that school custodians and building maintenance came under the jurisdiction of the Town Manager. Because of many pressures on my office I have not been able to push through any plan of reorganization as yet. However, I am in process of doing so. There is a great deal of waste both in expended manpower and materials in this division. I accept the task of placing this division of the School Department in working and economical order. There are a number of personal problems that have to be overcome before any beginning can be made in the direction of organization. Technically equipped personnel must be recruited among the custodians that can service plumbing, electrical, heating and other installations so that costs can be pared downward. Carpentry and minor maintenance items are being fairly handled by Mr. William Hawkins, Sr., despite the many impediments. Work schedules must be set up, programming of activities must be correlated under a Chief Custodian who can move about for proper supervision of all custodial work. A Chief Maintenance man to assist Mr. Hawkins must be found so that all technical skills can be coordinated effectively. I intend to allocate a great deal of time to bring economy and efficiency in this category of municipal endeavor in the coming year.

It is fitting at this juncture to look at the broad municipal picture. The problems facing us are many. The major problems that beset our community evolve around the following: school buildings, water, sewerage, roads, drainage. All these are the creatures of population growth.

Within the next few years the Town of Randolph must provide four large school buildings to properly implement its educational program. At the moment, January 1st, the Vesey Road School is out for bids the second time. The first bid for the 18-room structure came in at $1,184,000; this does not include the cost of the site, or equipping of the classrooms and offices. The estimated figure of $1,300,000 covers the equipment. As of January 1, 1957 our indebtedness lists thusly:

Temporary Loans	$ 229,500.00
Indebtedness Inside Statutory Limit	650,000.00
Indebtedness Outside Statutory Limit	700,000.00
Total Indebtedness	$1,579,500.00
Net Borrowing Capacity estimated	$ 459,161.00

At present, without the proposed Vesey Rd. School our total principal and interest payments amount to $144,735.65. Computing the Vesey School at a figure of $1,300,000, principal and interest payments will amount to $114,000.00. The grand total of interest and principal payments will be $258,735.65. The principal and interest payments would be spread over 20 years in a descending scale. With the Vesey School added into the total indebtedness would be $2,879,500.00. The interest rate for the Vesey School has been computed at 3%—it is likely that the rate will be nearer 4% in the present money market, or even higher. Remember that this is one of four proposed schools. Also, that building costs are headed upwards along with the cost of borrowing money. Clearly, we must retrench somewhat to check financial disaster from over-coming our community. Particularly, when consideration has to be given to the growing problems of water, sewerage, roads and drainage. We must find ways and means to construct our schools much cheaper and yet provide substantial, wholesome classrooms for our children. I have stated on many occasions that what is important basically is the SCHOOL PLAN AND NOT THE SCHOOL BUILDING.

Water resources have become more valuable than uranium. Rapid growth in population is straining our present resources considerably. The principal reason behind the move to increase lot sizes to 20,000 square feet is the inability of present resources and water pumping facilities to keep up with the increasing demand. Our water plant is not in the finest condition. With Randolph, Holbrook and Braintree dependent on existing water supplies and the modern trend to using more and more water for both human and technical consumption, it is apparent that stringent and judicious use of water, particularly in the summer months, will have to be exercised. The Metropolitan District Commission facilities at least for the next 5 years will be unable to provide water to any of the three towns to alleviate the problem. If Braintree could tie-in with the MDC then adequate supplies of water would be available for Holbrook and Randolph for many years. However, I am informed that the M.D.C. cannot provide water to Braintree for at least 5 years. An indication as to the growing needs for water can be garnered by the following statistics:

Year	Gallons Pumped	Daily Average
1940	237,415,800	648,208
1945	316,402,900	869,057
1950	350,804,000	954,130
1955	499,829,000	1,366,917
1956	503,412,700	1,379,213

Passing on to the problem of sewerage, since the M.D.C. under estimated its construction funds by over one million dollars so that the trunk line could be brought to the Braintree line, I have not implemented the construction phase of this long-range program. The plans and specifications, borings and legal studies are ready. Bids have been received on two occasions for the construction of Trunk Sewer No. 1, Contract No. 1. The first bids were opened on August 2nd at 11 a.m. and were as follows:

Baraffaldi Const. Co.	$443,742.50
Civitarese-Piatelli Co.	455,135.00
Zoppo Construction Co.	496,760.00

The second bids for Trunk Sewer No. 1, Contract No. 1 were opened on September 20, 1956 at 11 a.m. and the bids came in thusly:

Pacella Bros. Inc.	$410,237.50
Donoghue & Bartels, Inc.	411,010.00
Selah & Pecci Con. Co., Inc.	436,215.00
J. E. White Const., Co.	565,595.00
R. Zoppo Co., Inc.	582,570.00
Civatarese Piatelli Con. Co.	792,330.00

As soon as the M.D.C. has the necessary funds available and has commenced its phase of constructing the trunk sewer from Quincy to Braintree, I will immediately advertise for bids and proceed to physically implement the sewerage program to the extent of the appropriation provided by the Town Meeting of 1955, namely $1,495,-000.00. I am aware of the need of sewerage domestically and commercially. I have instructed the Town Engineer to study the feasibility of having our own disposal system in the event that the M.D.C. funds are not forth-coming. Should we be forced to construct our own disposal system, a vote of the town would be required since under the present program we must tie-in with the Southern Metropolitan Sewerage District.

The conditions of our roads leave much to be desired. With the $50,000 long-term program, I firmly believe that we have made a very good start. But, we have a very long way to catch-up. I wish to stress the urgency of two streets particularly that must be done this year, 1957, if possible. I refer to Oak and Chestnut Streets. I am in favor of ceasing Chapter 90-Construction on South Street for the present and diverting the major road funds into Oak and Chestnut Streets. It is my strong hope that funds will be made available through Chapter 90 from the State and County and the town. I am not forgetting other streets and roads in the town that require attention. As long as the necessary funds are made available, every facility of the town will be used to stretch the dollars over as wide an area as possible without jeopardizing construction quality.

Drainage is ever present as a major problem throughout the town. At least 85% of complaints are drainage, or related to drainage. I have asked the Town Engineer to work out an integrated drainage system for the entire town so that we can tie in the localized units that are prevalent everywhere. Pressures for services from the Town Engineer have been far beyond the human capabilities of any one person. I could keep three engineers working full time for the next two years just to catch-up with the need for technical services. To properly solve the drainage problem, the town would have to spend thousands of dollars. Every effort is being made to assist and improve conditions. The only limitations are the capabilities of physical strength and money.

Drawing together the elements that make up our major problems, those of school buildings, water, sewerage, roads and drainage and projecting these elements into dollars and cents on the present plateau of prices, which will be higher in the future, it can be appreciated that the costs are far beyond the ability of our people to pay. To be taken into calculation also is the pressing need for personnel and equipment to give concrete expression to the services required for modern living, healthful living, and the well-being of our citizens. Under the pattern of taxation from which we must receive the revenues to pay for the cost of government, I find in my analysis that a tax rate of $62.00 with assessments valued percentage wise from 45-50% has imposed a severe burden on our people. At the moment, the town has uncollected taxes amounting to approximately $190,000. Remember that we are enjoying the greatest prosperity in the history of the country. Yet, we are spending about $16,000 per month for Veterans and other Welfare matters. The financial position is so sensitive that any attempt to build up departments to required strength would send the tax rate upwards.

Finding "a way out" is a most difficult task, if not an impossible one. Procurement of new industry to spread the tax burden is one avenue. But industry requires sewerage besides many other appurtenances. The town is ready to assist new and existing industry in every way that it can, but many industries will by-pass us because of the sewerage facilities. I am ever alert to bring in new industry and to assist industry that is with us now. The hard and fast "way out is by attrition, by conservation, by strict economies, by judicious use of all our resources, by the elimination of waste. Since I have been town manager I have pursued that course very closely. The departments that come under my direct control have done a good job but a better one can be done. The School Department accounts for the major share of the budget; last year 1956, out of a total appropriation of $1,907,158.69, the School Department took $730,622.93. For 1957 the School budget with school custodians and school maintenance costs eliminated amounts to $715,230. If the school budget had come in on a lower figure, we could hold the line on the tax rate. The cost of general Government in the 1957 budget is down and is in line with other communities that have had a manager for several years.

Canalizing the proposed Vesey School, the sewerage outlay of $1,495,00 and the present debt of the town, we reach a total debt of $4,195,000, this does not include short-term debt. To superimpose the School Dept. estimate of 3 more schools on our present debt structure is imposing a leviathan-like burden which the people cannot afford.

Pulling the varied threads of our major problems together and arraying them against our resources, or the ability of our people to pay, it is very clear that as a community we must tighten our financial belt very stringently so that the general best interests of the town be served completely and impartially. Attrition is a hard path to follow especially in an inflationary period, but the time has come for very sober thinking. Quoting the Boston Herald of Friday, December 28, 1956—"The appetite of governments for money apparently has no limit." The article goes on to quote Tax talk published by the Massachusetts Taxpayers Federation—"It is a sobering and bewildering thought that in a year (1955 to 1956) in which school enrolments increased by not over six per cent, the adult population of the state by at most a fraction of one per cent, the public welfare population by none at all, and the consumer price index by some three per cent, with municipal and school construction not far from last year's pace, local property tax levies have nevertheless increased by an unheard-of $59 million—from $466 million in 1955 to $525 million this year, or 12.7 per cent." The Herald goes on to say "It is sobering and bewildering indeed. This property tax increase is almost equal to the whole take from the state gas tax and only a few million less than the annual yield of the state corporation tax. If spending by the cities and towns continued to increase at this rate, it could eat up the proceeds of a three per cent sales tax in less than two years of an expanded income tax in an even shorter time. Without realizing it, we are spending ourselves into a situation where no conceivable combination of revenue can long meet the demand. At this level of government, at least, we may soon have no alternative but to retrench. The problem seems to be that everybody is spending too much and taxing too much. And no one is willing to start the process of cutting down. Perhaps we must wait for the day when the taxpayer, digging down in his pockets, finds nothing left to give. Then we will know, if not where it goes, at least where it is not coming from. And the cycle may be broken." I concur with the Boston Herald.

In conclusion, I wish to quote from my budget message for 1957—I wish to stress very strongly that in order that the present tax rate of $62.00 be held without imposing additional burdens on the taxpayer, which is indicative by the large amount of unpaid taxes for 1956 alone is incurring hardships, the budget as recommended be followed through closely. A substantial cut in the amount appropriated via articles, use of existing facilities remodelled to fit our needs, reduction of our indebtedness, setting up a substantial rserve fund, stretching the use of all equipment and resources; and above all, cooperation from all agencies of the municipal family, will, I am sure, place us in a far stronger financial position at the end of 1957 than the state we find ourselves in at this moment. Pressures exerted for localized projects must be tempered and reconciled with the general best interests of the town.

Town Manager

Report of Director of Veteran's Services

To: Charles R. Iovino
Town Manager
Randolph, Mass.

Herewith you will find a summary of services and veteran's benefits as administered by this office under The General Laws of Massachusetts.

The need of this type of service is growing each year. This department administers four categories of veteran's benefits, as set up by law with State Department Rules and Regulations. The State Department of Veterans' Services under the existing laws reimburses the Town of Randolph 50% of all monies expended after a rigid investigation by State Department Field Agent of all cases. All veteran's benefits cases were approved in 1956 by the State Department and the Town of Randolph will receive 50% reimbursement of all monies expended, plus $1,237.00 refunded under Chapter 493.

DUTIES: As Veterans' Agent he takes applications for Veterans Benefits, under Chapter 115 as amended for those veterans or dependents of veteran that qualify under said Laws. Upon taking an application for Veterans' Benefits the following processing is involved: The actual application interview of applicant at office obtaining vital statistics such as: Discharge papers, birth certificates, death certificates, marriage certificates, wage reports, court records, divorce records, dependency statements and bank letters. This involves writing to remote as well as local towns for this data. The next step is a home investigation by this agent to the home of the veteran and/or applicant to verify the circumstances as accurately given on the application and to better understand the family and home life of recipients. There is no actual method of determining the length of time involved in each new application, each particular case being of a separate category. Upon completion of a satisfied decision by this agent a duplicate application attached to special Form VS21 with full particulars of the case is then submitted to the State Department of Veterans' Services with recommendation to allow or disallow veteran's benefits.

Prior to receiving authorization from the State Department an additional investigation is made by their office to satisy their 50% participation in this case. When their investigator has stamped his approval on the case the Town of Randolph is then eligible to be reimbursed 50% of benefits authorized by the State Department. The total of all benefits paid each month are entered on Monthly Return Forms notarized by the Agent and verified by the Town Treasurer, and submitted to the State Department prior to the 10th of the month following the month benefits are paid. If the applicant is employable although temoprarily unemployed and eligible for Veterans' Benefits, this office is not satisfied with merely accepting the case and filing it until the applicant notifies the agent that he has returned to work. Every effort is made through local and adjacent employers to return the applicant to gainful employment.

1. As Director of Veterans' Services, it is the duty of the director to service the veteran and his dependents in all phases of Federal and State Laws, that may pertain to his or her benefits. It would be practically impossible to estimate the time spent on each case, as there are not two cases alike, average time in developing each case would be two hours, each service case is active for two months, as it is processed through so many channels before a decision is rendered from the Veterans' Administration. Through the efforts of this office retroactive pay to the veteran and his dependents on disability and pension claims in 1956 amounted to $13,465.00.

2. Secretary to the above mentioned, duties require her to type all applications, write for documentary proof each case requires, file duplicate copies, prepare monthly report to State Department of Veterans' Services by this Department, interview veterans and dependents in the absence of Department Head, prepare payroll for recipients of veterans benefits, prepare monthly medical and hospital bills for payment by the Town Accountant and State Department of Veterans' Services for authorization.

Scope and Effect of Work: Each case for veterans benefits has to be rigidly investigated before requesting recommendation for authorization by the local agent to the State Department of Veterans' Services if case does not qualify according to laws as set up by the Commonwealth, the town would not receive the 50% reimbursement, which would effect the tax rate of town. All claims under Federal Laws have to be developed thoroughly before they are submitted to the Veterans' Administration for their decision, if not, veteran would receive an unfavorable decision, which would effect the economy of the town.

Supervision and Guidance Received: The local agent is responsible for all decisions made, which involve many thousands of dollars of town funds. My cases are reviewed by the State Department of Veterans' Services Field Investigator.

Mental Demands: To negotiate a transfer of mental patient from a State Institution to V.A.N.P. Hospital, and to have a veteran admitted to V.A. Hospital for medical or surgery. Contacting banks who are about to foreclose on veteran's home, arranging for smaller payments over a period of time, so that they will not lose home through foreclosure. Arranging for employment for the handicapped veteran. Above are daily problems of this department. These problems are worked out by knowing laws pertaining to facts of each case and connections through years of this type of work. Processing and developing claims for War Service Connected Disabilities, Education, Insurance, Dental, Out-Patient Treatment, Loans under G. I. Bill for real estate and business. Widow's and Dependent Parent's Pension, Part III Benefits for W.W. I, W.W. II and Korean Wars. To administer above laws and problems, agent has to be trained and qualified to perform these duties. All these duties require the Agent to learn and retain facts and details of the different laws so that they may be administered properly.

Personal Work Contacts: Employers, Probation Officers, Clerk of Courts, Admitting Officers in all V. A.

Hospitals and private hospitals, local doctors and dentists, heads of all departments at the Veterans' Administration and several State Department, Unemployment Compensation and Social Security Division, Local Banks. All these are daily contacts pertaining to processing claims for both veterans benefits and veterans services.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM S. COLE,
Director.

Report of Board of Public Welfare

TO: Mr. Charles R. Iovino, Town Manager

SUBJECT: Annual Report of Board of Public Welfare

The four categories of public assistance administered by this department, in accordance with the General Laws of Massachusetts, consists of Old Age Assistance (Ch. 118A), Aid to Dependent Children (Ch. 118), Disability Assistance (Ch. 118D), and General Relief (Ch. 117).

For detailed statistics concerning expenditures and reimbursements by and to this department, reference is made to the report of the Town Accountant.

As was true on a State wide basis, so it was in Randolph during 1956—increased payments to a decreasing case load. In October, 1955, 88,163 Old Age Recipients in this Commonwealth received $6,850,708. In October, 1956, 85,099 OAA recipients received $7,130,760. The average payment to an OAA recipient in October, 1955 was $77.71 per month; in October, 1956 it averaged $83.79 per month. It is interesting to note that the average payment to an OAA recipient of Florida was $47.00 in October, 1956.

The basic reasons for this trend of spiralling costs in the field of Public Welfare in this Commonwealth are as follows:

(1) Chapter 728 of the Acts of 1955 authorized a new budgetary item for Old Age Assistance known as Transportation Allowance. Effective January 1, 1956, every OAA recipient's budget, with the exception of those persons in a nursing home or institution, was increased by $2.50 per month. As of January, 1956, Randolph aided 165 OAA recipients. As of December, 1956, 163 were aided.

(2) Effective July 1, 1956, payments to recipients in all categories of public welfare were increased by 5.08% or a total cost of living adjustment of 20% to the State Standard figures that comprise an individuals budget. Prior to this date the total adjustment figure was 14.2%. This State requirement is brought about by an increase in the costs of living index as reported by the Division on the Necessaries of Life to the State Department of Public Welfare in accordance with paragraph two of section one of Chapter 118A.

(3) Chapter 653 of the Acts of 1956 amended section one of Chapter 118A, and as of November 7, 1956, extended the benefits of Old Age Assistance to non-citizens who have resided in the United States for twenty years or longer. Consequently, for the first time in Massachusetts, aliens who meet this requirement and the needs test are now eligible for OAA. Already this Act has increased the OAA case load.

(4) Increased medical costs. Much could be written in this area but space does not permit. Effective January 1, 1957, most hospital per diem rates advanced to an all time high for Public Welfare recipients. The larger hospitals of Boston, as of said date, charge Boards of Public Welfare $22.85 per day. This is an all-inclusive rate including extra services such as x-ray, laboratory tests, operations, etc. In 1948 the maximum per diem rate was $8.00. The Brockton City Hospital will now charge $19.42 per day for our recipients.

As of December, 1956, there were six more OAA recipients in licensed nursing homes than there were in January, 1956. When this happens, the individual cost doubles and sometimes triples. Dental fees, drugs and medical items have all increased with the inflationary rise. The social workers, Agent, and staff do all in their power to think of the taxpayer, but against such factors as enumerated, effort is nullified in many instances. Staff members are hired to carry out the Welfare laws, not to ignore or counteract them.

Miss Jeanne Hinckley resigned as Social Worker in August, 1956 to accept private case work in Boston. The Board was very fortunate to be able to recommend to the Town Manager the name of Mrs. Alice E. Zaccaro of Brockton as Social Worker. We hope to fill the second Social Worker position as soon as candidates are certified by Civil Service.

Report of The Town Counsel

Mr. Charles R. Iovino
Town Manager
Randolph, Mass.

Matters coming to the attention of the Town Counsel have been many and varied during the past year.

Since the Town has been operating only for about a year and a half under the Selectmen Town Manager Charter, and like all new legislation the Charter requires constant interpretation for various departments. It has been necessary to read the Charter in the light of existing General Laws, by-laws of the Town, and rules and regulations of various departments.

Monday nights throughout the year are devoted to attendance at the Selectmen's meeting where any number of legal questions may arise during the course of the evening. Such questions touch on the issuance of licenses of various natures, division of betterments, restraint of dogs, election laws, appropriations, powers, duties and authorities of Selectmen, Town Manager and other departments.

From time to time Tuesday nights are devoted to the Planning Board and their problems involving interpretation of the subdivision control legislation. Since said legislation is relatively new, many close legal questions arise thereunder which have not as yet been determined by the Courts.

During the year I have attended the School Planning and Building Committee meetings which usually fall on Wednesday or Thursday evening.

Many Saturdays have been devoted to bringing up to date the by-laws of the Town in the hope that some day funds may be available for compiling and printing all town laws under one cover.

During the week there may be consultations with the Town Clerk's Office, building inspector, assessors' office, highway engineer, welfare department, superintendent of schools and school committee and possibly fire and police departments.

It would be impossible in a report of this nature to touch on each and every piece of litigation and opinion that the Town Counsel might be called upon for during the course of the year. However, a brief sampling might be as follows: Reading and drafting of contracts, consultations with architects and engineers, filing answers and appearances in court on appeals from decisions of the Planning Board, land damage matters concerning takings, consultations with Board of Health concerning such matters as garbage, refuse, dump contracts and piggeries. Questions arise concerning the powers of Trustees of the Turner Free Library, powers of trustees of Stetson School Fund, legal title of Town Hall, legal title of Belcher Park, transfer of Corkin Medical Center and appearances must be filed in the Probate Court in matters of devises to the Town. There may be litigation involving tax collection and Appellate Tax Board matters, and conferences with counsel representing people and corporations who have either business with the Town or are involved in a legal case with the Town.

There are also questions on zoning, bids, suits involving bonds filed by contractors, Chapter 386 matters, consultation and suits by Welfare Department, answers filed in court in bankruptcy matters, and problems involving civil service. Requests for legal opinions cut across almost every conceivable matter involving town affairs. Some times what appears at first blush to be the simplest question results in many hours of research.

I find that a great solace to any Town Counsel is the monthly meetings of the State-wide Town Counsel and City Solicitors' Association where problems and ideas can be exchanged and counsel serving the various municipalities can commiserate with each other. However, all Town Counsel are fully aware of the fact that the greatest satisfaction from their work is the rendition of a service to the community.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM J. CARR, Town Counsel

Report of The Planning Board

The Planning Board submits herewith the annual report for the year 1956.

It is with deep regret that the Planning Board received the resignation of its Chairman, Mr. Paul Peterson, on June 1, 1956. Mr. Peterson in his term as Chairman worked long and hard to organize the Board on a workmanlike basis and spent innumberable hours of his time in correcting records and bringing them up to date. His handling of many vexing problems were a credit to the Town and to the Board which he served as Chairman.

Applications and approvals of new subdivisions exceeded the record year of 1955. Each subdivision bringing greater increases in Public Hearings, paper work and inspections.

In early September the joint Water Board of Randolph and Holbrook informed the Planning Board that a serious water problem had developed. On September 15, 1956 the Water Commissioners of Randolph informed this Board that they would not extend the present water mains until an engineering study was made for increased water sources and supply. (Now in progress.) In essence the present water problem can be divided into three parts:

1. The demand for water by Holbrook, Randolph and Braintree exceeds the safe supply of Great Pond by 400,000 gallons daily throughout the year and approximately two million gallons in the summer months.

2. The Pumping Station and Purifying beds are at present operating well above their rated capacity.

3. The present main supply system can not carry the demand for water for domestic and fire use. Causing low pressures with their consequent dangers in case of fire and serious water shortages.

With the above problem in mind, the Planning Board ruled in conformance with the Subdivision Control Law, that they would not approve further development until a solution was found to the above water problems.

The Board has also recommended that the minimum lot areas in new subdivisions be increased to 20,000 feet. As many townspeople are aware, the proposed sewerage system has been turned down by the State Legislature. With our present sewerage disposal problems, we feel that lot areas should be larger to compensate for the loss of the proposed sewer system. In addition we believe that the growth of the Community should be slowed to a rate where we can supply schooling, utilities and service water drainage to our present townspeople. Planned growth is healthy for a community but the largely unplanned growth in Randolph over the last few years has led us to the brink of economic chaos.

In closing may we state that the Board's action on the water problem and recommendation for larger lot areas are based on solid fact and substance. The whispering campaign, the unsigned letter and half-truth newspaper reports directed against this Board's actions will not sway them in the least.

We believe that the Board's actions should be for the best interests of the Town and not for the selfish interests of a small minority.

The following article from the Boston Globe is inserted by the Board in the hope that it will be given serious consideration by all residents of the Town.

Ten Reasons Why—

Chances Are Your Neighborhood

May Turn Into a Slum Area IF . . .

What turns a neighborhood of new houses into a slum area? Some of the nation's top housing authorities were asked that question recently, and here's the way they start:

"Slums develop," the experts agreed, "when a lot of people in one area get dissatisfied with their homes, let them run down and move on to other areas.

"This rapid turnover is bad because each successive owner may have less pride in his home than the original owner."

Thus, owner dissatisfaction could be called the biggest single factor in the formation of slums, it was declared.

But what are the existing conditions that cause this dissatisfaction in the first place? Here they are:

POORLY PLANNED HOMES — These houses are often too small, too cheap and regarded by families as only a temporary home. They offer little chance for family expansion. They have too few closets, bathrooms, windows. They lack a family room, television room or some other kind of a second living room.

POOR CONSTRUCTION — Houses with poor construction become shabby fast. Families let them run down. Pride of ownership disappears fast and families want to move on to avoid high maintenance costs. Look for inadequate wiring, improper sewage systems, water pipes too small to carry increased loads, or wells that are apt to be out of date soon. One of the worst features is a septic tank on a crowded lot where a failure is almost sure to occur in a few years.

MONOTONOUS DESIGN—Watch out for an entire neighborhood composed of similar houses. Such a neighborhood is almost certain to cause dissatisfaction in the future. Buyers want individuality and when they don't get it, they'll move to a better area.

NARROW LOTS—Houses crowded close together are one of the most important factors that can lead to slums. No one wants to live in a house where he can hear the neighbor's toilet flush.

LACK OF TREES—Beware of the project where all the trees have been bulldozed and destroyed. In areas where ther are no trees, new ones should be planted as part of the house cost.

FLOOD CONDITIONS—Areas that flood easily are always in danger of becoming rundown neighborhoods. No one wants to be flooded out and after an owner has had water around his house a couple of times he wants to move out.

ZONING CONTROLS—Because neighborhoods can deteriorate faster than an individual house, homes built in an area where there are little or no controls for future zoning should be avoided. Proper controls to prevent stores, factories, gas stations and other commercial buildings in a residential area are needed.

COMMUNITY FACILITIES—There should be provisions for future community growth, with locations provided for schools, churches, shops, recreation areas, proper lighting and other items that make up good neighborhoods. There should be some open areas left for future parks, swimming pools and other recreational facilities.

PRICE—All the specialists who have studied present slum conditions warn builders against putting up a large group of houses all in the same price class, especially if they are small, lower cost homes. People want to live in a typical American community, which is a cross section of American life.

STREETS—Proper streets are a major part of any good community. Streets should be safe for children and economical in upkeep.

Report of Business and Industrial Commission

To the Citizens of the Town of Randolph:

Do you want industry in Randolph?

What are you doing about it?

What can be done about furthering the orderly development of your community.

You have a Business and Industrial Commission dedicated to the purpose of presenting Randolph as an attractive location for business and industry.

BUT, making our town attractive to industry cannot be done by five men. A town is attractive FIRST by having the proper attitude toward industry and SECOND by planning realistically for the orderly development of the community. Location, water, power, accessibility, etc., are all valuable assets, important in variousc combinations, to each individual business or industry. A towns planning and attitude are important to all businesses—those we have, as well as those we wish to attract.

"To attract by being attractive," your Business and Industrial Commission has:

1. Studied brochures, booklets, and books other towns have prepared to sell themselves to commerce.
2. Interviewed men in business who have received these expensive pieces of municipal advertising. We were informed that most of these are only flipped through once and filed in a waste basket.

3. Prepared an attractive inexpensive four page file size brochure, copies of which are now being mailed to a carefully compiled list.

4. Endeavored to run a High School essay and poster contest.

5. Met with a group of Randolph Businessmen to ascertain what assistance we could expect from this group.

6. Attended out of town meetings, including the Seventh Annual Governors Conference, and those of the Greater Brockton Regional Development Agency.

7. Discussed our zoned areas with industrial real estate agents.

8. Discussed with a local businessman his willingness to construct (for lease) commercial buildings on his property.

Looking ahead, thinking ahead, and working for the future of Randolph, the Business and Industrial Commission will continue to pursue the above projects as extensively as possible, and:

Study, with the Planning Board, the advisability of joining a regional development area.

Add to our file of statistics and information concerning Randolph.

Mail our brochures and letters to as many "selected" persons as we can. (You can help your community by forwarding to this commission or the Town Manager any business you hear about that is planning to expand, decentralize or move.)

To sum up our report, we have found—"Business is attracted to a town with the location they want, the land they need (properly zoned), fair government policies, and an attitude of 'welcome' on the part of the townspeople."

Your participation in Randolph's future is always welcome.

The Police Department now, as always makes every effort to cooperate with the citizens of Randolph. To do this in the efficient manner in which the townspeople are accustomed becomes increasingly difficult. Increased population, increased automobile registrations and more business establishments in the town makes it imperative that your present force of 16 men be increased.

At the Annual Town Meeting to be held in March, 1957, I am recommending that two more permanent patrolmen be appointed to the Department and I trust that you will give me your support at this meeting.

Very truly yours,

PATRICK T. McDONNELL
Chief of Police

Mr. Charles Iovino

We moved to our new Quarters on August 3, 1956, and I can truthfully say that the additional space and better facilities are of great help to us.

We have at present three trucks that range from twenty-five to thirty-five years of age. I am asking for replacements for two of them at the 1957 Town Meeting, and sincerely hope that the voters will go along with me.

Also, we are far behind the recommendations of the New England Fire Insurance Rating Bureau as to man power. Therefore I am asking for two more permanent men at the 1957 Town Meeting.

I wish at this time to thank the Town Officials and the citizens of the Town for their cooperation during the past year, and to express my appreciation to the members of the department also.

Yours respectfully,

CARLTON P. HARRIS,
Chief of Fire Department

Report of The Board of Health

The Board of Health respectfully submits its annual report for the year ending December 31, 1956.

COMMUNICABLE DISEASE REPORT

The Health Agent, F. R. Morrissette; Health officer, Dr. F. Randolf Philbrook; Public Health Nurses Miss Beatrice Scannell and Mrs. Janet Dimmick; school nurses Miss Helen Conlon and Mrs. Signe Heath conducted Polio Immunization clinics throughout the year. First and second doses of Salk Vaccine were administered in public clinics to 4,210 persons six months of age through 19 years of age. 885 others including 135 pregnant women who received first and second doses of vaccine administered by their private physicians. Plans are now being formulated to administer 5,035 booster doses to all eligible persons from Jan. 1, 1957 to June 30, 1957.

The Board wishes to thank the following volunteer nurses who gave so fully of their time to assist in this program; Mrs. Lillian Greenstein, Mrs. Madeline Philbrook, Mrs. Blanche McGuirk, Mrs. C. Farrell Galloway, Miss Pauline Drummond, Miss Mae McGrory, Mrs. Geraldine Drinkwater, Mrs. Betty Bailey, Mrs. Joseph O'Brien, Mrs. George Bonney, Mrs. Christine Ingalls, Mrs. Susan Kelly, Mrs. Herbert Richardson, Mrs. Emery Nordahl, and Mrs. Dorothea Robertson of Braintree.

The Board wishes to publicly thank the following physicians whose cooperation made this program such a complete success; Dr. John P. Amerena, Dr. John T. Berry, Dr. Morris C. Cross, Dr. Robert Farrell, Dr. Justin V. McGuirk, Dr. John P. Noonan, Dr. F. Randolf Philbrook, Dr. William C. Sloane and Dr. Russell F. Thompson.

Immunization clinics for full courses of Tetanus, Diphtheria and Pertussis and boosters for diphtheria and tetanus have been initiated. 371 pupils of the Stetson school were immunized in December. This program will continue during January, February and March for the remaining schools.

Chicken-pox 11 cases; Mumps, 24; Scarlet Fever, 75; Whooping Cough, 2; Pulmonary TB, 5; Meningitis (pfeiffer bacillus) 1; monkey bite, 1; and dog bites, 134.

During the months of January thru June of 1956 there occured an increased incidence of scarlet fever. These cases were chiefly among children and young adults. The disease was mild, and investigation has revealed that there were few, if any of the serious complications. Cases were widely distributed over the town and were not associated with any particular school or geographical location. There was no evidence that milk or food was related to the spread. Most of the cases were visited by the Public Health nurses as soon as reports were received and appropriate communicable disease techniques were explained at the involved household.

During the year there were 134 dog bites reported. It is believed that numerous additional instances of dog bite occured which were not reported nor treated by physicians. The reason that dog bite is reportable to the Board of Health is that the bite of a "mad" dog, or of a dog which is coming down with rabies, can transmit this disease to the human who is bitten. Once rabies sets-in in the human it is deadly in almost 100% of cases. When a person is bitten the doctor must decide whether or not to give anti-rabies treatment to that person. This is a serious decision because the anti-rabies treatment involves numerous injections of vaccine and is difficult and expensive. But it is truly a life saving measure when it needs to be used. The expense of the treatment is bourne by the Town in the event that the dog which did the biting was not properly licensed. The Town is reimbursed for the cost of treatment if the dog was properly licensed. This is the reason why it is important that all dogs in the Town be licensed.

Fortunately there has not been any dog or human rabies in Randolph for quite a few years past. The inoculation of dogs against rabies doubtless has been an important factor in the past. Many dog owners who properly care for their pets have had them vaccinated against rabies. Those dog owners who have not done so are urged to arrange with their veterinarians to have this important inoculation given.

The people of the Town must not become complacent about this large dog-bite problem simply because of the absence of rabies during the past few years. The example of the City of Chicago of a few months ago should be emphasized. There, after an absence of rabies for some time, a mad dog was imported into the City and bit numerous dogs. An epidemic of rabies occurred. Both human and animal deaths resulted. This could happen in Randolph. But if all the dogs were given advance protection by vaccination we could be spared the potential epidemic. One of the most important control measures is to vaccinate dogs now while there is no rabies present. Dog owners are urged to heed this advice as soon as possible.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING PROGRAM

The work of the Health Nurses consisted of care in home of the sick, instructions in carrying out orders left by the Doctor, teaching sound health measures to insure good care during illness and preventing further illness in the home. Instructions and supervision of the mother before and after the birth of the baby and instructions and demonstrations of the care of the new-born and older children. Follow-up on contagious diseases and contacts and teaching preventive measures for all the family.

This year concentration on prevention of disease was stressed. Clinics for this purpose were held and the nurses spent 218½ hours in preparing for and assisting at these clinics. As the response to these clinics was good, the nurses are proud to have been a part of such a fine program.

The well-child Conference better known as the "baby clinic" was well attended with total of 319 visits being made to these clinics.

The Boston School for the Deaf was covered by a Health Nurse and assistance at the Blood Banks was given. Transportation of patients when necessary was furnished.

Classes conducted by the State Department of Health were attended. These classes consisted of the newest methods and treatments in various diseases, dicussions and suggestions of various health problems and how to meet them. These courses were very beneficial. Also Conferences with various members of the Health Department, doctors, other nurses and social workers all helped to make a good health program for the Town.

The Health Officer of the Board of Health wishes to thank the Randolph Visiting Nurses Association for their excellent cooperation with the Health Department. Randolph citizens should know that the nursing staff of the Visiting Nurses Association is the same as that of the Board of Health. The Town of Randolph obtains its Public Health nurses thru an arrangement with the Randolph V.N.A. which provided that the Town pays only the salaries of these nurses. The V.N.A. provides each nurse with a vehicle, its upkeep and maintenance, and provides the telephone and clerical supplies and equipment (including some medical material). These nurses while working as visiting nurses provide bedside nursing care in Randolph homes for a very modest fee which is charged only if the patient is able to pay. While working as Public Health Nurses performing preventive medicine functions no fee whatsoever is charged.

The R.V.N. A. deserves the charitable support of the citizens of the Town. The present arrangement with this voluntary organization gives us a much needed combined nursing service which is excellent and which results in saving tax dollars.

MOSQUITO CONTROL

During the Town Meeting of last year the Health Officer sounded the warning that sleeping sickness (Eastern Equine Encephalatis) might occur in South Eastern Massachusetts during 1956 and that the disease would be spread by mosquitoes. He urged that the Town Meeting members should provide the Board of Health with funds to enable speedy and adequate control of mosquitoes in the Town. He also urged that they accept proposed legislation setting up the Norfolk County Mosquito Control Project. The Town Meeting members are to be commended for their wise action in voting favorably on both of these items, because sleeping sickness did occur as predicted but Randolph was ready.

The Board of Health, using funds allocated to its budget for the purpose, arranged for airplane spraying of the many acres of swampland during May and June. This early spraying was directed against mosquitoes while still in the larvae stages in swamp waters, and was very effective. During June the Board arranged for a spraying of the Town to kill as many as possible of the "first crop" of mosquitoes which had escaped the earlier larvicidal spraying. This early attack against the vector of sleeping sickness may have prevented trouble because each community which borders Randolph reported either human or animal cases of the disease, but no sleeping sickness was reported in Randolph.

By mid-July the Norfolk County Mosquito Control Project was under way and we are appreciative of the excellent work which they did in our Town. Their report to us follows:—

"Chapter 341 was enacted by the Legislature on May 19, 1956 creating the Norfolk County Mosquito Control Project. On July 1, 1956 actual Mosquito Control operations began. The towns within the project include 22 surrounding towns. The aggregate annual appropriation is $70,000.00 for the project. This report covers the period from July 1, to December 1, 1956.

Annual appropriation	5,005.67
Expenditures to Dec. 31	3,922.00
balance	$1,083.67

On August 2, 1956 a human case of Eastern Encephalitis (Horse Sleeping Sickness) was reported to the State Health Department. There followed in rapid succession a number of other human cases as well as infections in horses and pheasants, the latter believed to be a reservoir for the virus disease. To combat the outbreak within the project area, funds made available by the State were used by the project in the town of Randolph as follows:

Aerial Spraying	770 Acres
Mist Blowing	400 Acres
Total	1170 Acres

Date of spraying activities: July 11, 12, 23, 24, August 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, September 6, 7, 10, 11."

ENVIRONMENTAL SANITATION

There were less nuisance complaints regarding overflowing cesspools which indicates that the Board is receiving better cooperation from the townspeople who realize the seriousness of this Public Health nuisance and source of disease.

The possibility of sewage contamination in the water supply reservoir still exists and will be eliminated only when the catchment area of our water supply is completely sewered by a sanitary sewerage system.

During June of this year the Board of Health voted to adopt the policy that no piggery would be licensed in the Town of Randolph following December 31, 1956. All piggeries remaining in the town were notified that their licenses were revoked effective Dec. 31, 1956 and that none would be issued for 1957. The reasons for this action were numerous, and included the following:—odor and fly nuisances; the fact that some were located on the watershed of our drinking water supply; and that rapid increase in new development in the Town was bringing a large population group within range of nuisance from those establishments.

FOOD SANITATION

Bacteriological swab testing which has been accomplished at intervals during the past year has demonstrated that there is marked improvement in drinking and eating utensil sterilization. It is very gratifying to the Board of Health to be able to report that several food handling establishments have adopted more modern and effective sanitizing processes. This is of great importance in the prevention of the spread of disease and we have reasons to believe that the few bars or restaurants where conditions were found to relatively unsatisfactory will be improved during the next few months. The Board intends to institute a food handler education program during this coming year.

In milk sanitation program the two Randolph milk plants were inspected in the areas of pasteurization, cooling and filling, raw milk handling, cleaning and sanitation, miscellaneous equipment, plant sanitation and personnel. Bacteriological swab tests were taken and recommendations made where deficiencies occured. Permits were issued as follows: 2 pasteurization licenses $20.00, 35 Oleomargerin license $17.50, 42 store licenses $21.00 and 19 vehicle licenses $9.50. Total collected $68.00.

PLUMBING INSPECTION

Mr. Thomas O'Riley, plumbing inspector issued over 300 permits for old and new installations during the year.

The following fixtures were installed, 415 water closets; 395 wash bowls; 400 sinks; 410 bath tubs; 326 tankless heaters; 375 shower baths and other minor installations.

More permits for plumbing installations were issued this year than any other previous year. This increase results in more revenue for the Town as it exceeds the amount paid for the salary and expenses involved.

The sum of $2,976.00 was collected and turned into the Town Treasurer.

ANIMAL AND SLAUGHTER INSPECTIONS

Cornelius J. Crowley, Animal and Slaughter Inspector reports as of Dec. 31,1956 there were in the Town of Randolph 73 cows, 49 horses and 76 swine. The population of swine is 330 less than the number reported as of Dec. 31st of the previous year.

Mr. Crowley reported that during the calendar year of 1956, he quarantined 134 dogs as a result of reported dog bites. As Inspector of slaughter 8 swine, 7 cows, and 3 sheep were inspected after slaughter for fitness for human consumption.

REVENUE PRODUCED BY THE BOARD OF HEALTH

The sum of $4468.36 was received. This includes $856.00 for local sewage disposal permits; regular licenses $30.50; hospitalization subsidies, $537.86; Milk and dairy products licenses, $68.00 and $2976.00 for Plumbing Inspections.

DEPARTMENT MAINTENANCE

During the calendar year 1956 this department received applications for 373 new services. These have been recorded and added to the system. In addition there are about 40 other services in developments that have not, as yet, been placed on the department's books.

Fifty-three service leaks were repaired — of these twenty-five were renewed; twenty-four additional required new shut-offs; five services were relocated; six services were discontinued and four services were lowered to new road grade; eighteen frozen services were thawed out by electricity; twenty-nine services were rodded out and cleaned; fifteen service boxes and five road boxes, found broken and filled, were replaced.

Ten hydrants were broken by auto collisions during the year. Three were hit and run and the department has been reimbursed for most of the balance through insurance. One new hydrant was installed on Lambert Road. Two hydrants were relocated and one additional hydrant was raised to new sidewalk grade.

In conjunction with the continued widening and resurfacing of South Street seventeen services were renewed from the main to the new curb stop line. One hydrant was gated and reset to the new side line. In connection with the regrading of Lancaster Road, about 200 feet of 6 inch main was lowered five feet. Also, in connection with Highway Department road program, all gate boxes were raised to new road grade on all streets that were blacktopped.

JOINT ACCOUNT

With increased demands upon the System, the Pumping Station and Filtration plant, a close order of maintenance has been carried out to minimize the chance of even temporary break-downs. Feeling that it was for the best interest of the respective towns, the Joint Board of Water Commissioners engaged the services of Weston & Sampson, Consulting Engineers, of Boston, to supervise and set up proper procedure relative to the Filtration Plant. The results obtained by this action are most gratifying, as shown by the analysis reports of the final effluent now being delivered to the distribution system.

SYSTEM MAINTENANCE AND PLANT REPAIRS UNDER OUTSIDE CONTRACTORS

Precision welding of base bolts of Uniflow Engine
Engine repairman replacing parts of Uniflow Engine
Yoke braising on steam valve on Corliss Engine
Three motors reconditioned (Wright Electric Co.)
New blow off line installed on No. 2 boiler.
25,000 gallon wash water tank in yard cleaned, processed and repainted inside and out.
Standpipe at Holbrook completely cleaned, processed and repainted inside and out.

The Weir trough in the Coagulation Basin, which was found completely demolished on periodic routine inspection of the basin, had to be completely rebuilt. Clark & Smith Co. of Quincy was engaged for this work.

PLANT REPAIRS UNDER CHIEF ENGINEER WILLIAM SILSON AND DEPARTMENT LABOR

Renewed 65 feet of 3 inch blow-off line from boilers.
Installed valve in No. 2 boiler soot blower.
Repacked packing gland—turbine condenser pump.
Repaired drain pipe on soot blower.
Replaced motors on Dry Soda machines.
Repaired the DeLaval separator.
Replaced the brick baffle for No. 2 Boiler.
Renewed gaskets on main steam line to Corliss Engine.
Cleaned vent cocks on dash pots, Corliss Engine.
Put new pressure diaphram on Chlorine machine.
Maintenance repairs on condensate trap, Corliss Engine.
Renewed parts on Dry Soda Machine.
Resealed main stop valve on No. 2 Boiler.
Installed new gauge cock stems on No. 2 Boiler.

Installed yoke on high pressure valve, Corliss Engine.
Repiped drain from cam box on Uniflow Engine.
Reset valve gear and governor on Corliss Engine.
Lanced boiler tubes on No. 1 and No. 2 Boilers.
Installed new stop valve on No. 2 Boiler.
Repacked plunger on Corliss Engine.

On recommendation of State Department of Public Health that our Chlorine equipment and feeders be isolated, a complete new and separate Chlorine room was built within the engine room itself, entirely by department labor, as part of our winter work program. The room has been equipped with gas masks for emergencies and has been approved by the State Department.

One of the new sub station gravel-packed wells has been completed and a 30 day 24 hr. test run has been made on it. Depending on the head pressure encountered, this well will deliver up to 300 gallons per minute. A second well is now in the process of completion and will be ready for operation in the early spring. This will have an expected capacity of 200 gallons per minute.

In an effort to lower the head pressure, the Town of Holbrook, independently, are in the process of laying a new larger main through what is known as the Holbrook Grove, to connect with a 10 inch main on North Franklin Street. This will considerably lower the present "Head" and should permit these two well pumps to run at capacity at the periods of peak demand of next summer. Your Joint Board is continuing its endeavors to locate additional ground water supplies, and, at this writing, have the R. E. Chapman Co. of Oakdale, Mass., test boring in many sections of Randolph and Holbrook.

WILLIAM J. ALMOND
Superintendent

Report of Tree and Moth Department

To the Honorable Town Manager, Board of Selectmen and citizens of Randolph.

I herewith submit my report as Tree Warden and Moth Superintendent for the Year of 1956. During 1956 we have given much attention to the fact that neglected trees are a hazard and a detriment to our Town. During the year 42 dead trees were removed and extensive pruning for trees was done. Less feeding of Tent Caterpillar or Gypsy Moth was found. This improvement over previous years is a direct result of aerial Spraying done in 1956.

The department of Natural Resources keeps in close contact with this Department with timely advice and bulletins. As our town grows, more and more Home Owners request our department to spray for leaf eating insects. With the acceptances of new streets, many new trees must be planted. Roadsides, School yards, and playgrounds are sprayed to eradicate poison ivy.

Many requests were received from various people for mosquito control, this is not a direct concern of this department, but of the Board of Health.

In closing may I express my sincere thanks to all who cooperated with us in enabling the Tree and Moth Department to better serve you.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH J. HART

Tree Warden and Moth Superintendent

Report of The Trustees of The Turner Free Library

To the Citizens of Randolph:

In accordance with the provisions of Article III of the By-Laws for the Government of the Trustees of the Turner Library, this eighty-first annual report is submitted to show the condition of the Trust—the Building, Library and Funds—for the calendar year 1956 and to call attention to such other matters concerning the Library as may be of general interest.

Beginning December 10, 1956 the Trustees have been fortunate to secure the services of Mrs. Lucia S. Faulkner as Head Librarian. Mrs. Faulkner has had training and service in library work at the Toledo (Ohio) Public Library and practical experience both as a Branch Librarian and most recently as Children's Librarian on the staff of the Boston Public Library. She also has done secretarial and editing work with a large publishing firm. Currently she is Secretary of the Boston Chapter of the Women's National Book Association.

Under her capable direction and with the valued assistance of the Library's present experienced staff members—Mrs. Martin and Miss Massie—the Trustees are confident that the Library's facilities and services will keep pace with the needs of this growing community. A copy of the annual report of the Librarian is appended as a part of this report.

Particular attention has been given during the past year to the purchase of books of interest to children. During the coming year, without curtailing other purchases, it is planned to give continued emphasis to meeting the library needs of all school-age readers. Through the Librarian, the Committee looks forward to working closely with the teachers of all schools in the town in order that the best of fiction as well as up-to-date non-fiction may be made available to those in this group.

Repairs and replacements of the books and furnishings of the Library have been made throughout the year as necessary and a long-term program now is under way to evaluate, regroup and display as effectively as possible all of the Library's books. This program is in keeping with modern library practice and, when completed, should make it much easier for borrowers to locate desired books.

During the past year the Library Building has been kept in good repair. In order that the building and its equipment may be maintained in a clean and serviceable condition, however, the Trustees are of the opinion that the regular services of a part-time janitor are required. Accordingly, the Trustees have requested that the town appropriate an additional sum of $650.00 for this purpose for the coming year.

Of the $7000.00 appropriated by the town for the necessary expenses of the Library during 1956, the sum of $3226.26 has been expended. With the exception of a very small amount, the balance of $3773.74 represents the unused portion of the $4000 appropriated for the salary of the additional Librarian whose services were not available until December 10, 1956. As a part of this Report, there also is appended a copy of the annual Report of the Treasurer showing the receipts and disbursements for the year as well as the investment of the Trust Funds as of December 31, 1956.

In closing this report it seems appropriate to note that in the death of Frederick E. Knebel on September 12, 1956, the Turner Library has lost the services of a man whose association and work with the Library Trustees will long be remembered. Appointed a Trustee in April 1934 and elected President of the Trustees in October 1943, Mr. Knebel conscientiously and capably has been a worker and leader in this community service for more than twenty-two years. In sincere sorrow, the Trustees of the Turner Library gratefully acknowledge his long and faithful service and his noteworthy contribution to the successful administration of the Library.

Report of Librarian Turner Free Library

To the Trustees of The Turner Free Library:

It is with pleasure that I submit the following Annual Report of the Librarian of the Turner Free Library for the year ending December 31, 1956:

The library was open to the public, as posted, on Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons from 2:00 to 4:30 and every evening from 7:00 to 9:00, Sundays and holidays excepted. During July and August the library was open evenings only.

Book circulation totaled 11,448—an increase of approximately 1800 over the previous year: fiction, 5058; juvenile books, 3436; non-fiction, 2954; magazines, 141.

Two hundred forty-six more people were library-conscious in 1956 than in 1955, figures showing a total registration of 814, comprised of 617 new applicants and 197 renewals.

378 new books were added to the collection of the library, 222 being adult books and 156 juvenile. However, due to the worn and soiled condition of volumes which have given good service over the years, 430 volumes had to be discarded—194 adult and 236 juvenile titles.

During the week of November 25—Children's Book Week—a display of juvenile books was to be seen in the window at Russell's Cleansers, a courtesy warmly appreciated by the Turner staff.

Subsequent to your vote to that end, it was my great pleasure to take office as Librarian of the Turner Free Library on December 10. In this quaint and charming old building, begging to be used to its utmost, it will be my privilege and honor to serve the residents of Randolph in their reading interests and aims; and with the steady cooperation of a staff which has long since proved its loyalty to the town, I feel confident that we can invite the residents, one and all, to come, look around, stay and read, and let us serve them increasingly. My appreciation of your interest and the practicality of your support is most sincere.

Respectfully submitted,

LUCIA S. FAULKNER (Mrs.)
Librarian

Report of The Town Engineer

Mr. Charles R. Iovino
Town Manager
Randolph, Massachusetts

Dear Sir:

In the past several months it has been my pleasure to serve as the first Town Engineer for Randolph.

The urgent need for services of a technical nature became readily apparent by the demand on my services which have been increasing every day. To keep up with the pressure for services is an almost inhuman task. Working far into the night and on a number of occasions on week-ends in an effort to catch-up has proven fruitless for the demands for engineering services that have been latent for many years are now upon me. If the town could afford it, I could use at least two assistants and an assistant engineer, but I note that you have not included the amount of money necessary for such services in the 1957 budget.

I wish to call to your attention that I will require a number of tools and engineering instruments in the coming year. For the past months I have had to borrow the technical equipment so necessary to my work besides using much of my own. I am sure that while we are moving through a period of transition insofar as the position of the Town Engineer is concerned, the town will partake of many, many benefits at economical cost. The past half year in which I have served has given to the town a host of projects that would have cost thousands more than the approximate salary of $4,000 that I have received.

Prior to rendering a synoposis of the projects and activities processed by the Town Engineer's Office, I wish to thank you sincerely for assisting me on many occasions in the adjustment that I had to make from working with a private corporation to that of a public one. Also, the space that you have turned over to me in the Town Hall for the creation of a Public Works Department in which the Town Engineer will be housed. I firmly believe that this is a good forward step and will assist in better accomplishments as well as save money to the taxpayers and render clerical services essential to good programming.

The first task assigned to me by your office was the sewerage addition to the McNeil School. By doing the work ourselves a savings of $4,000 was made despite the fact a number of obstacles were encountered. The disposal system at the McNeil School is now functioning efficiently. Projects that were handled included:

Eugenia Street Drain
Amelian Road Drain
Russ Street Drain
Old Street Drain (Reed St. to Royal St.—east of Mitchell St.).
Old—Chestnut Street Drain
Chestnut Street Culvert Lowered
Druid Hill Avenue Culvert
Patterson Avenue—Replaced field stone with 24" Reinforced Culvert
Woodlawn Street Drain
Cottage Street Drain
Removal Hill at Lancaster Road
Wyman Road—widened corner and oiled
Woodlawn Road
Pond Lane—widened, oiled
Chestnut Street—widened corner at Desmond Road
Chapter 90—Construction—South Street
Chapter 90—Maintenance—Union Street

Sidewalk on South Main Street
$50,000 Road Program
Many minor projects
Waldo Street work

To list all the units of services that I attended to is an impossibility. There are many cases that required my attention that necessitated that I leave my paper work to attend to that would consume an hour sometime a few days from duties that were urgent. It has been difficult to apportion my time. But one thing is certain that no one was left in abeyance waiting for my services. If I was powerless to help because of lack of funds, at least I paid everyone the courtesy of calling on them. I recall that was your implicit request to me when I was initially employed by the town. I am in agreement with you that the people of the town are deserving from their public servants the immediate attention and processing of complaints within the limits of human efforts and funds available.

I wish to again say many thanks for the assistance that you have given even at the expense of your administrative duties so that my tasks could be made easier. I am grateful to General Foreman Arthur Franke for diverting men and equipment from his regular duties to help on engineering activities.

It is my opinion that many of the problems that are engineering in form will be solved as my office gains a firmer position. The year 1957 represents a greater challenge, but I am prepared to do my share to keep up the splendid headway that has already been made under your stewardship as Town Manager.

Very sincerely yours,

EUGENE J. MULLIGAN,
Town Engineer.

Report of The Highway Department

Mr. Charles R. Iovino
Town Manager
Town Hall
Randolph, Massachusetts

Dear Sirs:

I have had the honor of serving as acting Highway Director for the past several months and wish to, therefore, report on the activities that were carried out under my supervision.

There have been many calls on the services of the Highway Department, and the services required from the personnel and equipment are increasing many fold. It is an impossibility to maintain effective services with the personnel and equipment that is available in the department now.

Considerable headway was made in 1956 in work accomplishments and savings to the Town. Many of the special Articles have balances left in the account. All special Articles passed at the Annual Town Meeting of 1956 were completed with the exception of Ferncourt Street work and Highland Avenue sidewalk.

I wish to thank you for all the time and effort that you expended in assisting me in carrying out my work in the department. Without your assistance it would have been impossible to have accomplished all the work that was carried out to completion this year.

The following is a list of the projects that directly or indirectly effected the personnel, equipment, and activities of the Highway Department:

Chapter 90 Construction—South Street
Flood Permanent Repairs
Lafayette Street Sidewalk
South Main Street Sidewalk
Eugenia Street Drain
Himoor Circle Drain
Roel Street work
Pond Lane Construction & Oiling
Amelian Road Drain
Overlook Road—Himoor Circle Drain
Cross Street Drain
Mt. Pleasant Square Work
Woodlawn Street Drain
Chestnut Street Drain
Removal of Boulders on Liberty Street
Chestnut Street Widening
Unaccepted Street Repairs
North & Cottage Street Catch Basins
Lancaster Road Construction
Installation of Curb at Diauto Drive
Wyman Road Grading and Oiling
Removal of Ledge on Mill Street

Specifically, the above listed items are only part of the program of activities carried out by the Highway Department this past year. However, there have been many accomplishments made which if measured in dollars and cents would amount to a very large figure. I firmly believe that all the accomplishments that were made are far beyond the appropriation made for highway expense and highway personnel. The increased productivity by the personnel of the department is due largely to the programming of functions and duties more effectively. The large savings made by the purchase of the sand screening plant are far beyond my previous calculations. This piece of equipment has saved the Town many thousands of dollars as well as make available large quantities of sand when it is required for use. If I were to place an estimate of what in dollars and cents, the increased productivity of labor and materials along with savings made by the sand screening plant, I would venture a figure in the vicinity of at least $75,000. I wish to also state that the setting up of a maintenance department has been a very good move for the Highway Department and the Town itself. The large savings that have been made in the maintenance division are tremendous, and the fact that our equipment was kept in first rate condition accounts for the many benefits that has been rendered by this section of the Highway Department.

In closing, I wish to thank the many people that helped to make the many fold activities of the Highway Department a huge success, and those who helped in many ways to render more services to the public.

Very truly yours,

EUGENE J. MULLIGAN
Acting Highway Director

Board of Selectmen

Randolph, Massachusetts

The development of the Warden Service under the leadership of Allan Reed, ably assisted by Patrick J. Hawes, is probably the one phase of civil defense that should have the attention of all our citizens at this time. It is important that all of us know what to do in any emergency or catastrophe that may befall Randolph, whether it be of a military nature or the result of fire, explosion or storm.

The purpose of the Warden Service is to acquaint all our people with the facilities available to overcome any type of disaster, and how each individual may protect himself, his family, and his neighbor.

With a Warden for every ten families, who will provide civil defense literature, and the latest information for protection of the individual in any situation, our people will be prepared, will know what to do, and how to do it.

A "First Aid" course of instruction for our Wardens is being prepared under direction of Miss Jeanne Norris.

Included in this Annual Report, is the Mobilization Plan for Randolph. Responsible leadership in all departments, will develop an organization that will meet any need. However, efficient Civil Defense depends upon team-work, and the co-operation of all of us.

SHOULD THE NEED ARISE LET US BE READY.

Annual Report

of the

School Department

of the

Town of Randolph

For the Year Ending December 31, 1956

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE

To the Citizens of the Town of Randolph

The Randolph School Committee submits herewith its annual report for the year 1956:

The various reports by the heads of departments of the Randolph School Dept., included in the annual report of the Superintendent, outline to the citizens of the town a complete picture of the activities and progress made in your schools.

The need for additional classrooms in the Randolph School System has not abated during the past year. It was necessary to set up emergency classrooms in the Stetson School, Devine School, the Tower Hill Improvement Association Hall and the Congregational Church. We are indebted to the members of the Tower Hill Improvement Association and to the members of the First Congregational Church and its Standing Committee for their wholehearted cooperation in aiding us to partly solve a most acute housing problem for the school children of Randolph. These emergency facilities were approved by the Mass. Dept. of Public Safety.

Your Committee has and will continue to make every effort to keep abreast of the ever-changing methods used in the educational fields. A program to evaluate the curriculum, physical plant, and educational staff of the Randolph High School has been instituted by Superintendent of Schools Thomas L. Warren and is now being conducted under the supervision of Hubert F. Gilgan, Principal of the High School. It is felt that this program when completed will be of immeasurable value and most beneficial to high school students.

The increased membership in our faculty necessitates an alert and intelligent approach to obtain personnel. The office of the Superintendent has recognized this need and has planned a program that incorporates closer screening of applicants and interviews at a time which would enable a more advantageous selection of candidates.

It should be noted that the budget of the School Department no longer contains items that pertain to maintenance and repairs of school buildings, nor salaries of school custodians.

Your attention is called to the report in which the amount of money which is refunded through the various laws and regulations of the Commonwealth, as they relate to the educational program of the Town is shown. This amount is estimated to be approximately $211,000 for the year 1956. It should be noted that a refund of nearly $20,000 will be made for transportation of school children.

The problem that faces school authorities throughout the Commonwealth in respect to building needs, rates consideration by the members of our State Legislature, to enact proper legislation to provide increased State Aid to the towns of the Commonwealth. Massachusetts ranks 42nd in providing State Aid to the towns in its School Aid program.

Your Committee asknowledges with sincere gratification the continuance of the various scholarships established to aid our graduates to further education. The growth of the list of scholarships indicates an interest of the individuals and organizations in the development of our high school graduates.

We wish to recognize with regret the retirement of Miss Bernice Francis, after 29 years of teaching. Her diligent and conscientious work should be an inspiration to all.

We extend our sincere congratulations and thanks to all administrators, teachers, supervisors, secretaries, cafeteria workers and custodians, for their cooperation during the past year. A sincere welcome to visit the schools at your convenience is extended by your committee and we seek any suggestions or criticisms that may serve as a guide for the better education of our children.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM

In education as in all fields, great advances have been made as a result of research and experimentation. Yet many people who demand and enjoy "push-button" living and improved business methods still think of the old-fashioned educational program as being gilt-edged and sacred.

The evolutionary process in education has recorded some errors just as has been true in all other areas, but many very definite improvements in methods of teaching have far out-weighed the errors. The modern educational program is carried on not only within the four walls of the classroom, but also in the cafeteria, the gymnasium, the auditorium, on the playground and in the home.

It is regrettable that the use of the auditoriums of the Devine and Stetson Schools for emergency classroom purposes has eliminated the use of these facilities for physical education classes and assemblies and it is quite desirable that these rooms be returned to their former status as soon as is possible so that the pupils may receive the benefits of a complete elementary program.

Much of the educational programs which we knew as youngsters has been retained, and rightfully so; however, as previously pointed out, many highly desirable refinements have been made.

The results of the Stanford Achievement Tests which were given in May, 1956 to all pupils in grades 1 to 6 were very gratifying, for, as may be seen on charts in this office, in every instance, our grade level in Randolph is above the national norm.

The evaluation of our high school which is now in process will indicate any desirable changes in curriculum, staff or any other area and every effort will be made to conform with the recommendations in order that the youth of Randolph may be properly prepared for their chosen careers.

Our graduates continue to be accepted and to be successful in the best of the higher institutions of learning and in the business world. The greatly improved "spirit" in the student body of the High school has been most gratifying to see, for while it is one of those indefinable intangibles, it is, nevertheless, tremendously important in the operation of a happy, successful school. The increased interest in the high school affairs, both academic and extra-curricular, as evidenced for example by the much larger attendance at parents' night and by the outstanding activities of the revitalized Randolph High School Boosters Club, has served to let the administration, faculty, and students know that what they do is of great importance to the adults of the town. More of this adult interest and support at such affairs as the concerts, plays, and athletic contests other than football (which has been well supported) would be of great positive value to the morale of the participating pupils and to the faculty sponsors.

ENROLLMENT

The ever-increasing enrollment is, and will continue to be, one of the greatest problems facing the Randolph Public Schools because of the necessary increased expenditures for school buildings, staff, and supplies. The building of a great number of homes in Randolph, as well as the trend toward larger families has resulted in an increase of 69.4% in the school population since 1950. It is interesting, even though a bit shocking to note that the present first grade enrollment is exactly double that of 1950.

In my report of last year, I wrote of the fact that the opening of the new elementary school in September 1957 would help, but it would not solve the problem of where to place the children. As is commonly known, we shall not have the new building in 1957 because of the fact that bids for the same were opened on June 4th, and they were so much higher than the estimated cost that the contract for construction has not yet been awarded. Much has been said concerning the construction of a new building and I could go into the subject in great detail. Since there will probably be a special town meeting for the purpose of taking some action on a new school at which time all of the facts will be presented, I shall refrain from saying more about the matter in this report except to state that positive action must be taken immediately.

SCHOOL COSTS

The cost per pupil for 1955-1956 in Randolph was $195.28 as compared with a state-wide cost of $256.86 in communities of comparable size. These figures are those of the State Department of Education and they serve to indicate that in no way is Randolph excessive in the matter of school expenditures. Your attention is called to our "Financial Statement" which shows receipts of $191,- 958.62, a very helpful sum in reducing the total cost of the schools to the town.

STAFF

As a result of the establishment of a salary schedule which was on a par, or nearly so, with those of the neighboring communities with whom we compete for teachers, it was possible for Randolph to hold practically all of our teachers and to obtain as replacements, individuals who were very highly recommended by their superiors. The excellent performance thus far of these new appointees indicates that there is not yet a shortage of desirable teachers in our immediate area, IF we pay competitive salaries, and IF working conditions are made satisfactory. However it is becoming very difficult to obtain competent teachers of science and mathematics because of the salaries paid these people in industry.

In preparing the School Budget for 1957, it was necessary to again adjust the salary schedules effective in September, 1957, in order that we may continue to employ only the best persons possible to care for the educational needs of the children of Randolph. A great number of our faculty continue to do graduate work at the colleges and universities in the Boston area.

In 1955 it was necessary to create eight new teaching positions, in 1956, thirteen, and in 1957 at least eight more will be needed to provide for our steadily increasing school population. Our staff and student population are greater than many of our neighboring communities such as Sharon, Stoughton, Canton, Hingham and Plymouth and the operation of our school system becomes more and more complex each year.

During the year hundreds of persons have come to us with varying requests. Many of these were parents speaking on behalf of their children. In every instance, the final decision given was based upon years of study, experience and consideration of what was best for the child, the rest of the pupils and the staff. It is not easy to deny the request or plea of a parent, for most of us are parents and find ourselves in similar circumstances at one time or another, and so it is pleasant to be able to say "yes" but when in view of all the factors the decision must be "no," we try to render it with friendliness, sympathy and understanding.

An enterprise as extensive as ours could not be successful without the cooperation and teamwork of all concerned both within the system and without. Therefore I take this opportunity to thank the members of the School Committee, Mr. Lynch, my assistant, the principals, supervisors, teachers, clerks, custodians, cafeteria workers, parents, pupils, and the various town officials who have worked with me so well for the attainment of or objective —the education of the public school children of Randolph.

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL
RANDOLPH HIGH SCHOOL

History has a habit of repeating itself and in the case of the housing situation it is pretty much the same problem as existed six years ago. Because of the lack of space it was necessary to put grade eight on two sessions in 1950, and in 1951 grade nine through twelve were in session in the morning hours while grades seven and eight were operating in the afternoon, all in the old Stetson High Building. Needless to say, we weathered these conditions but it is a sad commentary that in such a situation it is only the pupils who lose out in a very vital period of their education. We believe it is close to fact to say that to curtail the pupils' hours from the normal six hours to four hours certainly must cause them to lose valuable time in their instruction period.

In 1953 we said, "We are fast approaching the time when serious thought must be given to the idea that the new building is not going to be adequate." It is common knowledge that as we approach 1957 the high school building is no longer able to hous the pupils scheduled to use the building and that our school will once again be required to use the two-platoon system. At the present time, the thinking is along the lines of double sessions for only the seventh grade, while grades eight through twelve will be on normal hours, but only if housing can be found for all of grades five and six. If this latter cannot be accomplished, there is every possibility that the numbers in the high school involved in the two-platoon plan will have to be increased to make sure that every child in the Randolph school system may have a place to sit somewhere in the system. In brief, the situation is serious and must be faced quickly and courageously by the citizens of Randolph.

Colleges are now experiencing the crowded conditions that are facing the public schools; there are more applications to all colleges than they can possibly admit. For example, in round numbers, the University of Massachusetts admitted in September 1200 freshmen from 8000 applications; Brown University, 1000 pupils out of 3000 applications, and Boston College 1500 out of 4000 seeking admission. All colleges are facing the same problem and it is figured that by 1960-61 there will be a torrential flood of applications which means that the colleges will be more and more selective in their choice of acceptances. it is therefore important that pupils who are planning on college should choose their college as soon as possible, as early as the ninth or tenth grade and then prepare, by long and constant study, for that college. In the not too distant future it is not going to be possible for every one who wants to, to go to college. Their high school grades must be tops and the college entrance board examination results must be higher. As a matter of fact in most colleges right now applicants who were accepted in 1946 would not even be considered at this time.

Randolph High School is a member of the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. This is an accrediting group similar to groups all over the country. Once every ten years each member school is required to conduct a thorough and complete self-evaluating study covering all phases of secondary school working. When this study is completed, a group of educators from various systems throughout the State will pay us a three-day visit to appraise the work the schools is doing in light of the study made by the school. Our school has been working for months on this study; it is expected to be completed in March of 1957 and the committee is scheduled to visit with us in April, 1957.

Because of constantly changing conditions, education must change to meet these new conditions, so we plan, as soon as the evaluating study is completed, to begin a curriculum revision study not only to consider what subjects should be offered but also what the subject content should be. This we expect will enable us to keep up with thee times and give the students better preparation for a complex and changing world.

During 1956 the second "Randy" awards were made to outstanding students for scholastic excellence. This is a plan, patterned after the theatrical industry's "Oscar" originated and carried out by Mr. Alvin M. White of the High School faculty. One outstanding student is recommended by subject teachers from all classes and all grades and these pupils are presented in assembly with a ceramic statuette "Randy" which was designed and made by high school students. This plan was enthusiastically received by the students and we hope the plan is doing its best to result in better achievement by more and more students.

The classes in reading which were started last year and so written about in our 1955 report, have had very great success and have been continued this year. Through these special classes in reading we have been able to help many students to improve their reading ability and since reading is so important for school work, we believe this too will eventually help some students achieve better classroom results.

Over the years, Randolph High and its students have been honored in one way or another. For two years in succession the State Association of Student Councils has signally honored us for outstanding efforts in improving the school in one of its many phases of endeavor. This year, however, the National Association made awards to fifty-four schools out of 7300 represented by student council organizations. Randolph High School was one of the fifty-four and the award was made on the basis of a program to improve school citizenship, good manners, habits of cleanliness and better attitudes, as well as the organization of a Boosters Club to improve school spirit. Our Student Council is under the capable direction of Mr. James Santry of the Commercial Department. We feel quite pleased about this because very few people know of the fine things most teen-agers do and the fine people the great majority of teen-agers are but too prone to classify these youngsters by the publicity given to the small group who go off the deep end.

One of our senior girls, Miss Helen Lerro, a member of the National Association of Future Homemakers of America, in which Randolph High School holds membership, was elected State President for 1955-56 and has been elected for 1955-57 as National Treasurer of the F.H.A. The local branch of the F.H.A. is directed by Miss Catherine Schomer of the Home Economics Department.

For the past three years our High School has competed statewide and nationally in two B.P.O.E. Scholarship and Citizenship awards and have been successful with winners all three years. Our crowning achievement was reached in 1955 when Donald Nelson was proclaimed a national winner.

Another of our seniors of June, 1956, Robert Fraser, successfully passed the NROTC examination which was administered on a national basis in all high schools in the country. Robert won a four year college scholarship in any college of his choice. In addition, Robert received an appointment to Annapolis where he now is.

1956 has been a difficult year, with increasing and more complex problems as the size of the school grows, but all in all, we feel it has been a good year and a satisfying one.

Principal, Randolph High School

GUIDANCE REPORT—1956

The Guidance Program is becoming more broad and comprehensive as the years pass. Many areas and types of problems are being met on an ever-widening scale, which includes full-time employment, college and school admission and all types of personal problems. During the past year over one hundred and fifty part-time jobs have been secured. This enabled our students to make many thousands of dollars to help go on to college and also to help at home. Our follow-up summary which is made each year shows no student among last year's graduates is unemployed.

Formal interviews are held each year with all students and as far as time permits a second formal interview is held. This alone is a major task when we realize we have approximately seven hundred students in the High School. Even more valuable interviews on a voluntary basis are held in the various areas mentioned above. A serious effort is made to keep abreast with the constantly changing trends in the Business, Industrial and College Admission Fields. This is done by regular attendance at guidance directors meetings, conferences at various schools and colleges, conferences with Deans of Admission, and Business Executives. The need of keeping in close contact with these officials is seen when we realize the numbr of those making appliaction for college is larger each year. Also, there are many changes taking place in the industrial world.

Our survey of last year's class shows we have graduates at such colleges as the United States Naval Academy, Bridgewater and Salem Teachers College, Northeastern University, Stonehill, Wentworth, Franklin Tech., New York State, Massachusetts General Hospital Nursing School, Quincy City Hospital, Boston College, Boston University, Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, etc.

The school is honored in having one of our graduates at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis. Forty-one students went on to schools of higher learning which represents 34% of the graduating class. This percentage is double the number of past years and does not include those going to night school.

Group Guidance Talks were held covering such areas as Engineering, Junior College work, Teaching, Electronics, Office Work, Nursing, Radio and Television, Science, etc.

At the Junior High School level Miss Good and Mr. Brennan start our Guidance Cumulative record cards and interview each student at least once. They also have group guidance classes once a week covering information on occupations, personality problems, etiquette, how to read, how to study, choice of high school subjects and other problems too numerous to mention.

We express our appreciation to the School Committee, Mr. Warren, Mr. Gilgan, and our counselors Miss Brennan, Mr. Brennan, and Miss Good for their valued assistance.

REPORT OF THE ART SUPERVISOR — 1956

It is the responsibility of the Art Supervisor to maintain a schedule of visits lay out an adequate art outline, review the work accomplished, and consider the needs of the future.

Seven school buildinsg, housing 68 class rooms, have been visited at two week intervals . . . except for vacation or no-school day sessions.

May 14th through May 18th was set aside as Art Festival Week when art work showing how art work helped in other studies, was featured in individual class rooms. One large Art Exhibit was also held in Stetson School Auditorium during this week.

American Education Week—Nov. 12 to 16 inclusive —six local merchants generously gave window space for the showing of school children's art work.

The Art Department aims to teach a basic knowledge of line, form and color . . . to quicken interest in observation and confidence to work creatively. Progress in any specialized work means looking forward, as well as reporting what has been accomplished. Such needs will be filled from time to time. However, to cope adequately with the present is the thing to do.

Thanks to the cooperation of those whom I serve, art in the Randolph Schools is always a pleasant task.

REPORT ON READING

Mary C. Gaughen, Barbara A. Conley, Reading Supervisors

It is with pleasure that we are able to make this report as the joint effort of two Elementary Supervisors in Reading in the schools of Randolph. As a result of the expansion of the reading department, we have been able to effect a program wherein more assistance can be given to the classroom teacher. This is done, first, in a supervisory capacity, which consists of constructive criticism, discussion of particular problems, and demonstrative lessons. Secondly, through special reading groups for individual instruction.

We are happy also, to report the results of the Stanford Achievement Test, which rates as one of the most difficult Achievement tests that is published. This test was given in May 1956 to the pupils of the second through sixth grades. The Reading results showed the median of the Randolph Schools to be one or more months above the national median. We feel this accomplishment is the result of good teaching, and the many materials we have been so fortunate to obtain, as aids for the teaching of reading.

In analyzing the results of this Achievement test, we have found the fourth grade could profit most from remedialy help. All pupils having an Achievement below grade level have been given a diagnostic test to determine their difficulties. Pupils needing remedial help are grouped according to their needs, and are given specialized instructions two or three times each week. We hope to bring these needing special help to their capacity level by the end of this school year.

Thus we are striving constantly to meet any problems or difficulties encountered by individual children, so that the best standards of reading can be maintained throughout the school system.

REPORT OF SCHOOL NURSES

HELEN F. CONLON, R. N.
SIGNE H. HEATH, R. N.

This report will endeavor to give a general idea of the School Health Program.

In the Spring first shots of Salk Polio Vaccine were given to children under fifteen years of age. In July 90% of this group returned to the clinic for their second shots. In September and October students between the ages of fifteen and nineteen were given first and second shots. Make up clinics were held at various times. All students will be given a booster to complete the series of innoculations.

Health examinations in grades 1-4-7 and 10 were completed by the school physicians. All students taking part in school sports were given health examinations. New students were given health examinations.

Twenty new names were added to the Physically Handicapped List. Nine children whose handicap prevented them from attending school were under home instruction during the year.

Screening tests were conducted periodically to determine whether children needed dental care, or medical attention for vision, hearing or speech. Parents were advised to have remedial defects corrected as soon as possible.

The senior class and school personnel were x-rayed in October by the Norfolk County Chest X-Ray Mobile Unit. There was no evidence of Tuberculosis.

The diphtheria immunization program under the direction of the Board of Health was started in December.

A record of all data pertaining to the health of each child is kept on file.

Results of School Health Services are sent to the Massachusetts Department of Public Health as requested.

In-service courses sponsored by the Department of Public Health were attended by the nurses.

REPORT OF

The enrollment of school children has increased so rapidly that the physical education program hasn't been able to match strides with the growth, resulting in a shortage of facilities and personnel. This year the necessity of using the gymnasiums in Devine and Stetson Schools for classrooms places an additional burden on the physical education personnel during the rainy days and winter months that necessitates keeping the children indoors. Physical education is limited in classrooms.

The sport activities in the High School for boys and girls have increased to such an extent that the facilities are limited both outdoors and indoors. The new football field will be ready for the coming Fall. New outdoor basketball courts have been completed and in use at the High School and Stetson School. The outdoor basketball courts at Devine and McNeil Schools have been extended in area. Plans are now being formulated for an outdoor basketball court at Belcher School and for backboards at Tower Hill School.

Play areas are necessary for the youth in the town and plans should be made by the Town Manager for recreational facilities that would take care of the youth in the different sections of the town.

Our concern should be for the normal average child who is neither good enough to be a championship team player, nor bad enough to be a juvenile delinquent.

In a meeting of the President's conference on the Fitness of American Youth, 140 conferees concluded that the declining state of American childrens muscles is a present danger and that quick and presumably enjoyable action is imperative to prevent the next generation from being unable to move at all.

"1. Total fitness means mental, spiritual and physical fitness.

2. The public must be made aware of the problems of establishing and maintaining fitness.

3. Fitness must be popularized and promoted among children.

4. Research on fitness is needed to decide what kind, how much, etc.

5. Schools should have ample time, equipment and personnel for physical education and focus more attention on the athletically untalented child rather than on the star.

6. Community recreational facilities should be increased and better use made of existing facilities.

7. All children must have periodic medical examinations.

8. Girls should have equal opportunity with boys of physical fitness." Physical Education is an important phase of the school curriculum required by law and should be treated in the same vein as academic subjects.

Director of Physical Education

REPORT OF MUSIC DIRECTOR

I would like to submit the following annual report for the year 1956.

I was appointed to the position of director of music effective April 16 1956. Through the cooperation of many teachers, principals and students, I was able to reorganize the music program and I am very grateful to all those who assisted me at that time.

The elementary vocal program has made excellent strides under the capable supervision of Mrs. Jo Ann Hodgkins. I have not been able to visit a great deal in the elementary vocal program due to scheduling difficulties. I would therefore like to include Mrs. Hodgkins' report to me in quotations.

"There has been a change in the vocal program this year, due to the increase in student enrollment. The supervisor meets with each of the sixty-nine classes once every two weeks instead of once a week as was the policy in previous years. This allows for a little longer period so that a more varied musical program can be presented. Each class period includes theory and rhythm activities as well as singing. Following procedures of other years, Glee Clubs made up of the Fifth and Sixth grade pupils have been formed in the two largest schools. Last Spring, the Stetson School Glee Club, along with members of the fifth and sixth grade classes, presented a musical program during a special week of parent visitation. During the Christmas season of 1956, both of the Glee Clubs performed. Due to restricted use of the auditoriums, they presented their programs in the form of a carol sing through the school corridors. In this way everyone in the school had the opportunity to see as well as hear them perform. Present plans call for a spring program in which all schools will participate.

Each school has been provided with a complete set of rhythm band instruments which have proven functional as well as enjoyable. Gradually the equipment in the schools is being brought up to standard. New books have been requested to replace worn-out copies of all editions. An auto-harp has also been requested so that the children will have some accompaniment to their singing. Singing classes are rather difficult at this level and age without accompaniment. Some records are available for classroom use, and it is hoped that there will be more available for future use."

The high school band played for the Memorial Day Parade, a Spring Concert and took part in a parade in June for the Amvets of Randolph. The band was taken to the Southeastern Music Festival in May, which was held in Needham. Several members of the band who excelled in playing ability were selected for the New England Festival and the SEMSBA band concert. This fall the band played for football games and sports rallies. From members of the brass section of the band a Brass Choir was organized. This new group was a part of the Christmas Concert. There are 42 playing members of the band and 14 Majorettes.

The high school chorus sang at the Spring Concert, the Southeastern Festival, and at Baccalaureate and Graduation exercises. The high school chorus was presented for the first time this year in the Christmas Assembly and at the Christmas concert.

The Junior band meets twice weekly. It performed in the Spring Concert, Memorial Day Parade, and in a special junior high music assembly in May. Several rehearsals were spent in marching practice this fall. In order to insure a knowledge of marching skills in the high school the fundamentals of marching must be taught in the junior high school. Since the band is smaller this year than last year, an effort has been made to have several junior high pupils start on the larger school-owned instruments to increase the size of the band and to complete its instrumentation. This fall the junior band performed at the Christmas Assembly of junior high pupils.

The Junior High chorus sang at the Spring Concert and was comprised of 150 voices. Several of these people having graduated from eighth grade last spring, are members of the high school chorus this year.

The elementary instrumental program is larger this year than in any previous year. There are over 150 grade school children taking lessons on instruments this fall, of which number about 100 are beginners. This instruction is open to all students in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. A weekly class lesson is given during school hours if possible. I was fortunate to acquire five practice teachers from the Boston University School of Music, to help me in the program.

Although they are doing a good job for the most part, they are mostly on their own and without supervision. I would like to observe their teaching more but I am not able to permit or find the time to do this. These five people are teaching one full day each week in the Stetson and Devine Schools. They are also assisting me with some junior high pupils who are beginning on instruments.

Next year this elementary instrumental instruction will have to be curtailed for it is at least twice as large this year as it was in 1954. The vocal and instrumental program has grown and the music staff has diminished in number.

The danger to future high school bands is evident. Without sufficient instruction in the grade schools it will be a matter of time until insufficiency in numbers will stop the growth of the high school band. It is not humanly possible for two full-time teachers to do justice to such a large music program. Until the time teaching assistance is obtained the instruction on instruments in the grades will have to be stopped. The only hope is that some grade school pupils will seek outside lessons in the meantime.

I would like to thank Mr. Warren and the school personnel for their fine cooperation during the year.

RAYMOND W. STEWART,
Director of Music

NO SCHOOL SIGNALS

By courtesy of the Randolph Fire Department, three blows repeated three times will be sounded at:

7:00 a.m.—No school all schools all day
7:30 a.m.—No school all day the first six grades
11:30 a.m.—No school — afternoon session in first six grades

The Junior-Senior High School will be in session every scheduled school day regardless of the weather. If transportation is tied up and the buses cannot operate on the streets, school sessions will be discontinued.

Elementary grades, one through six, may be discontinued if the weather is very bad.

By courtesy of WBET, WJDA, WBZ, WHDH, and WCOP Broadcasting Stations, no school announcements will be given by radio as near the local hours as is convenient and possible for the station announcer.

"No School" (grades 1 through 6) will be signaled only on cold, stormy winter days when safety and health factors are generally involved. Heavy rain at other times of the year will not be considered a cause for closing school.

In the final analysis, each parent can best decide whether or not to send his child to school on a stormy day. Individual factors of health, distance from school, available transportation, etc., can be considered in making the decision.

Please do not call the Fire Department as they have only one phone which must be kept open to be used for fire calls. Keep tuned to the above-mentioned radio stations, and you will be the first to know about "no school".

Report of School Planning Board

At the Annual Town Meeting, held in March, 1956, by nomination from the floor, nine citizens were named to serve on the Randolph School Planning and Building Committee, until the completion of the Vesey Road School. By subsequent motion, the total number of the committee was increased to seventeen, and the eight additional appointments were made by the Town Moderator.

This committee, composed of citizens holding no elective Town office, and serving without remuneration, replaces the former School Planning and Building Committee composed of thirty-five members, who had already served so efficiently, and who had laboured in the planning stages of this contribution to the Town's concern with its educational problem.

At the Special Town Meeting of 21 March, 1955, it was voted unanimously that the sum of $788,000.00 be raised and appropriated for the purpose of constructing, equipping, and furnishing the site development, a new 18 room Elementary School, on land already owned by the Town, off Vesey Road. In consequence of this mandate, the original committee proceeded with the planning, engaged the architect, and sent out the plans for bid previous to the taking of office by the present committee.

The first meeting of the present committee was held on 23, May, 1956. The bids for the construction of the new school were opened on 4 June, 1956. Only two bids were received, one for $1,184,477.00 by the Margill Construction Co., and the other, $1,234,500 by the Park Construction Co. Since even the lower bid was far in excess of the amount appropriated, it became the concern of the committee to enter into deliberations and consideration of what might be effected to bring down the cost of construction of this needed school within the realm of realization.

The architect of the building was instructed to incorporate all possible changes to effect cuts in costs. The site development architect was likewise instructed to pare down judiciously on this part of the project. Both architects agreed that this could be done and still possess a plan of maximum efficiency. It was determined to consider the site development contract as a separate contract. Many hours of careful study of the plans as well as the present and future needs of the school complex were put into the planning. The committee conferred many times with the State Building Assistance Commission whose approval of all plans is essential when school building with state aid is expected. The State Building Assistance Commission will furnish 50% of the cost of construction of this building project. Numerous visits to examine school construction in contiguous areas were made, and conferences with members of school building committees in adjoining towns were held.

At all times, close cooperation was sought and received from the School Committee, the Board of Selectmen, the Town Manager, the Town Counsel, school administrators, and the other affecting town agencies, with active participation in the deliberations of the committee at various times facilitating the integration of the planning.

At a joint meeting held with the School Committee, on October 17, the architects submitted their revised plans for construction. The revised plans were approved and forwarded to the School Committee for review, and then recommended to the Town Manager for submission to bid.

At a meeting held jointly with the School Committee, the Board of Selectmen, the Town Manager, and other administration officers, December 14, it was recommended that the revised plans be submitted for bid no later than December 28, and that a request be made of the Board of Selectmen that a Special Town Meeting be called within fifteen days of the opening of the bids to consider the problems of construction.

The Future-Building Sites Sub-Committee of the School Planning and Building Committee has been at work considering various parcels of land in the town to recommend for future school construction. Two sites have been selected, and after consultation with the Board of Assessors, and with the Town Counsel, two articles will be prepared for insertion in the warrant asking the Town to purchase or acquire by eminent domain the two parcels of land selected in the north end of town.

Since the committee has had to work without a budget of any kind, engineering surveys, borings, photographs, or professional advice have been impossible to obtain in the matter of future site consideration. The committee therefore recommends that a consideration of this item by the townspeople is pertinent.

Since, also, this committee is a recommending body only, having no powers of contract, or implementation of plans, it is most grateful for the valuable assistance rendered to it by all the Town officials and agencies who so generously cooperated with the committee to bring about a solution of our immediate school problem—the construction of the Vesey Road School.

To the Citizens of Randolph:

Your Board of Selectmen herewith submits its annual Report of the year 1956.

During the past year former Fire Chief Harold L. Bailey and former Welfare Agent Francis R. Gaffney passed away. Randolph has suffered the loss of two of its former public servants who excelled in efficiency, honesty and integrity.

This year your Board recommended many safety precautions among which were the installation of two-way radio which permits all vehicles, personnel and headquarters of the Police Department to have instant contact with each other, coverage of the Police Department headquarters so that the citizens may contact the Police Department at the office daily until 12 midnight, and the erection of many safety traffic signs such as "Go Slow", "Children", etc. and the installation of many new street lights in various areas of the Town. Relative to street lighting, two of the main thoroughfares, North Street and Union Street, lights of larger candle power have been installed, because of the many complaints received from citizens and the tremendous increase in traffic on these streets.

We have cooperated with all Randolph Industries who have sought our assistance.

We have recommended to the Town Treasurer the sale of tax title property when we have felt that the offer was justified.

Conferences have been held with the officers of the Randolph Little League and your Board has assisted this program to the best of our ability.

We have recommended to the Planning Board that in all new developments in the future that they urge developers to set aside some land for recreational purposes.

Rules and regulations for the Civilian Defense have been approved as requested by Colonel Ralph E. McLeod, Director of Civilian Defense, who has devoted hours of his time organizing patriotic citizens of the Community.

Your Board has been diligent in constantly urging the gravelling of many unaccepted streets, under Chapter 386, approved by the Town Meeting. We strongly believe that these taxpayers should have their roads made passable and have given our every efforts in this program.

A concrete step has been taken to bring up-to-date, a completed file of street layouts plans and it is the prediction of the Board that in the immediate future that this program will be completed and will be of immense benefit to everyone.

The Board of Selectmen have inserted in the Annual Town Warrant, articles of a serious nature that have been brought to our attention in various hearings by the citizenry effected.

A Resolution was adopted urging that all Randolph people seeking employment in the Town be given first preference.

Every attempt has been made by your Board to meet all problems squarely and to act impartially on all matters and to do and to act for the best interests of our Community.

To those who have assisted us, we wish to extend our deepest appreciation.

The RANDOLPH BOARD OF SELECTMEN

JOSEPH J. SEMENSI, Chairman

Report of Board of Public Welfare

The Honorable Board of Selectmen:

Randolph, Massachusetts.

In accordance with the General Laws of Massachusetts, the administration, during 1957, of the four Categories of Public Welfare, namely, Old Age Assistance, Aid to Dependent Children, Disability Assistance and General Relief, proved the busiest in recent years and demanded the utmost skill, application, and co-operation among the staff, Board members, and State Department personnel.

Major changes, effective during the second half of 1957, and mainly responsible for the resulting increased expenditures, consist of the following:

(1) Cost-of-living increase of 5.7%. Since 1947 the per cent increase in the maajority of the recipients' budgets for this item now totals 25.7%.

(2) Increased Nursing Home rates from $35.00 per week to a per diem rate of $5.75 ($40.25 per week.)

(3) Increased dental fees.

(4) Increased hospital and out-patient department fees. This varies according to the hospital and the out-patient department.

(5) Increased fuel allowance per individual budgets.

(6) Higher exemptions for legally liable relatives—sons and daughters. Where a child of a recipient of Old Age Assistance was required to contribute $30.00 per month towards his parents' support, the amount per month is now reduced.

In January, 1957 total case load (all categories) was 193. Old Age Assistance accounting for 163. Total expenditures for same was $17,291.00.

In December, 1957 total case load was 207, Old Age Assistance accounting for 167. Total expenditure for same was $22,386.00.

By case load and by expenditure, the category of Aid to Dependent Children during 1957 skyrocketed almost 100%.

Payroll and fiscal procedure and statistical reporting were radically changed. Much credit goes to the two clerks in the local Welfare Office for keeping abreast of the many changes and that if they were less capable and efficient, the Town of Randolph may have lost large sums of state and federal reimbursements.

On June 1, 1957 Miss Eileen R. Moynihan, Brockton, Mass., joined the local staff as Social Worker in accordance with Civil Service regulations. She is a graduate of Stonehill College, North Easton, Mass. and fulfills her duties very capably.

Respectfully submitted,

COL. RALPH E. MacLEOD, Chairman
MRS. LOYAL R. SAFFORD, Clerk
MR. WILLIAM J. LEAHY, Member

Report of The Planning Board

The Planning Board submits herewith the annual report for the year 1957.

With regret the Board received the resignations of Mr. Lawrence DeCelle, Jr. and Mr. Edward Berry. Both of great assistance to the Board in its many problems. gentlemen carried on their work ably and well and were

The firm Shurcliff, Shurcliff and Merrill have been retained by the Board to complete a full Master Plan Study of the Town and they are carrying out the study for which funds were provided at the Annual Town Meeting.

Building has tapered off to some extent in the Town during the past year. Part of which is attributable to restrictions on building because of water conditions. A new well has been found that will to some degree solve the water supply problem. Great Pond is being enlarged and deepened to enlarge the water storage area. Undoubtedly, the pumping capacity of the station and the water distribution system will both have to be enlarged before any permanent solution is found to the present water problem.

Several persons have asked the Board's position on new housing in the Community. The Board believes that the Town should have a controlled growth. That is, at a rate that will provide schools, roads, water and other municipal services, but at the same time not place an undue burden of taxation upon the present taxpayers of Randolph.

Randolph Planning Board,

LEO T. O'NEILL
JOSEPH CURRAN
RAYMOND WALL
MARNOLD TAGRIN
MICHAEL DIAUTO

Report of Business and Industrial Commission

To the Citizens of the Town of Randolph:

During 1957 the Business and Industrial Commission has been relatively inactive. Poor publicity, emphasising, and at times magnifying, the Town's liabilities was the reason for this inactivity. "To attract you must be attractive." Randolph was not made to look attractive in 1957.

In the job of this commission to sell Randolph, our selling efforts were limited to a few personal contacts and the continued mailing of our four page brochure. Meetings of out-of-town Industrial Development Groups were attended whenever possible.

During 1958 our selling job will be re-activated. To the assets Randolph has enjoyed will be sewers (construction to start this Spring on lines within Randolph, expected to be in operation late 1959); water, (a new well capable of yielding 1.5 million gallons per day will be in operation by early Summer if funds are made available); and State expressway construction will make Randolph more easily accessible to more people in the coming months.

During 1958 we will also renew our efforts to interest other townspeople, civic and political groups in the business and industrial future of Randolph.

Respectfully submitted,

LEO J. O'NEILL, Chairman
FRANK B. KESPERT, Clerk
FRANCIS BOURBEAU
HAROLD VROOM

I wish again to thank the Town Officials and the citizens of the Town for their cooperation during the past year, also the members of the department.

Respectfully yours,

CARLTON P. HARRIS,
Chief of Randolph Fire Department

Report of The Board of Health

The Board of Health respectfully submits its report for the year 1957.

COMMUNICABLE DISEASE REPORT

During the year 1957 the practicing physicians of the community have submitted 290 reports concerning communicable diseases or other conditions reportable to the Board of Health as follows: pulmonary tuberculosis, 9 cases; typhoid fever, 3; Salmonellosis, 4; chicken-pox, 57; German measles, 5; mumps, 18; scarlet fever, 13; dog-bite, 150.

The reporting of 9 new cases of active pulmonary tuberculosis during this year indicates the continuing nature of this problem in this Town of approximately 17,000 population. Arrangements have been completed for a tuberculosis case finding program. The procedure to be followed will be to do skin tests on the school population followed by x-rays and careful follow up study of all who show positive skin tests. Since a positive skin test indicated contact with the germ of tuberculosis it is intended to try to find the person or persons who are contacts of these "positive" children and who themselves are infected and responsible for infection of the child. Thus all persons in the family or otherwise closely associated with these positive children will be given the opportunity to be x-rayed. Through the cooperation of the Norfolk County Tuberculosis association, the Mass. Dept. of Public Health and the Personnel of the Norfolk County Hospital the program is first to be instituted in the 2nd and 11th grades during January of 1958. If feasible the program is to be extended later in the year under he auspices of the Board of Health to include all school children. Such a procedure will eliminate the great expense of and the objections to an initial mass x-ray screening program.

The typhoid fever cases were those of a single outbreak and were caused by contamination of food by a typhoid carrier. Through the efforts of the Health Officer, the agent, the family physician and the Public Health nurses and others closely associated with the problem the situation was brought under control and the carrier source of infection located, and preventive measures were instituted.

The salmonella fever cases constituted another family outbreak which through the efforts of the members of the Health Dept. and the family physician apparently was limited to the single family. The family was transient. Original infection did not occur in the Town of Randolph. Effective control measures were speedily instituted. The family shortly thereafter moved to another community where appropriate follow-up studies are being continued by others.

The minor childhood diseases, measles, mumps and chicken-pox are probably very incompletely reported.

Again this year the Board wishes to call special attention to the high rate of dog-bite reports. We wish to emphasize hat this is indicative of the serious problem which would face the physicians of this community should just one case of dog rabies be imported into this community. Simply because of the absence of rabies in this area during the past few years the people of Randolph must not become complacent about this problem. If an epidemic of rabies should occur among dogs of our relatively large dog population the indications are that many human cases could result, and much use of the relatively dangerous anti-rabies human inoculation would become mandatory. The way to prevent such an epidemic among dogs is to vaccinate the dog population while there is no rabies present. Again the dog owners of Randolph are urged to voluntarily go to their veterinarian and obtain anti-rabies inoculations for their pets. The Board of Health is gratified to learn from local veterinarians that there was an increase in dog vaccinations following the plea in last years town report. Please act immediately while this matter is fresh in your mind. Remember that human rabies is almost 100% fatal and a rabid dog does not know his master nor his master's children.

During January and February much of the immunization program for prevention of diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough was completed for all elementary and Junior High School pupils. All town physicians assisted in the inoculations and the Board of Health takes this opportunity to publicly thank them for their excellent cooperation. Randolph is one of few communities of the State to have such a high level of protection against these diseases. In the years to follow and starting during 1958 this high level will be maintained by inoculaion of children of the first grade and pupils of the senior class in high school. Protection of the senior class against diphtheria is especially important because some of the few recent cases of diphtheria in the U. S. have been in adults whose immunity has "worn off", the remainder were in un-inoculated persons.

Polio vaccination clinics were held in the Board of Health office for approximately 1500 pre-school children and persons 18 to 20. Also town personnel, by the local physicians assisted by the health officer, public health nurses, Miss Beatrice Scannell and Mrs. Janet Dimmick and the Health Agent. Clinics at the various schools were conducted by the school physicians assisted by the school nurses, Miss Helen Conlon and Mrs. Signe Heath, the Health Office and Health Agent.

Plans are being completed in conjunction with the Randolph Visiting Nurse Association for the inoculation of adults 20 through 40 years of age. This program is to be conducted without the support of public funds and it is anticipated that the Visiting Nurse Association will charge a nominal fee for the polio inoculation. It is hoped that this provision for a campaign to conquer poliomyelitis in this age group will meet with large success and that a large number of persons in this age group will obtain their polio shots.

Town employees were vaccinated in September by the Health Officer for Asian influenza. This was done when it appeared that an epidemic was imminent.

An epidemic caused by the new mutent influenza virus called "Asian" Influenza occurred in Randolph during the last week of October and the first week of November. Absenteeism from schools attained a peak of approximately 30% of school children during the last week of October. It is estimated that approximately 60% of the pupils enrolled in Randolph schools became ill with "Asiatic flu" during the course of the epidemic. Of great interest is the fact that the attack rate for older age groups was very much less than for the school children and very little absenteeism was reported from local industry or other adult fractions of the population from which information could be obtained. Widespread use of inoculations of a vaccine against this strian was reported by practicing physicians. No death were reported as attributable to influenza in this town.

PREMATURE INFANT PROGRAM

In accordance with the provisions of Chapter 601 of the Acts of 1949 reports of the live births of 32 premature infants were received by the board during 1957. Of this number there were ten births for whom financial assistance was required and given by the Board of Health. These 10 infants received 159 days of hospital care at a cost of $1441.56. In addition the Public Health nurses rendered care and parental instructions to all of these premature cases.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING PROGRAM

Miss Beatrice Scannel, senior nurse and Mrs. Janet Dimmick, junior nurse have cared for the sick in their homes, instructed in carrying out orders left by physicians, taught sound health measures to insure good care during illnes and preventing further illness in the home. They gave instructions and supervision to mothers before and after the birth of the baby and care of the new-born and older children. Reports of premature infants are received from hospitals and home appraisal visits are made at once. These babies are visited after their arrival at home by the nurses.

A well child conference is held once a month with a physician and two nurses in charge. Any child referred by a physician is followed as advised. This conference is sponsored by the RVNA and the Ladies Library Association and heretofore financially assisted by the Local Chapter of the American Red Cross provided services for 129 children and there were 350 visits at this clinic. Because of the lack of financial support to the local Chapter of American Red Cross, financial assistance for this clinic is no longer to be expected from this source. The Board of Health has included in its budget a sufficient amount under the item of immunization and clinic to enable the continuation of the public health aspects of this well-baby Conference. The public health nurses have been in attendance and have assisted at each session of this Conference and have been responsible in referring families in need of this sort of service.

Triple Antigen and boosters are given twice yearly at these clinics in series of 3 shots.

In-service courses conducted by State Dept. of Health were attended by both nurses. Certificates of training in disaster nursing were received. First-aid System Instructors Certificates were awarded to each nurse by Massachusetts Civil Defense Agency. One course was completed at the State Hospital School in Canton and the second at Sector 1B Headquarters, Stoughton.

Coverage in School Nursing at Boston School for the Deaf was continued all year by one of the nurses. This also included Polio vaccination of these handicapped children and Asian Flu shots were administered with their assistance. The time spent at all clinics during this year was time-consuming but beneficial to the Health of the Town.

The Board of Health wishes to thank, by the public medium of this report, the industrial firm which provided the vehicle which is used by our Public Health and Visiting Nurses. The original vehicle was donated by the Claff Foundation which is a charitable Foundation supported singly by the M. B. Claff and Sons, Inc.

The Board also wishes to thank, on behalf of the citizens of the Town, Good Brothers for their agreement to replace the vehicle at frequent intervals, as necessary, at no cost to the Visiting Nurse Association nor to the Town. This succession of vehicles which was made possible by the original gift of the Claff Foundation is saving the taxpayers of the Town a considerable sum of money which otherwise would have to be appropriated for this item of transportation of our nurses.

Crippled children and rheumatic heart patients are referred to Health nurses for follow-up and referred to appropriate clinics or rehabilitation centers.

The nurses urge tuberculosis suspects and their contacts of known tuberculosis patients to be x-rayed at Norfolk County Hospital clinic or in the office of private physicians, and to have reports returned to Board of Health.

All cases are followed as recommended by the doctors of clinics or by private physicians and are seen at least twice yearly. Case records are kept on all T.B. patients, suspects and contacts. Most patients are hospitalized at Norfolk County Hospital or a hospital at the place of "settlement" of the case.

All cases of communicable disease of major public health importance were visited by the nurses and techniques for the care of the patient and for prevention of spread of the disease were demonstrated.

ENVIRONMENTAL SANITATION

Considerable time was spent on nuisance abatement during the year. There were a few less complaints regarding overflowing cesspools. The Board is receiving good cooperation from the townspeople who realize the seriousness of the Public Health nuisance and source of disease. The last piggery in the Town of Randolph was closed on June 30. A public hearing was held during the year to pass on an application for a permit to operate a mink farm. The Board after careful consideration denied this request since the mink farm would have been located in a strictly residential area and because of the proximity of numerous residences to the potentially offensive business of mink keeping.

The refuse collection in the Town is administered by the Board of Health. Several meetings have been held with the Town Manager and the Contractor with a view to making the collection of rubbish and garbage as efficient as possible. The Town Dump has been used to its fullest capacity by the residents, merchants and manufacturers and others in the Town.

It is planned during this next year to spend considerable time surveying the sub-standard housing problem. This problem does not consist of blighted slum areas in the Town, but seems to consist of a house here and there essentially unfit for human habitation located between houses of above average condition. Owners of such substandard properties will be requested to raze or improve them to meet at least minimum standards for human habitation.

Ragweed and poison ivy control was accomplished by Mr. Joseph Hart of the Forestry Department in cooperation with the Board.

ANIMAL AND SLAUGHTER INSPECTIONS

Mr. Cornelius J. Crowley, Animal and Slaughter Inspector reported that as of Dec. 31, 1957 there were in the Town of Randolph 67 Cows and 41 Horses. During the year 149 dogs were quarantined as result of reported dog bites. Each of the quarantined dogs were visited daily for ten days to observe whether or not any symptoms of rabies developed. Fortunately none occurred. Had this occurred in any animal, the inspector would then report immediately to the Board of Health and to the physician caring for the person whom the dog had bitten, so that anti-rabies treatment could be started immediately. He would also send the dog away for special laboratory studies.

The attention of the townspeople is respectfully called to the fact that Mr. Crowley made 149 inspections of quarantined dogs who had bitten humans during 1957 in addition to his other duties.

PLUMBING INSPECTIONS

Mr. Thomas O'Riley, plumbing inspector issued more than 100 licenses. Fixtures installed included 181 toilets, 140 sinks, 165 wash bowls, 125 bath tubs, 63 wash trays, 6 showers, 3 dishwashers, 3 washing machines, 2 sink trays and 103 tankless. The sum of $1,071.00 was collected and turned over to the Town Treasurer.

MOSQUITO CONTROL

Mosquito Control is the responsibility of the Randolph Board of Health and the Control Project of which the Town of Randolph is a member. Their work is as follows: aerial spraying 700 acres, ground spraying 1174 acres, pre-hatch dusting 84 acres, drainage 2682 feet, culverts cleaned 2, catch basins treated 144 and clearing brush 1,925 feet. Repeated spraying resulted in an excellent level of control during 1957.

FOOD SANITATION

Visual inspection of food serving establishments and markets were made throughout the year. It has been gratifying to see the constant improvement in facilities and cooperation with the Board of persons engaged in this business. Funds have been included in the budget for two series of bacteriological swab testings of utensils used in restaurants, taverns, fountains and school cafeterias, to check on the efficiency of dish sterilization in these establishments.

The milk inspection program is performed by Henry Merrill, the Milk Inspector. Milk samples were taken from 8 distributors in the Town for bacteriological analysis, fat content, total solids and proper pasteurization. Licenses were issued as follows: 2 pastuerization, 42 store, 23 vehicle and 32 oleo.

REVENUE PRODUCED BY THE BOARD OF HEALTH

The sum of $382.00 from sewage disposal permits; from regular licenses $36.50; from hospitalization subsidies $1,931.36; from plumbing licenses $1,071.00 and from milk and dairy products licenses $71.00.

Report of The Trustees The Turner Free Library

HOURS OF SERVICE

Monday through Thursday— 2 p. m. to 8 p. m.
Friday—2 p. m. to 6 p. m.
Saturday—9 a. m. to 1 p. m.
(Closed on Sundays and all legal Holidays)

To the Citizens of Randolph:

In accordance with the provisions of Article III of the By-Laws for the Government of the Trustees of the Turner Library, this eighty-second annual report is submitted to show the condition of the Trust—the Building, Library and Funds—for the calendar year 1957 and to call attention to such other matters concerning the Library as may be of general interest.

Although the Turner Library building has served the Town of Randolph for more than eighty years, the Trustees believe it to be in reasonably good codition throughout. All necessary repairs and replacements have been made during the past year; and the skillful services and splendid cooperation of the Library's part-time custodian, Mr. Paul Anderson, have done much to improve and maintain both the physical appearance and the proper operation of the library.

Under the inspiration and experienced direction of Librarian, Mrs. Lucia S. Faulkner. the Trustees feel that remarkable progress has been made during the past year toward an up-to-date library service for our Town. The most notable changes have been mentioned in the Librarian's annual letter to the Trustees which is appended as a part of this report. Too numerous to mention, however, were other administrative changes and special features associated with rendering good library service. Among these are such items as the systematic mending of books, the loaning of magazines (back issues), the elimination of the highest bookshelves wherever possible (for the greater convenience and safety of the public and the library staff), the use of brighter lights, the special holiday decorations and book displays, the gradual addition of useful pieces of library furniture and equipment—some new, some used and some ingeniously created from discarded materials, but all clean, attractive and serviceable. All of these changes and special features and the many others that have taken place have contributed appreciably to the over-all success of the year's operation.

During the past year, Mrs. Faulkner has had several meetings with school principals, teachers and P.T.A. Groups. These meetings have presented excellent opportunities to point out how the Turner Library and its staff may assist in class and group projects as well as meet the reading and reference needs of individual children. The splendid cooperation of the educators and parents brought an immediate response from the children. It is clear that these school contacts should be continued and extended during the year ahead.

The Trustees wish to call the attention of all townspeople to the library's hours of service shown in the heading of this report. These particular hours, made possible by the Town's added financial support, were introduced in the spring of last year after a study of several weeks duration. Patrons have commented favorably on being able to use the library on Saturday mornings (as well as during the late-afternoon hours on other weekdays) when the library formerly was closed. The new schedule increases the library's hours of service from 19½ to 32 hours per week. This latter figure compares favorably with the total hours of library service in other neighboring towns.

During 1957, all but $18.43 of the Town's 1957 appropriation for library services was expended. The annual report of the Treasurer of the Library showing the receipts and disbursements as well as the investment of the Trust Funds as of December 31, 1957, is appended as a part of this report.

For the year 1958, the Trustees find that Library expenses will be increased due to the addition of a new staff member and to the necessary building repairs and maintenance but chiefly to the pressing need for books in all categories—adult, intermediate and juvenile, both fiction and non-fiction, including up-to-date reference material and a modern multivolume encyclopedia. Since books of all kinds are the library's stock-in-trade and its reason for existing and since our library currently fails to meet the American Library Association standards as to the number of "live" books available, the recommended expenditure of $5,000.00 for this purpose during 1958 is regarded as highly important.

At this time, on behalf of the Trustees I would like to express to Mrs. Faulkner and to all members of her staff—Mrs. Eunice Martin, Assistant Librarian; Mrs. Mae Saunders; Mrs. Dorothy Poehlman; and students Peter Briggs and George Sullivan—the sincere appreciation of the Library Trustees for the splendid work they have done during the past year. Their interest in and loyal contribution to the successful operation of the Library, attested by the library's greatly increased circulation, its growing number of borrowers and its favorable public relations, is gratefully acknowledged.

Respectfully submitted,

LAURENCE F. SHURTLEFF,

Report of The Librarian
The Turner Free Library

To the Trustees of the Turner Free Library:

With a feeling of very genuine gratitude and pleasure I submit the following report for the year ending December 31, 1957:

With nineteen and a half hours of service to the public increased early in 1957 to thirty-two hours, residents of the town subsequently witnessed and participated in many salutary changes. Sometimes as we, of the library, look about us we can scarcely realize we are in the same building, for by dint of the labors of every member of the staff we find such improvements as a newly-painted issue room; comfortable chairs and tables at our lovely stained-glass windows in areas where adults may browse quietly and comfortably; a hospitable spaciousness all around the issue desk where once a rather forbidding "fence" proclaimed, in effect, "Thus far and no farther." Darkening window blinds are removed; plants — and in season generous contributions of flowers — offer a cheering note in each room; a completely open-shelf system leaves our public free to wander through all the bookstacks, better-positioned, now, for daylight. Turner Library is using a maximum display system of book-arranging, rather than a "storage" system, whereby an unaware public might pass up many of their favorite titles. A large, new-gook-section is kept continuously filled, and bright jackets advertise more new books than meet the eye. Reservations are accepted for most books in the library with the further advantage of a telephone call when the desired books become available. On one side of the main area we find adult fiction arranged alphabetically by author; on the other side non-fiction arranged by the Dewey classification number, thus expediting self-service, as well as assistance from the staff.

Proof positive of the increased interest of the public in having library service, and of the Turner staff in helping them, was evidenced in the figures of books circulated. 1957 saw 25,510 books circulated as against 11,448 of the previous year—better than double! And part and parcel of this new activity was the issuing of library cards. Randolphians have become quite library-conscious, we find, for figures show that registrations zoomed to 1588 as against 814 of the previous year. Undoubtedly these figures reflected our efforts to strengthen the book collection by putting emphasis on acquiring a better-rounded and larger children's collection; a young adult collection per se; new adult books of both universal and specialized appeal and finally more of the reference requisites for any town library. Thus the beginning of 1958 finds Turner Free Library with a book collection of 22,014 volumes, and more arriving each day. Although 1327 volumes were discarded in 1957 because of impracticality of repair or unsuitability of content, 1433 books were added. This is merely a dent made in the material which should be added to this library; but such books as we have added have been eagerly received and gratefully used by our public.

Faithful to the promise to parents that Randolph children should have more adequate library service, Turner Free Library in September opened a new and charming Children's Room to take the place of their former inadequate "corner." The room-light, commodious, harmoniously furnished with painted furniture, plants, picture book stand and benches, modern bookcases and quantities of colorful books—has been the source of much joy and increased reading interest to the children, as evidenced by the surge in juvenile circulation. Best of all—the bulk of the furnishings has been a fairly unique example of the Do-It-Yourself school of thought!

My eternal gratitude is due the Turner Staff for their capable, interested and enthusiastic assistance, as well as to our many friends. Our esprit de corps is excellent, I feel, for the work has been gargantuan, and training in the professional end has had to continue right through a tremendous increase in borrower service. We, on our part, are conscious of the kindly, ever-interested and alert support of your Board. My invitation to the residents of Randolph is again warmly extended to come see us, enjoy the many books and meet and become better acquainted with the staff, each one of whom has a genuine interest in the reading tastes and aspirations of Randolph residents. My first year has been a wonderfully busy, fruitful and happy one. I anticipate that twofold in 1958!

Respectfully submitted,

LUCIA S. FAULKNER,
Librarian.

To the Trustees of the Turner Free Library:

In compliance with the requirements of the By-Laws, I hereby submit the annual report of the Treasurer of the Turner Free Library.

Report of Civil Defense

Board of Selectmen
Randolph, Massachusetts

1. Progress has been made in the development of the Civil Defense Organization during the past year, as follows:

a The last segment of the Air Raid Warning system is being installed on the Foley Buick Garage, in North Randolph. This will complete the alarm system for the Town.

b A definite training program is in effect in the Warden Service. Progress is being made in the enrollment of additional personnel.

c The Auxiliary Police for civil defense, meet each month for instruction under the direction of Chief McDonnell.

d For an efficient Auxiliary Fire Defense, an additional 100 men must be enrolled as auxiliary firemen, to receive training under the direction of the regular fire department officers.

2. Effective January 1st, the Randolph Ground Observer Corps observation post will not be manned around the clock, but observers will receive periodic training, and partitcipate in scheduled "alert" exercises.

However, while in "Ready Reserve" status the Ground Observer Corps will continue to perform its additional jobs of community and National service, to include reporting severe weather, unidentified flying objects, aircraft in distress, and nuclear detonations.

3. An efficient and effective Civil Defense Organization requires the interest, thinking, support and cooperation of all our town's people. To date we are far short of an efficient Civil Defense Organization, because of the general lack of interest. Civil Defense is a necessity. Let us recognize that fact, and volunteer our services.

Respectfully,

RALPH E. MacLEOD

Annual Report

of the

School Department

of the

Town of Randolph

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Members of the Randolph School Committee are elected by the voters of Randolph under the General Laws of the Commonwealth and are charged with the important responsibility of providing the best possible education for the youth of Randolph.

School Committees in Massachusetts are, in general, State Committees, carrying out the conduct of education as delegated to them by State Legislatures under the General Laws. They have acquired a substantial degree of independence from local government through judicial interpretations. Members of the Randolph School Committee serve without pay. They meet twice a month in regular sessions, as well as many additional special meetings, study conferences, and research activities. Policies that are administered by the Superintendent of Schools are formed by the School Committee. The principal duties of the School Committee may be summarized as policy forming, budget making, personnel appointments, approval of curricula and textbooks, planning of school services and evaluation of the educational program. The powers of the School Committee are vested in the Committee as a unit.

Because of the over-taxing of classroom facilities it was necessary in 1957 to institute double sessions in certain grades of the Randolph School system. Unless steps are taken at once to provide additional classroom space the undesirable double session plan will expand to other grades. The completion of the Vesey Road School will provide some relief, but not sufficient to eliminate the so-called "half-time" pupil from our rosters. Parents and tax-payers should realize the unwanted conditions that result when double sessions are adopted. They should vigorously support a building program to provide ample facilities for the fast growing school population of the town.

To strive for competency in our teaching personnel and to avoid the inroads made on desirable teachers by other communities, the salary schedule for our teachers was increased to a degree which will minimize those inroads and will permit the selection of new personnel of high calibre.

This year, and for the first time, Randolph has received monies from the Federal Government under Public Law 874. Checks totaling more than $20,000. have been received. Appreciation is extended to our administrators and to the parents for the cooperation given.

Citizens are urged to read and study the various reports herewith submitted by our administrators and department heads.

We observe with regret, the resignation of Dr. William F. Maguire from the School Committee. Dr. Maguire served on the committee for nine years. His contributions in faithful and diligent service to the Town are sincerely appreciated by the Committee.

Mr. P. Raymond McGerrigle was elected to serve the balance of Dr. Maguire's term. Mr. McGerrigle's educational and civic background will be of great benefit to the Committee and to the Town.

We express our appreciation to the Superintendent of Schools and his staff of administrators, to the teachers, clerks, custodians and all personnel for their cooperation and loyalty.

The School Committee realizes that a school system is as good as the citizens of a community want it to be. We are sure that the citizens of Randolph want their school system to be a fine one. That task is never-ending. Your comments and criticisms are always welcome.

ANNUAL REPORT OF
THE SUPERINTENDENIT OF SCHOOLS—1957

To the Members of the Randolph School Committee and all other Citizens of Randolph, I herewith submit my annual report as Superintendent of the Randolph Public Schools.

The primary deterrent to the proper education of the pupils of Randolph is the lack of classrooms and auxiliary facilities. Approximately 1100 pupils are now attending school on an 80% basis, and those of grades 6, 7, 8, will probably have no different arrangement for the remainder of their public school education. We are only too familiar with the difficulties which these "double-sessions" have caused, not only in the schools but in hundreds of homes of those involved. Every effort has been made to be completely objective and impartial in deciding what groups should be on part time, and at what times they should attend. Once these decisions had been approved, no exceptions were made in order that all persons would be treated the same.

A new Junior High School is absolutely essential at once if we wish to give the pupils of grades 7-12 the opportunity of obtaining a complete secondary education.

A careful reading of the entire school report will familiarize all citizens with the entire educational program, and in order to supplement this information, the Randolph School Committee approved the establishment of a quarterly publication "Our Randolph Public Schools", the first issue of which was distributed in May. Because of the fact that this paper is composed and printed for us by the Waltham Trade School, our cost is very low, for we pay only for the paper stock used.

All Randolph personnel who participate in the preparation of the bulletin do so voluntarily, and on their own time. I am very grateful to the Editor, Mr. Stephen E. Hart, Principal of the Stetson School, and the other members of the staff for their work.

The immediate concern of all newcomers to Randolph who are parents, and in the past few years there have been thousands, is the quality of the public school education which their children will receive. We have factual data to prove that all pupils are afforded an excellent educational opportunity, and where there is mutual cooperation, faith, and understandings, on the parts of the parents, pupils and teachers, the best possible results are obtained. As a result of the School Committee's having established a salary schedule which is competitive with those of neighboring communities, we are able to be highly selective in the appointing of teachers.

In order that our teachers may continue to be aware of all worthwhile advances in education, we carry on a continuous program of in-service training. During the past year, workshops in reading, arithmetic, and science, have been held and all teachers meet weekly in various groups to plan for any worthwhile improvements in our curriculum, at both the elementary and secondary levels. In addition, a great many of our teachers and administrators are taking courses at the graduate level in order that they may be better fitted for the tasks before them.

Since it is essential that we be cognizant of costs as well as the value of the educational program, we are pleased to report that even though our standards are high, our per pupil cost for the past year was $223.00 which is $40.00 less than the median cost for 64 towns of Massachusetts with a population greater than 10,000. Of the 64 towns, sixty had a higher per pupil cost. Despite this economy of operation, the school budget continues to increase year after year, because of a number of factors, such as the constantly increasing school population, the increased costs of all educational supplies, and necessarily increased salaries.

You may see our school population growth by reading the statistics on another page. Please note that since the year 1950, we have increased from 1989 pupils to 3585, and by next fall, we'll have approximately 3900 students. Notice further that the high school enrollment is already double that of 1950, and that of the junior high is more than two and one-half times as much in the same period of time.

Obviously this growth necessitates a much greater staff and increased expenditures for books, and supplies, which constantly cost more. Adjustments in the teachers' salary schedule are an absolute necessity, in order to maintain a highly qualified staff, and to enable us to fill vacancies and new positions with the best of the available teachers.

The continued interest and growth of the Parent-Teachers groups at the various schools is gratifying and commendable for only by working together is it possible for us to bring about a complete intellectual development of the young people of Randolph.

During the past year, the Lord has, in His infinite wisdom, taken from our community two persons who, for a great many years, gave their utmost to pupils of the Randolph Public Schools. Mrs. Anna McCann, teacher of Latin in the High School since 1932, and an active member of the faculty until her death, passed away on May 4, 1957. Her presence and influence for good upon the students, as both a classroom teacher, and as the school librarian, are greatly missed.

Mrs. Elizabeth G. Lyons, a teacher in the elementary schools, taught from 1921 until her retirement in 1946. Her faithful and successful work with the elementary pupils of the town for a quarter of a century will be remembered by staff members and hundreds of her ex-students.

Your attention is called to the policy regarding "No School" on stormy days. Each school day costs the taxpayer many thousands of dollars, and the cancellation of a day's session is not to be taken lightly. The ultimate decision and responsibility for a child's attending or not attending school, should be made by the parent who alone is fully cognizant of all circumstances involved.

Within a period of a year, the Randolph Public Schools will have lost the services of three gentlemen who without remuneration have given a total of twenty-four years of their time and energy in the interest of the educational welfare of the people of Randolph. Regardless of what community it may be, or who the committeeman or woman might be, we are usually all too unappeciative of the hundreds of hours which school committee members give in the interest of the school children. This has been particularly true in Randolph because of the tremendous growth of the school population in the past ten years.

Mr. Clark Freeman retired from the committee in March, 1957, after having served from 1951 to 1957.

Dr. William F. Maguire resigned from the Committee, terminating nine years of continuous and diligent service.

Mr. Murray Lewis, Chairman of the Board for the past two years, and with the exception of the year 1954 a member since 1948, has announced his retirement with the termination of his term in March, 1958.

These gentlemen served as Trustees of the Stetson Fund and on various committees in conjunction with school building and educational matters. Their contributions to the pupils, faculty, and administration of the Randolph School Department are appreciated.

I wish to express my heartfelt thanks and deepest gratitude to the Town officials, the members of the School Committee, the School Department, the parents, the pupils and all of the other citizens who have cooperated so well in helping me to carry on my duties.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS L. WARREN

REPORT OF THE HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

Perhaps the most important item to report is that the constant increase in high school population is a national trend and not strictly local and that this trend is to continue for years to come. Where years ago a grammar school educatio for most would suffice, today a high school diploma is a must; therefore, more students are entering high school and more remain for graduation. The results of this are twofold: we are faced with a less homogeneous group and the secondary school is becoming more of a common school.

This increase trend locally has reached the point where it was necessary to put the seventh and eighth grades on shift, grade seven going to school in the morning and the eighth grade in the afternoon. We expect we can function under this same arrangement during 1958-59, but beginning '59-60 some other plan will have to be used because of even larger enrollment. At this time it looks as though grades nine through twelve will have to go to school in the morning and the seventh and eighth grades in the afternoon.

One most significant accomplishment during the fiscal year of 1957 was the completion of the Evaluation Survey Program under the supervision and direction of the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. This was a most valuable experience by all concerned, as the survey was done in two parts: first, a self-evaluation by the staff of the school itself and second, a visitation by a group of educators appointed by the New England Council. This visiting group made their own survey, evaluated the self-evaluation and then made a final report of their findings. This final report is far too lengthy to print here, but for public information we wish to say that the columns of the quarterly bulletin of the Randolph School Department have been made available to us so that the report in detail will be made public in this organ in four instalments, with the hope that it will be widely read. To publicize the makeup of the Evaluating Committee which visited us, we list the names of the committee:

Patrick J. Murnane, Chairman, Principal, Newburyport High School.

John F. McGovern, Supervisor, State Department of Education.

Grace H. Lapworth, Head, Commercial Department, Whitman High School.

Marion Sullivan, Head, English Department, Cohasset High School.

Raymond T. Ethier, Language Department, Cohasset High School.

Edward B. Colbert, Guidance Director, Watertown High School.

Genevieve Wheeler, Homemaking Department, Haverhill High School.

Joseph Chicetti, Industrial Arts Department, Westwood High School.

Alvah Raymond, Mathematics Department, Weymouth High School.

Fred James, Director Physical Education, Framingham School Department.

E. T. Peterson, Science Department, Dedham High School.

William Rathbun, Art Supervisor, West Bridgewater High School.

Joseph E. Boothroyd, Social Studies Department, Waltham High School.

For the most part, the findings of this committee came as no surprise to us, but merely pinpointed our strength and weakness, in areas of which we were aware.

One of these items was curriculum revision. We had planned a study of our curriculum and its possible revision but there was a question of either this curriculum study or the evaluation program and since we could not do both, it was decided to do the general evaluation while the school was still on single session; then the curriculum would be placed under scrutiny. This study is now under way and is expected that at least one year or more will be needed to make an exhaustive consideration of this matter, always keeping in mind the basic philosophy and purpose of Randolph High School, and we quote:

> "To make possible an efficient, democratic life in the environment which society now provides and, also, to furnish the desire and means for gradual improvement of this environment. Our purpose in education is to develop in each individual the knowledge, interests, habits and powers whereby he will find his place in life and use that place to shape both himself and democracy towards higher goals."

We plan to seek advice from colleges, business, lay people, pupils and experts in the various fields to help us to build a curriculum which will better enable us to do the work which has to be done. Also included in the curriculum study will be a consideration of the course of study, the content of materials to be taught in each subject. We intend to include a study of how television will fit into our plans for the future. All of this will take time but the project is under way and progress is being made.

In making its final report, the Evaluation Survey Committee stresses the point that although some things can be done immediately, the overall situation suggests that the report carries long range implications. Things that can be attended to at once are being done, while the others will be done when time and room allows. For example, the library had been used for the past three years as a classroom, with little emphasis on the real library purpose of the room. With the partial double shift now in use, it was possible this year to use the library as a library and it is now in full operation with more than satisfactory results.

We hear much lately about Science and Mathematics in the schools throughout the country in light of scientific developments and the fact that not enough scientists and engineers are being produced. Many ideas are being talked about to remedy this situation, all the way from crash programs down, but we must always try to keep in mind our sense of values, our purpose and philosophy of education. Science and Mathematics are very important, but so are other phases of our educational system, if we are not to lose sight of the fact that we deal with all sorts of young people, with a wide range of vocational interests and abilities. Industry is always seeking new methods to increase efficiency and get better results. Successful methods are kept, others discarded. So, too, with education. We are always trying to improve and if a plan does not work out, it is dropped and another substituted.

We are confident that our present investigation of ourselves will bring better results, not only in the field of Mathematics and Science, but also in Music. Literature, History and all other subjects which will help us develop balanced persons with more permanent interests and values. We believe we should strive to give as many high school pupils as we can a sufficiently solid foundation upo nwhic hto build some worth-while career. We believe we should provide the means to give for all a broad, liberal general education which will give our graduates the modern concept of the various worlds in which we live. Then we should encourage by various means those who have the ability and aptitude for specialization in the many vocational areas which these various worlds open up to them. No matter what field of endeavor a student decides upon, we should stress thought, not memory. All of this we strive to do, with the means at our disposal.

HUBERT F. GILGAN.

GUIDANCE REPORT — 1957

The past year proved to be an interesting and challenging one in the Guidance field. The problems are becoming more complex and varial along with the great developments in science and increase in population. Our enrollment climbed to 814 in grades 9-12 which is an increase of 59 per cent, since 1952 when we had 478 students. It points to the need of at least another half-time counselor.

During the past year talks were presented by outstanding experts in such fields as engineering, teaching, government jobs, military careers, science, social work and many others. The talks were by men and women actually working in the fields they covered. They were able to explain the requirements and opportunities together with the good and bad points of each particular job. In addition to this service the Guidance Department has a file of several thousand pamphlets on occupations. Still more information is available through the Science Research Service to which we subscribe.

Our Junior Class took vocational tests administered with the cooperation of Boston University. These tests showed mechanical and clerical aptitude with an interest inventory showing fields of interest such as personal, social, outdoor, farming, art, etc. Also a reading score was attained and an I.Q.

Seniors going into the labor market were tested in cooperation with the Mass. State Employment office in Brockton. The tests showed general learning ability, verbal aptitude, mechanical aptitude, Spatical and form perception, motor coordination, finger dexterity, and manual dexterity.

A follow-up study of our class of 1957 shows 36% of the class has gone on to school and there is no one unemployed. The percentage going on to school is very high when we consider the large number of college bound students attending private schools in this area. We have never had a student with a B average who was denied admission to college. It is of vital importance for students to realize that C is no longer a satisfactory mark for College Admissions.

The emphasis in the future will be upon skill, and those who are not educated or trained will find themselves at a disadvantage. The reason is simple. The new automatic machinery requires much more skill to produce, install, operate, and service. From idea and drawing board to operation and maintenance, it is demanding more training and experience. To illustrate how early the counseling job has to begin, let us consider a few facts.

The year 1965 seems a long way off, but the critically important technical workers we will need to meet our manpower needs in that year are already well along in the educational pipeline, at the points where they have to make key decisions about their education and training.

The engineering graduates of the class of 1965 entered high school this fall. Unless they chose mathematics, science, and other courses that help them enter college and study successfully in the technical fields, they will be unable to prepare for engineering. The 1965 class of teachers also entered high school this fall. The physicists and chemists, the doctors and dentists who will begin their professional work in 1965 are already in their junior or senior years in high school.

The nurses who will care for the ill, 8 years from now will enter High School no later than the fall of 1959.

This then must be our goal, as individuals and as a people: the greatest possible opportunity and incentives for every Randolph High Student to develop and utilize to the fullest, the special talents with which God endowed him.

We wish to express our appreciation for the loyal support accorded us by the School Committee, Supt. Warren, Asst. Supt. Lynch, Mr" Gilgan and the counselors and teachers.

JOSEPH W. DALY

REPORT OF THE ART SUPERVISOR—1957

Owing to the increase in the number of classes to be visited, and the Platoon System, it has been necessary to adopt resourcesful measures this year to fully cover the field. However, a program was successfully worked out whereby all classes have been visited regularly and a definite schedule of visits followed.

Your Supervisor has endeavored to keep abreast of the times by attending Art Conferences, Art Exhibits, maintaining memberships in Art Organizations, and by subscribing to Art Magazines.

As a nucleus for an Art Library at some future date prints of famous paintings have been purchased. With the rapid increase of population in the town of Randolph and the corresponding increase in the number of school teachers, it is important that headquarters be established where the supervisor may display current work of pupils, where reference books and magazines pertaining to her subject may be kept for reference and consultation given at certain scheduled times.

A friendly and cooperative spirit is evidenced throughout the School System . . . making Randolph a very excellent place to work.

REPORT ON READING

Mary C. Gaughen, Barbara A. Conley, Reading Supervisors

It is with pleasure that we, as supervisors, submit our annual report on Reading in the Randolph Elementary Schools.

We are happy to report that the Achievement in Reading, for the town of Randolph, exceeds the national norm at every grade level by several months. This national norm being based upon the test results of over three hundred thousand pupils of communities of various sizes from all over the country.

However, we are always alert to methods of improvement for the teaching of the skills of reading, and, therefore, after careful study and investigation of the results attained by schools, throughout the country, using the Hay-Wingo program, we have inaugurated this program in grades one, two, and three in the Randolph school system.

This new phonics program has been organized, so that, each teacher spends at least fifteen minutes each day on teaching phonics, through auditory and visual discrimination. The final goal being to apply these phonetic principles to the area of spelling, and to the reading program, as an aid to word perception.

The supervisors working closely with the teachers, have concentrated much of their efforts on bringing about the success of this phonics program through numerous classroom demonstrations, conferences with teachers for suggestions concerning supplementary work, small individual group intructions, and follow-up observations.

With the addition of new teachers to the staff, considerable time has been spent with them in planning the basic reading program. This planning included: formation of reading groups and the reading level of each; instructions in the use of teachers guides; explanation of the use of workbooks; and discussions concerning enrichment activities.

We feel confident that Randolph has maintained, and is continuing to maintain a high standard of scholarship in reading. Through supervision, professional improvement, and in-service training of personnel, we strive to exemplify the best in education.

REPORT OF SCHOOL NURSES—1957

Our School Health program, despite the tremendous increased population, has tried to make every possible effort to the continuing health and welfare of its pupils by having conducted the following health services during the past year.

The school doctors examine all children at specified intervals during school life. The findings and subsequent corrections of the defects are recorded on health records, as well as other findings pertaining to the child's health. About 30% of the first grade children had a health examination by their family doctor before entering school in September. The doctor who knows the child from birth makes available to the school a record of the child's health, past and present, with recommendations for follow-up care.

The teacher's continuous observation, recognizing symptoms, appearances or changes in behavior is most important.

Accidents and sudden illnesses are given immediate care. Parents are notified and transportation arranged. This care is limited to first-aid. Further treatment is given by child's own physician. Children with symptoms of a communicable disease are excluded from school. A physician's certificate is necessary before child re-enters school.

A yearly report and follow-up of handicapped children is made and their special needs are made known to the school personnel. Home tutoring for those unable to attend school is arranged.

Vision and hearing screening tests were given to all pupils.

The polio Immunization Program was continued throughout all grades. In order that all the children would receive full protection against poliomyelitis, small clinics were held periodically until school closed in June. About 95% received three inoculations. Volunteer doctors and nurses worked together in the large clinics.

Diphtheria and Tetanus booster inoculations were given in grades 1-8 to children having parental consent. A number of pupils who had never been immunized received complete immunization at this time.

Asian Influenza vaccine was given to school personnel in October as recommended by the Board of Health.

In conclusion we would like to state that only with cooperation of the home and the community can our schools attain all the desirable goals of individual health.

HELEN F. CONLON, R.N.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

Each subject in the school curriculum must be in accord with and contribute toward the all-inclusive purpose of education. This all-inclusive aim of education is to facilitate that optimal growth and development of each individual which will afford the maximum adjustment to his physical, mental and social situations today and in the future.

The tremendous growth in our school enrollment has created a problem of more physical education personnel necessary to teach the boys and girls, more faciities necessary for expanding their energies. Faciities are necessary for boys and girls in the schools, for intra-mural program after school hours and adult recreation in the evenings.

One of the biggest problems confronting the planners of recreational facilities today is the dwindling amount of surplus space available for the construction of new sports and recreation facilities. Every community must make provisions for the future now. With leisure time increasing every year, there is a definite danger that Randolph will be without adequate recreational opportunities in another decade unless action is taken now to preserve play space.

The Physical Education Department intends to conduct a physical fitness and proficiency test for every boy and girl in the entire school system. These tests are intended to stimulate the interest and effort of boys and girls toward physical fitness by providing progressive tests of speed, strength, ability and endurance as standards against which they may match their abilities and their progress.

Physical fitness tests will not in themselves make a boy or girl physically fit, but they will provide incentive and the challenge to them to improve their physical condition once they have the courage to match themselves against the standards and are brought face to face with their shortcomings. Furthermore, the opportunity to measure their physical capacities by competing only against standards will offer much less resistance than having actually to compete against superior performers. The United States Army basic field manual on physical training says, "The only way a comparison can be made between a standard to be reached and the ability of an individual is by tests. Tests have a very important place in any physical training program."

Boys and girls in sports are better for a community than boys and girls in courts.

JOSEPH J. ZAPUSTAS,
Director of Physical Education.

REPORT OF MUSIC DIRECTOR—1957

I would like to submit the following annual report for the year of 1957.

This year in the elementary schools there are 77 classes that must be visited by the elementary music supervisor. This is an increase of 8 classrooms over last year. Scheduling of music classes is still however accomplished on an every two week basis. Besides instruction in singing, other areas of music education are made available to classes. Rhythm band, theory and record listening afford a rounded experience for all elementary classes. Classroom teachers are encouraged to use new methods of musical instruction and also to develop their own potential as better teachers of music. The strength of a good elementary vocal program is dependent on the classroom teacher. I am very pleased to say that we have a large majority of teachers in Randolph that are doing fine work in the teaching of music.

During the Spring of last year an elementary vocal and instrumental concert was held at the high school. All grade levels from the elementary schools took part in this program. Mrs. Jo Anne Hodgkins directed the vocal groups. This was her last public appearance in Randolph as she resigned shortly thereafter. All were very sorry to see her leave as she had done excellent work in music education in the grade schools.

In September of this year, the elementary music supervisor position was filled by Miss Marie Sansone of Quincy. In the short time of her employment, she has demonstrated a remarkable ability with the children as well as the teachers. Through her efforts the Auto-harp has been introduced in the schools. It is a decided advantage for accompaniment to classroom singing. Miss Sansone assisted in the development of Christmas programs in several schools this year. She is also directing the Junior High 7th grade girls' glee club, and the 8th grade girls' glee club, which will be heard later this year in a special junior high concert in April. We welcome Miss Sansone to the faculty and hope that her stay will be a long and happy one.

For the first time last year, the elementary band marched in the Memorial Day Parade. The band numbered 90 members from the 4th, 5th and 6th grades.

The high school band played for the Memorial Day Parade, the Spring Concert and was also seen at various other times during the school year. This fall the high school band played at all the football games at home and away. This is the first time the high school band has played for all football games. Several new groups have been organized from the high school band. A Clarinet choir, a 15-piece dance band, and a German band have been meeting after school hours. These groups will be heard in concerts in the near future. Several members of the band who excelled in playing ability were selected for the Mass. State Festival and the SEMSBA band concert which was held in Middleboro. The band also took part in the Southeastern Music Festival in May, which was held in Weymouth. There are now presently 38 playing members of the band and 14 majorettes.

The high school chorus sang at the Spring Concert, the Southeastern Music Festival, at Baccalaureate and Graduation exercises. The chorus was also heard in the Christmas Assembly program at the high school. Many members also took part in the Mass. State Fesetival and the SEMSBA choral and band concert. The chorus at the present time numbers 75 selected voices.

Because of the double sessions in the junior high this fall, the junior band holds night rehearsals at the high school on Mondays from 6:30 to 8:30. This is the only way that these people can be seen for rehearsal. The band is preparing a special Spring Concert for junior high only with the hopes of raising enough money to buy new junior high band uniforms. This concert will present the band, junior girls choruses and junior boys chorus. The junior high band also played for the Thanksgiving football game this year which was a new experience for them.

I would like to thank Mr. Warren and all the school personnel for their fine cooperation during the year.

NO SCHOOL SIGNALS

The "no school" policy followed by the Randolph School Department is in the interest of the welfare of school children in health and safety. The calling off of schools depends not only on weather conditions, at the opening time of school, but also on the condition of sidewalks and streets.

Parents are encouraged to use their own judgment on stormy days because they are in a better personal position to judge the adequacy of child's clothing for facing the elements.

The "no school" signals in effect in the public schools are as follows:

Fire Signal Box 3 repeated three times at 6:45 a.m. will indicate "no school" for grades 7-9-10-11 and 12 all day.
Fire Signal Box 3 repeated three times at 7:00 a.m. will indicate "no school" grades 1 through 6 all day except those pupils attending the afternoon session.
Fire Signal Box 3 repeated three times at 11:00 a.m. will indicate "no school" for grade 8 and for those pupils of grades 4 through 6 who do attend the afternoon session.

Radio announcements will be made from stations WBET (1460), WJDA (1300), WCOP (1150), WBZ (1030) and WHDH (850), at 6:45 a.m. and 11:00 a.m.

PLEASE DO NOT CALL THE FIRE DEPARTMENT. Keep tuned to those radio stations and you will be the first to know about "no school."

Report of School Planning and Building Committee

The new 14 member School Planning and Building Committee as appointed by the Town Moderator, at the direction of the Town Meeting in March 1957, released from contract the original architect, at a cost to the town of $53,697.00, because the first two bids submitted on his specifications and drawings were in excess of $1,000,-000.00, far exceeding the $78,000.00 raised and appropriated at the direction of the vote at the Special Town Meeting on March 21, 1955.

The plans and specifications for a 540-pupil school, to consist of 18 classrooms, a cafeteria, physical education room, two all-purpose rooms, library, conference room, a health suite, teachers' room, principal's office, and several storage areas, were submitted by the firm of Korslund, LeNormand & Quann for approval to the School Building Assistance Commission and the School Committee. Their approval released the school for bid and the bid was awarded on October 11, 1957 to the J. L. Marshall Company, Inc., whose low bid was $562,550.00. The estimated architects' fees, landscaping and furnishings will bring the total to approximately $705,000.00. The bid was the lowest of bids ranging from $552,550.00 to $634,150.00.

This figure constituted a saving of approximately $500,000.00 over the bids received on original architect's plans. Work has been started and is proceeding satisfactorily toward an estimated completion date of October 1958.

Report of The Town Counsel

To Robert A. Hancock

Town Manager
Town of Randolph

Monday nights during the year are generally devoted to the Selectmen's Meetings, and the other nights during the week you may find me in attendance at meetings of the Planning Board, School Building and Planning Committee, Finance Committee, and in consultation with other department heads.

Court litigation has touched on such subjects as suits on account of land takings, appeals from Planning Board directly to the Superior Court, suits concerning welfare matters, tort claims on account of drainage, Appellate Tax Board hearings, suits involving collection of taxes, and suits on bonds.

Practically every department of the Town during the course of the year has questions of various legal ramifications which must be serviced, and it would be impossible in a report of this nature to specifically touch on each of them.

The tremendous growth of the Town over the past few years has necessarily increased the attendant legal problems.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM J. CARR,

Town Counsel.

Citizens of Randolph:

My oath of office as your Town Manager was taken on the morning of November 4th, 1957. From that moment the fulfillment of the duties and responsibilities of this position has imposed an exacting schedule on me. In spite of these time and energy demands, I have thoroughly enjoyed serving as your Manager.

From the beginning I have sought and obtained co-operation from the Citizens, the Boards and Committees, the Department Heads and the Employees. In other words, we are functioning as a "team." Because of the teamwork, services are being provided more effectively and efficiently and progress has been made toward alleviating some of the major problems such as the need of additional water supply, more school classrooms, sewer construction and road improvements.

Information concerning specific accomplishments has undoubtedly been brought to your attention through the press and may also be found in the Annual Reports of the several departments.

My detailed recommendations will be forthcoming at appropriate times throughout the year.

We have an atmosphere in which, willingness-to-cooperate and desire for team-work supercede personal differences without stifling conscientious principle. Continuance of this atmosphere, under your fine charter, will provide the ideal medium thru which the best interests of the Town can be realized in the coming years. I shall unceasingly work toward this end.

I wish to extend my sincere thanks and appreciation to all who have helped thus far.

ROBERT A. HANCOCK,

Town Manager.

Report of The Board of Selectmen

To the Citizens of Randolph:

During the past year we have encountered the same problems which have confronted other towns of rapid growth. A broad increase in population necessitated the expanding of many public services in the Town to meet the needs and demands of a fast growing community.

We, as a Board, are very cognizant of the fact that much is to be done to keep pace with a growing community and are ready to aid you at all times.

Some of the accomplishments which have been witnessed during this past year are as follows:

Provided for angle parking to relieve traffic congestion on Memorial Drive.

Through the assistance of the State Dept. of Public Works, had traffic light installed in front of Papp Building in North Randolph.

Expedited additional street lighting and sign erections.

Requested State survey for additional traffic lights at Stoughton Street, Oak Street, and Liberty Street to alleviate the accident situation on Route 28.

Held hearings on all public matters covering gravel removal, license violations and all type complaints.

In compliance with the Town charter, elected a new Town Manager, Mr. Robert A. Hancock formerly of Randolph, Vermont and Bedford, Mass.

We are fully aware of the many problems facing us and ask the humble patience of all the citizens as we go forward into the year 1958.

Our deepest thanks to all that have assisted us in any manner.

BOARD OF SELECTMEN,

GEORGE H. KILEY, JR., Chairman
GEORGE F. CULLEN, Clerk

Sewer Commissioners

Report of Sewer Commissioners

January 19, 1959

After many delays caused by revising plans and negotiating with the railroad, the sewerage program got under way on May 15, 1958. On May 29, 1958, the bids were opened at the Sewer Commissioners' Office in the presence of the Sewer Commissioners, the Town Manager, the Secretary, Mrs. Betty Fitzgerald, and other contractors.

After checking the bids and investigating the contractors, Civitarese-Piatelli Corp., the low bidders, was awarded the contract. The amount of the base bid was $572,880.00. The bid was carefully checked for any errors or omissions by the Sewer Commissioners and the Duffill Associates.

The contract was officially awarded to the above mentioned contractor on June 16, 1958. The site preparation work started immediately. This included building a roadway of several thousand feet and a temporary bridge for access purposes.

Excavation on the project was started on August 2, 1958, at 10:00 before noon. The work on Sewer Trunk line No. 1 was officially started on August 4, 1958, and to date, December 31, 1958, a total of 3,285 ft. of 36" RC pipe has been laid.

Also, in conjunction with the pipe, there have been constructed a total of eight manholes including seven standard manholes and one drop manhole.

The Sewer Commissioners have made several changes on the plans submitted by Duffill Associates so as to reduce the overall cost. At the present time the Sewer project in Randolph on Trunk Sewer No. 1 is approximately five weeks ahead of schedule.

The Sewer Commissioners have been meeting every Saturday morning and Monday evenings.

The Sewer Commissioners wish to thank the Town Manager for attending all the above mentioned meetings. If we do not run into any difficulty, Trunk Sewer No. 1 should be completed by July of 1959.

Respectfully submitted,

BOARD OF SEWER COMMISSIONERS

Report of Director of Veterans Services

We have developed and processed 658 applications for veterans' benefits under both Federal and State Laws. Will receive reimbursements from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to the amount of $27,450.00.

Each year our case load increases as more veterans and their dependents are picking up 5-year residence, which makes them eligible for veterans' benefits under Chapter 115 of the General Laws.

Report of Board of Public Welfare

The staff of the Welfare Department consists of one Welfare Agent, two Social Workers, one Senior Clerk, and one Junior Clerk, each having passed a competitive State Civil Service examination and each certified by that Commission.

The total cost during 1958 to administer the entire welfare programs (Old Age Assistance, Aid to Dependent Children, Aid to the Permanently and Totally Disabled, and General Relief) was $23,814.00. The net cost to the Town of Randolph was $12,471. 00 as the Federal and State share of reimbursement totalled $11,343.00.

The total cost during 1958 for payments authorized to and for recipients in the above named categories of Public Welfare was $233,110.00, an increase of $3,602.00 over 1957. The total average case load per month in 1958 was 199 as compared to 197 in 1957. The primary reasons for increased expenditures are outlined in last year's Annual Report. The net cost to the taxpayers of Randolph for expending $233,110.00 is $37,030.00, the difference being derived as reimbursements from: (1) State and Federal Governments; (2) Recoveries from Old Age Assistance liens on real estate; (3) Other Towns and Cities where recipients have a settlement; (4) Refunds and cancellations from individual recipients.

Ten years ago, the cost of hospitalizing a welfare recipient was eight dollars per day; today that same patient costs every Welfare Department $28.32 per day in some of the Boston hospitals. These are all-inclusive rates which means we do not get billed for surgeon's fees, operating room, medication, X-rays, etc.

Ten years ago, the cost for board and room for our recipients living in licensed nursing homes, was $15.00; $18.00; and $21.00 per week, depending on the degree of nursing care required; today, a single rate of $45.50 per week prevails. Approximately 11% of our total case load reside in these institutions where there are registered nurses twenty-four hours per day.

The members of the Board of Public Welfare (listed below) are appointed by the Town Manager for a term of one year, commencing June 27th of each year, act in an advisory capacity, and serve without compensation. Mr. George H. Foley, 1245 North Main St., Randolph, was appointed June 27, 1958 in place of Mr. William J. Leahy, who declined re-appointment because of business commitments.

We gratefully acknowledge the co-operation and service rendered our staff by all Town officials and the various departmental staffs.

As usual the Department has been active in answering the ever increasing amount of calls, the increase being about 5,000 more calls than the previous year.

In spite of the patrol being done by officers on foot, in cars and motorcycles, we continue to have many accidents. To meet this emergency we have called upon the State Police and Registry of Motor Vehicles Inspectors, who have always cooperated with us.

Since having our Juvenile and Safety Officer, we have noticed that juvenile delinquency has decreased. Officer Holbrook is most active in safety and juvenile programs and receiving excellent cooperation from the School Department and the people of Randolph.

All officers in the Department have completed the Standard Course of Instruction in First Aid.

At this time I wish to thank the members of the Police Department, the Board of Selectmen, Town Manager, Finance Committee and the citizens of the town for their assistance and interest in the Department.

Very truly yours,

PATRICK T. McDONNELL,
Chief of Police

The 1,000-gallon pumping engine that we are asking for at the Annual Town Meeting is very badly needed. At present we have a 1923 Maxim pump that cannot be used for fire work. Engine 2 which is a 1951 Ford has never been reliable having failed us on several calls. Engine 1 is a 1937 Seagrave pumper, and because of its age cannot be considered reliable any longer. If the new pumper is purchased the 1923 Maxim will be taken in trade and the result will be that we will have one truck in reserve in case of failure of one of the others.

I wish again to thank the Town officials and the citizens of the Town for their cooperation during the past year, also the members of the department.

Report of The Board of Health

COMMUNICABLE DISEASE REPORT

During the year 1958 the practicing physicians of the community have submitted 359 reports concerning communicable diseases or other conditions reportable to the Board of Health as follows: pulmonary tuberculosis 5; chicken-pox 4; dog-bite 167; German measles 12; measles 130; scarlet fever 14; mumps 18; Salmonellosis 5; infectious hepatitis 1; rabbit bite 1; squirrel bite 1; bacterial meningitis 1.

The reporting of 5 new cases of active pulmonary tuberculosis during this year indicates the continuing nature of this problem in this Town of approximately 17,000 population.

Following is a report of the tuberculin testing program conducted in January 1958. The tuberculin tests were performed by the Mantoux method using tuberculin prepared by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health. Grade 2, total enrollment—364; number tested —319; percent tested—88%; number positive—2; percent positive—6%. Grade XI—Total enrollment—152; number tested—119; percent tested—78%; number positive—6; percent positive—5%. The School Department has a list of names of children tested and results of tests, also reported on X-rays of positive reactors and family contacts. No cases of active tuberculosis were found. A community wide project for skin testing is being planned for 1959 which would encompass the entire school population and will be extended for as many as possible of the entire town population. At this writing the exact procedures to be followed in such a program are still being drafted. A community project for tuberculosis skin testing such as is being planned has never before been undertaken in the Commonwealth. Taking part in the program in addition to the Randolph Health Department will be the Mass. Department of Public Health and the Norfolk County Tuberculosis Association, the program coordinator.

Your Board of Health continues to be concerned about the large incidence of dog bites in the town. We have a large dog population in this suburban community. The concern is not so much for the dog bite itself as it is for the indication of what might happen if rabies were reintroduced into Randolph or into a nearby community.

There have been no cases of rabies in dogs in Massachusetts since 1949 whereas in earlier years there were many cases. The decline in incidence of dog rabies occurred concurrently with a widespread dog vaccination program in the State. This dog vaccination program began in the late 1930's and a large percentage of the dog population was vaccinated thereafter. But because of the temporary absence of the disease from this area many dog owners have neglected in recent years to have their dogs protected. If we wish to continue this stretch of good fortune and prevent the recurrence of this disease in Randolph we must press for rabies inoculation of all dogs. Rabies could transform the pet you love into a snarling "mad dog" crazed by infection in his brain—a killer whose bite might cost your life or that of your child. Rabies has no respect for pedigree—it can strike any dog—stray, beloved "mutt" or blue ribbon winner. All that is necessary to start the infection among dogs of Randolph is to have an infected dog imported from some nearby state where the disease is prevalent; or the dog could contract it from an infected flying bat. Bats in many parts of the U. S. are known to be infected and some species migrate into and through Massachusetts annually. You can protect your dog against rabies. Now he can be safely and painlessly immunized with a modern proved vaccine.

We urge that each dog owner have his pet vaccinated against rabies by a veterinarian. In the event that rabies returns too any part of Eastern Massachusetts we will request an order restraining all dogs and will require vaccination and evidence of vaccination will have to filed at the office of the Police Department. Accordingly it will be advisable to have the certificates of vaccination on hand for this purpose.

Polio vaccination clinics were held during the year for approximately 2200 children and adults in conjunction with the Randolph Visiting Nurse Association. In addition to regular Health Department personnel, several of the Town's physicians, volunteer nurses and RVNA members took part in administering the various clinics.

Town employees received two inoculations of the new type Influenza vaccine at clinics held at the Health Center in October and November.

PREMATURE INFANT PROGRAM

In accordance with the provisions of Chapter 601 of the Acts of 1949, reports of 6 live premature births were received by the Board during 1958. However, financial assistance was not required of the Town in any case. The Public Health Nurses rendered care and parental instructions in all of these premature cases.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING PROGRAM

This year, Miss Beatrice Scannell, R.N., and Mrs. Janet Dimmick, R.N., are happy to have Mrs. Mary Bonney, R.N., join them in the Public Health and Visiting Nurse work for the Town. Mrs. Bonney came to this Department on March 31st and has done excellent work in this department. Mrs. Bonney successfully passed her Civil Service and physical examinations as required by the Town. She has had post graduate training in Public Health nursing.

The nurses continue in their program of caring for the sick in their homes, carrying out orders given them by the physicians or hospitals to assure continued care during illness, teaching the family to meet illness and prevent spread of disease to other members of the family. Instruction and teaching are part of each visit made, and often if more care is needed, the nurses assist the family in securing the extra care needed. Mothers are instructed and supervised before and after the birth of the baby and baby care is given and demonstrated after the baby returns home. The older child's care is explained and instructions are given for the maintenance of good health and prevention of disease. A home appraisal visit is made by a nurse on all premature infants reported to the Board of Health before the baby comes home from the hospital. Instructions and care are given to assure good care for these small babies. These babies are visited on their return home and demonstrations of proper care are given if necessary.

A well baby conference or as better known, a "well-baby Clinic" is held once a month for any pre-school child living in the Town. This clinic is sponsored by the Visiting Nurse Association and the Ladies Library Association. At these conferences a physician is in charge assisted by the nurses. The clerical work is done by members of the Ladies Library Association. Immunization is given at these clinics for Diphtheria, Whooping Cough and Tetanus, and also Polio vaccine for those who have not been immunized against Polio. Booster doses are also given as needed.

The American Red Cross formerly helped finance this clinic in part but do so no longer, therefore, the Board of Health has included in their budget sufficient funds to make continuance of this clinic possible. All immunization at these clinics is furnished by the Board of Health.

A Public Health nurse continues to cover the Boston School for the Deaf assisting in the School Health Program and supervisory program.

Preventive measures are a prominent part of the Board of Health Program and during the year, clinics were held to give protection against Polio, Whooping Cough, Diphtheria and Tetanus.

Tuberculosis is still a large program and Nurses visit all cases of Tuberculosis and contacts for X-ray and treatment as advised by the Hospital or Physician. The reports on Tuberculosis are received by the Board of Health as reported by the Physician. These reports are then recorded and visits are made to these people by the Nurses and instructions for care and continued treatment are given.

Handicapped children are also referred to these Nurses for follow-up and clinic arrangements according to appointments.

Cases of communicable diseases of major Public Health importance are visited and closely followed-up. These visits are for care and technique to aid in recovery and prevent the spread of the disease.

Office visits are becoming more numerous and the Nurses are pleased to have people visit the office for advice or care. As many people work during the day, a home visit is difficult and on their way home from work or at lunch, an office visit is a good solution.

ENVIRONMENTAL SANITATION

A considerable amount of time was spent in dealing with public health nuisances. The usual variety of complaints were investigated, topped by overflowing sewage disposal systems. In a number of cases it took the coordinated efforts of two or more town departments to solve the problems encountered. This is believed to be a good opportunity to inform the townspeople that a public health nuisance or menace can be of a mental nature as well as physical. In other words, the practice of good public health administration is to insure the physical and mental well-being of the public.

Bids were invited and received in November for the collection and disposal of refuse for a maximum period of three years beginning May 1, 1959. The Woodlawn Trucking Co., of Randolph, the lowest bidder, was awarded a three-year contract by the Town Manager on December 22nd. The use of packaload vehicles is required by the new contract, which should mean faster, more efficient service and less restrictions placed on amount and kind of refuse that can be disposed of by the townspeople.

It is hoped that the year 1959 will see the results of much research into the adoption of a housing code for the town. Because of the many legal and technical aspects that are involved, great care must be taken before such a code can be drafted and accepted.

ANIMAL AND SLAUGHTER INSPECTIONS

Mr. Cornelius J. Crowley, Animal and Slaughter Inspector reports as of Dec. 31, 1958 that there were 167 dogs quarantined. Also 1 squirrel bite and 1 fox bite. All barns in Randolph were inspected. At the present time there are 67 cows, 7 horses, 3 sheep. Four dog heads and one fox head were sent to the Wasserman State Laboratory. Seventeen cows were quarantined for tuberculosis and brucellosis test. One TB reactor was sent for immediate slaughter.

414 calls were investigated during the year from calls received from the Board of Health and Police Department. There were no cases of Encephalomyelitis (sleeping sickness in horses) within the town.

PLUMBING INSPECTIONS

Mr. Thomas O'Riley, Plumbing Inspector, issued more than 200 licenses. Fixtures installed included 273 toilets, 149 sinks, 258 wash bowls, 123 bath tubs, 7 slop sinks, 72 wash trays, 10 shower baths, 16 urinals, 13 floor drains, 10 drinking fountains, 1 dish washer, 2 E-jector pumps and 3 sump pumps.

Mr. O'Riley asks the cooperation of all master plumbers in obtaining permits before work is started on projects.

The sum of $1,288.00 was collected and turned over to the Town Treasurer.

MOSQUITO CONTROL

The following work was performed:

Aerial spraying 2365 acres; ground spraying 859½ acres; pre-hatch dusting 87 acres; drainage 3204 ft.; culverts cleaned 1; catch basins treated 761; clearing brush 1925 ft.

In spite of a high mosquito population in 1958 the overall results were excellent and an excellent level of mosquito control was maintaind through the Norfok County Mosquito Control Project.

DENTAL HEALTH

At the request of the Board, the Dental Division, Massachusetts Department of Public Health, provided Dental Hygienist Mrs. Marion Ingraham to conduct a dental survey of the pupils of the first six grades in the Town's public school system. The purpose was to determine the state of dental health among these children in the lower age brackets. The Devine School was selected for the pilot survey and the results of the examinations performed there in November are alarming. The percentage of children having decay of permanent teeth, by grade, is as follows and indicates the seriousness of the situation: First grade—26%; second grade—70%; third grade—80%; fourth grade—98%; fifth grade—100%; sixth grade—99%. The percentage of these children requiring early or immediate treatment are as follows: Grade 1—4%; Grade 2—20%; Grade 3—21%; Grade 4—35%; Grade 5—42%; Grade 6—49%. The parents of these children have been sent notices of the need of dental treatment.

The survey is continuing in the other schools and, although the results are not complete, it appears that approximately the same percentage will prevail. The poor state of dental health among the pupils of the lower grades clearly demonstrates the need of a full time hygienist in the Health Department in order to have a continuous dental health examination program, therefore there is included in the 1959 budget a request for a dental hygienist. The request is supported by the Town Dental Advisory Council which is made up of all the Town's practicing dentists and also by the Dental Division, Massachusetts Department of Public Health. The Dental Advisory Council gave freely of their time and knowledge to guide the Board in putting the dental survey program into operation and are continuing in the same spirit to support and advise the Board in all phases of the program. Without their assistance, cooperation and counsel such a program could not have been realized. The School Department from superintendent to teacher gave and are giving the Board and the hygienist their fullest cooperation and for that we are deeply grateful.

FOOD SANITATION

Visual inspection of food serving establishments were made throughout the year in addition to bacteriological swab testing of multi-use utensils used in such places. On the whole, the owners and managers of the food service establishments are public health conscious and are constantly on the alert for unsanitary practices and conditions. Cooperation with the Agent by all food service personnel was excellent.

MILK INSPECTION

The milk inspection program is performed by Henry Merrill, Milk Inspector.

The past year the Board of Health and the Health Officer cooperated in setting up a program for monthly inspections and testing, which gave this department the opportunity to annalyze and make helpful suggestions to the dealers who were very cooperative in carrying them out. Several inspections were conducted under State supervision. The success of the program was sufficient to warrant its continuance and expansion.

Milk licenses issued were 42—$21.00; Oleo lincenses issued 34—$17.00; pasturization licenses isued 1—$10.00 and milk vehicle licenses 22—$11.00.

OTHER ACTIVITIES

In cooperation with the Lions Club who are attempting to raise the funds necessary to defray expenses, the Board has planned a Glaucoma Clinic starting early in 1959. The United States Public Health Service has been requested to loan equipment peculiar to such a program. The Norfolk South District Medical Society has granted approval for the program.

REVENUE PRODUCED BY THE BOARD OF HEALTH

Sewage disposal permits—$358.00; general licenses —$85.50; hospitalization subsidies—$623.58; plumbing licenses—$1,288.00; milk and dairy products—$59.00; refuse contract bids—$35.00. Total revenue—$2,449.08.

Report of The Town Counsel

During the past year the Town was involved in litigation concerning such matters as land takings, appeals from Planning Board decisions, suits for recovery of funds on behalf of the Welfare Department, claims on account of drainage and other tort matters including appeals to the Appellate Tax Board.

A case involving the Town appeared in the Supreme Court Reports during this year, wherein the former Town Manager was successfully defended in a claim brought against him individually by a contractor.

Some of the more unusual types of litigation were cases involving dogs, writ of mandamus brought against the Building Inspector over a zoning question, appeal to the Alcoholic Beverage Commisison from Selectmen's decision, and a case involving a mink farm.

In addition to litigation, there is a constant demand for opinions for practically each and every Board, Commisison and Department in the Town.

Various and sundry contracts and legal documents have to be considered from time to time.

Attendance at various Committees and Departments has been necessary.

Monthly meetings of the Town Counsel Association, at which municipal problems are discussed, continue to give your Town Counsel a better insight into Town legal problems and affairs.

Report of Civil Defense

This past year the Civil Defense Director for the Commonwealth requested that each city and town submit a plan to be followed, if the need arise, for the protection and defense of the civilian population. The Randolph Mobilization Plan, previously approved by the Board of Selectmen, was revised to include an operations plan effective December 28, 1958. This plan is coordinated with the state agency and has been approved through the higher echelon of the state. It remains but for the officials of Randolph to familiarize themselves with the plan.

The assistance of the town's people in Civil Defense activities is continually desired. There is a great need for volunteers in the Warden Service. It is the ultimate aim of this organization to have a warden for every ten families in this Town. Nothing would be more desirable than to have the town's people who have taken the time to read this report volunteer for some duty in the Civil Defense Organization.

If an emergency is declared, as a result of military action or any other kind of a disaster within Randolph, many citizens will be drafted for some duty. Common sense dictates that we citizens should prepare now before such emergency does come upon us. At the present time we have a nucleus of citizens trained in communications, police work and first aid but constant effort is necessary in all phases of Civil Defense. The fact of the matter is that Civil Defense has the plan but not the necessary personnel to accomplish the task.

There is a bill before the present Congress which if approved will provide federal funds to match any monies appropriated by the cities or towns for Civil Defense purposes. Until action is completed on this bill, your Director is not requesting funds other than for current needs to maintain our existing communications and alarm systems.

Respectfully,

RALPH E. MacLEOD

Board of Water Commissioners

To the Citizens of Randolph:

In accordance with the provisions of Article III of the By-Laws for the Government of the Trustees of the Turner Library, this eighty-third annual report is submitted to show the condition of the Trust—the library, the funds, and the Building—for the calendar year 1958 and to call attention to such other matters concerning the Library as may be of general interest.

It has been as gratifying to the Trustees as it has been to the Librarian and her staff to observe the substantial increase in the townspeople's use of their library during the past year. This has been evidenced not only by the many more students and adults who have come to the library building, but quite factually by the greater number of books and other printed material borrowed from the library during 1958. As shown by the following data, "circulation" for 1958 has been greater than for the years 1957 and 1956 combined:

Circulation

1958 — 43,544

If the Library Trustees can draw any conclusions from this strong upward trend in circulation, it is that the people of Randolph want — and need — the educational, informational and recreational services offered by a progressive public library. With the continued understanding and assistance of Town officials and of townspeople generally, the Trustees look forward to providing these services at Turner Library to meet the minimum standards established by the Massachusetts Library Association (in cooperation with the American Library Association) for a community of Randolph's size.

In many other ways it has been a year of library growth and development—more hours of service to the public, more books available, improved shelving and many seemingly small but nevertheless effective changes in administrative details, in furniture arrangement and in display techniques. But only the most important of these items could be described by the Librarian, Mrs. Lucia Faulkner, in her 1958 report to the Trustees—a copy of which is appended as a part of this report. The Trustees welcome this opportunity to express their appreciation for the continued interest and enthusiasm of the Librarian and all members of her staff in the work of the Turner Library, as well as for the many accomplishments of the year just ended. Gratefully acknowledged also is the recognition accorded Mrs. Faulkner by the request of officers of the Massachusetts Library Association that she serve on the program committee associated with that organization and by the invitation to her to participate as a member of a discussion panel at the June meeting of the Old Colony Club—an association of Librarians of this area.

This report would not be complete without mention of the fact that after more than thirty-two years of loyal service to the Trustees and to the patrons of Turner Library, it was the request of Mrs. Eunice Martin, Assistant Librarian, that her resignation be accepted as of June 1, 1958. Expressing sincere appreciation for her splendid cooperation throughout these many years and for the faithful manner in which she always performed her work, the Trustees regretfully acceded to her request. At this time they again extend to her their best wishes for many years of health and happiness in her retirement.

The Trustees wish to call the attention of all townspeople to the specific hours of library service shown in the heading of this report. Compared with the 32 hours of service in effect a year ago, the present schedule totals 37 hours. These five additional hours are the result of extending evening service from 8:00 p. m. to 8:30 p. m., and of opening for service on Tuesdays at 10:00 a. m. instead of at 2:00 p. m. These changes have been favorably received and will be continued throughout the winter and spring.

Early last year the town appropriated $18,500 for the support of the Turner Library during 1958. Of this amount a total of $18,266.08 was used, leaving an unexpended balance of $233.92 in the town treasury. The annual report of the Treasurer of the Library (shown below in full) gives a complete record of receipts and disbursements for the year and lists the Library's invested funds. With an inevitable further increase in circulation during 1959, with additional staff employees needed to handle even the present workload effectively and with the continuing need to provide and maintain an adequate supply of books and other reading material, it has been necessary to request an increased appropriation from the town. The Trustees unanimously and urgently recommended that the increased amount—most of which will be devoted to salaries of the additional employees required, be granted.

In conclusion, it should be of interest to townspeople to know that for some time the Trustees have been aware of the eventual need of larger and more up-to-date quarters for the library. Reached by a long flight of stairs, the present second-floor rooms are today not only inadequate for serving the public, but also fall far short of meeting current space requirements for staff work (such as repairing books) and for staff quarters. However, there is no thought that the present building should be abandoned or replaced. Rather, the Trustees are looking toward the development of plans that will enlarge the first floor to an area that will meet the library's needs yet retain the desirable architectural features of the present building. Although no definite plans exist at the present time, the Trustees feel that it is not too soon for officials of the town—and townspeople generally—to be thinking of the Turner Library's future financial needs for this purpose. A building change of this kind appears to be a major undertaking requiring careful attention over several years to details of planning and financing. Meanwhile, the Trustees hope that residents of the town will become increasingly aware not only of the vital and unique contribution that a forward-looking library makes to the educational, recreational and cultural life of the community but also of the importance of the library's physical facilities in carrying on an effective program.

Respectfully submitted,

LAURENCE F. SHURTLEFF,

Report of The Librarian

Turner Free Library

To the Trustees of the Turner Free Library.

Dear Friends:

It is with deep gratitude for your very warm and practical support, unstintingly given, but never forced, that the Turner staff shares with you another exteremely busy year's fruitage.

1958 proved many things. It proved, first of all, that active reading in Randolph is here to stay and that, given the books, a sufficient number of open-to-public hours and adequate personnel to carry on the library routines—which are legion—Randolph can be one of the most alert and reading-minded communities of suburban Boston! Notice the following:

1. A year ago we were happy to have increased our hours of service from 19½ to 32. 1958 saw that figure increased at 37.
2. A year ago we were delighted at an increase, over 1956, in books issued, of 14,062. This past year the increase has been 18,034 over 1957. This was an increase only. The total number of books which our public read was 43,544!
3. 1,432 more people found their way to the library this last year to register and read.
4. Thanks to the foresight and community pride in educational progress when Randolph residents voted an increased book budget, 2,321 volumes were added to the book collection during the past year.
5. Almost every month saw some new physical improvement; under-window shelving units, display-style lower shelves, bookstacks lowered, outmoded radiators removed, improved issue desk, flower gardens, modern home-talent magazine rack, additional painting, etc.

6. Three new encyclopedia sets were added—the Britannica, American and Compton's, plus a gift of Webster's Biographical Dictionary by the Randolph Reading Group.

7. Randolph playgrounds were visited, story hours were held, classes were given library instruction, and a successful summer reading club gave promise of an even busier summer in 1959.

These are only some of the more apparent activities. However, operating one staff member short, since Mrs. Martin's retirement, has only been possible because of the untiring and consistant cooperation of Mrs. Saunders and Mrs. Poehlman. Our boys—Peter Briggs, George Sullivan, Robert Benson, Paul Miller and William Wilbur, each available only certain days a week—have fallen to with quick wits and willing hands to try to lighten the interesting load.

Yes, 1958 has been a good year, with an appreciative public. 1959, with a full staff, if possible, should be a record breaker!

With all good wishes,

Gratefully yours,
LUCIA S. FAULKNER,
Librarian.

To the Trustees of the Turner Free Library:

In compliance with the requirements of the By-Laws, I hereby submit the annual report of the Treasurer of the Turner Free Library.

Tree and Moth Department

To the Citizens of Randolph:

The Tree and Moth Department activities for the year of 1958 have been generally along the order of other years.

The regular program of repairing, trimming, and removal of dead and dangerous trees was carried on during the year. Tree planting has moved on, but not at the rate that is anticipated. This town shoupld plant over four thousand new trees. The town planted eighty-five trees in the year of 1958. Location of trees planted in the year of 1958 can be found in the Town Manager's office.

Every tree in a residential area, be it public or private, is a prospective patient of our if only for a diagnosis of its ills. The need of cabling and bracing, pruning and surgery on many storm damaged trees was taken care of. Eighty dead trees were removed and a great many pruned during the year.

Spraying by airplane over woodlands and streets of this town proved so successful for the control of gypsy moths, tent caterpillars, elm leaf beetles, mosquitoes, and other insects that I recommend this program be extended in the year of 1959. The Commonwealth of Massachusetts, through its insect Pest Control Department, has notified this department that our liability for gypsy moth work for the coming year is $3,300.00.

At this time I wish to thank the Town Manager and the Board of Selectmen and citizens for their splendid cooperation during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH J. HART,
Tree Warden and Moth Superintendent

Report of School Planning and Building Committee

The 18-classroom Elizabeth G. Lyons Elementary School was under construction on January 1, 1958. This construction was completed sufficiently to have the building dedicated and occupied by December 2, 1958.

Of the $694,089.09 available to the committee on January 1, 1958, $591,120.43 was spent as partial payments to the contractors, architect, and for site development, leaving a balance of $102,968.68 as of December 31, 1958, which sum will be spent to make final payments on the above.

The original appropriation was for building and furnishing an 18-classroom school only; however, the committee was successful in providing the following extras: venetian blinds, maintenance equipment, and an access road from Liberty Street to the school. All this was at no extra cost to the town.

ELIZABETH G. LYONS ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

The sum $10,000.00 was voted the committee for the purpose of preparing the preliminary plans and specifications for a 600-pupil Junior High School. The committee was later advised by the School Committee that it required instead an 800-pupil school. Because of the effects on the Town's economy of such an expensive project, the School Planning and Building Committee felt it must be exhaustive in its selection of an architect. The committee has interviewed a large number of architects and as of December 31, 1958, had not yet selected one. Therefore, the $10,000.00 appropriation is still intact.

Annual Report

of the

Town of Randolph

For the Yar Ending December 31

1958

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE—1958

To the Citizens of the Town of Randolph:

The School Committee herewith submits its annual report for the year 1958:

You are urged to read the complete report of the Randolph Public Schools in order that you may become more thoroughly acquainted with the operation of the schools.

The School Committee meets regularly on the first and third Mondays of the month at 8:00 p. m. in the Office of the Superintendent and the public is invited to attend these meetings. Committee members are elected for a period of three years and serve without pay.

A school committee rule that pupils who are truant more than once appear with their parents before the Committee has been strictly enforced and has resulted in a great many hours being devoted to this task. The High School Principal reports, however, that this ruling has been a very positive factor in lessening the number of cases of truancy.

Persons who have no desire to make the effort to learn have no place in the High School, for they are a detriment to the efforts of teachers and pupils who wish to benefit from their educational opportunities. Accordingly, in keeping with a recommendation of the High School faculty, and Dr. Conant, whose research in the area of High Schools is so well known, pupils who have attained the age of 16 and who are not doing passing work in a majority of their subjects are requested through their parents, to withdraw from school. Should they fail to do so, they will be expelled. School attendance is a privilege not to be treated lightly, and teachers are hired to teach, not to act as policemen. We are proud of the continued progress of our schools and of the accomplishments of the great percentage of our student body. They deserve and must have every educational advantage possible if our way of life is to survive.

The rapid expansion of our student population and the need for more school buildings continues to be our greatest problem. The opening of the new elementary school in December eased the situation somewhat, but it was with the greatest of regret, and only after an exhaustive search for an alternative plan proved fruitless, that we voted to have the high school pupils (grades 9-12) attend morning classes only, and pupils on grades 7 and 8 attend only afternoon classes effective in September, 1959. This will mean that some pupils will have attended classes on an 80% basis (four hours daily, rather than five) ever since they left grade five. All of this in a period when educators such as Commissioner Kiernan are urging a longer school day, and a longer school year. Additional facilities must be provided in the immediate future.

Of the Federal Money received for reimbursement because of pupils whose parents work on federal property, $20,000 was used to lower budgetary requests, thereby reducing the tax rate. In addition, approximately $1500 was used to aid in the payment by the Town Manager for work performed by the Carlino Engineering Company on the Athletic field. The Committee proposes to use $12,500 of this money for the resurfacing of the baseball diamond and practice football field which erosion has left in such a condition as to make it unsafe for use. If sufficient money is available, it will be used to recondition the playing area adjacent to the Devine School.

We express our appreciation to the Superintendent of Schoools and his staff of administrators, to the teachers, clerks, custodians and all personnel for their cooperation and loyalty.

The School Committee realizes that a school system is as good as the citizens of a community want it to be. We are sure that the citizens of Randolph want their school system to be a fine one. That task is never-ending. Your comments and constructive criticisms are always welcome.

REPORT OF THE

The Randolph Public School system has become one to "go to," rather than one to "go from," which is a very healthy situation. By this I mean that heretofore, teachers took positions in Randolph with the thought in mind of obtaining a "better" position in some other community after having had a year or two of experience. Now, because of our good salary schedule, good working conditions, and the good professional standing of our system, teachers from other communities are desirous of coming to Randolph.

Furthermore, the teachers whom we wish to retain are not being lured away by neighboring towns. This year only one teacher resigned in order to accept a teaching position paying more money in a neighboring community. This is quite a contrast to the situation a few years ago, when a great many of our teachers had to be replaced.

The outstanding ability of many of our staff members has been recognized, by their being invited to participate in Teacher Institutes, Teachers Conventions, and demonstrations of various types.

Our professional staff is expanding to meet the ever-growing pupil population and we are able to be highly selective in our choice of personnel. In searching for two elementary principals, to head the Lyons and Stetson Schools, we adopted criteria which included a pre-requisite of two years' experience as a principal. Out of an excellent group of candidates, Mr. John Murphy and Mr. Edward Keough were elected and the manner in which they are carrying out their duties displays the advantage of their having had previous experience.

Our In-Service Training program for the teachers continues to function, in addition to which a very large percentage of our staff is taking graduate courses at many colleges and universities.

Mrs. Lillian Kane, Asst. Principal of the Devine School, and Mrs. Ethel Atwood, Supervisor of Elementary Art, accepted well-deserved retirements in June. We wish them both many years of health and happiness.

Dr. Stephen E. Hart resigned as Principal of the Stetson School in order to accept the position of Superintendent of Schools in Avon.

Mr. Raymond Stewart resigned as Director of Music to assume a similar position at the University of Bridgeport.

The death of Mr. Leslie Post, of the custodial staff, was felt keenly by us all. His ever-present smile, willingness to be of service, and devotion to duty, made him an ideal person for public service. Apparently, his years of hazardous duty in the South Pacific, as a member of the U. S. Marine Corps, were a strong factor in his untimely passing.

The need for additonal buildings continues to be acute. Despite the opening of the Lyons School in December, we are still holding classes in eight sub-standard elementary classrooms, and any increase, which we know is coming, will cause us to again have double sessions. The continued use of the old wooden two-room building, which was reopened three years ago as an "emergency" measure, is still necessary, and yet it is a great injustice to the children and the teachers involved. I strongly urge any interested citizen to view the premises.

Our classes are too large, particularly at the primary level, and yet under the existing conditions, there is no alternative.

As pointed out in the report of the School Committee, abbreviated sessions will be necessary in all secondary grades beginning next September. This certainly is a very serious situation, and I sincerely hope that the Town Meeting Members will vote to build new junior high facilities at once.

Our appropriation requests increase each year because of rising costs, but mostly because of increasing enrollments, along with necessary increases in staff and supplies. However, despite the fact that we know that we are providing a very good educational program for all the school children of Randolph, statistics just released by the Massachusetts Department of Education show that of the 351 cities and towns in the Commonwealth, 349 have a higher per-pupil cost than does Randolph. While the average cost per pupil in the state was $309.64, ours was but $196.70.

The Randolph Public School system is a community in which more than 4,000 individuals are involved, exclusive of the parents who are also frequently involved. Our duties are multifold, to educate and house more than 3,800 pupils from grades 1 through 12, to feed 1,200 daily, to transport 2,000 daily, to provide for their health and welfare. All in all, it is a gigantic operation in which misunderstandings are bound to arise, and despite all precautions, accidents will sometimes happen. There is no problem which cannot be solved, if there is complete cooperation and use of common sense.

The complete support of the members of the Randolph School Committee and the financial support of the taxpayers in our efforts to constantly improve the educational system of Randolph has been most gratifying.

All of our buildings and particularly the High, Devine and Lyons schools, continue to function as community centers for all types of activities as well as serving as schools. This is as it should be for in this way the people of Randolph obtain the maximum use for the money spent on the buildings. These facilities are offered free of cost to all local charitable organizations.

The total annual award in scholarships has tripled to $3600 since our first appeal in June of 1956. We are deeply grateful to all donors, and again urge that more be given in order to enable our deserving students to attend college.

The very substantial support rendered by the members of the various Parent-Teacher groups, the Band Parents and the Randolph Boosters Club has been most helpful both financially, and in upholding the morale of the staff and pupils. I thank you all in the name of those who have benefited by your efforts.

The retirement of Mr. Edward H. Duffy, present Chairman of the School Committee, at the end of his present term will mean the loss of a person who for four years has given greatly of himself, in order to raise the standards of the Randolph Schools.

Despite his own very demanding position in the businessworld, and his poor health, he has been tireless in his work for the schools. As I stated last year, the average citizen has no conception of the time and energy which is demanded of all school committee members, for which they receive no pay, and very little appreciation.

I wish to thank each and every member of the school system staff whose devotion to duty and cooperation have made it possible for us to educationally serve the needs of the youth of Randolph. The operation of our schools has also been greatly aided through the cooperation of the personnel of other town departments and to each of them we are deeply grateful. Your schools are, and will be, as good as you want them to be.

I pledge my continued efforts to constantly improve the total educational program and with your complete support, we shall attain our goal.

THOMAS L. WARREN,
Superintendent of Schools.

REPORT OF THE HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL—1958

Perhaps the most important consideration is the fact that the High School building has passed the point of saturation and even with the double sessions for grade seven and eight, the high school department has been cramped for space. The time has come now when the present arrangements will no longer satisfy the need for more space. In the opinion of the writer, it will be necessary to put grades nine through twelve on the morning shift and grades seven and eight on the afternoon session. This is far from satisfactory because it will be necesary to cut the high school class periods from six to five, shorten the length of periods, a situation which grades seven and eight have worked under now for two years. This is not a healthy situation because the students are the ones who lose and it is therefore our hope that those responsible for providing these children with ample space will do so with all speed compatible with economical and sound judgment.

It goes without saying that the growth in numbers of pupils in the high school building requires changes in the routine of the administration. Because of the larger enrollment and increased staff, it is now necessary for the principal to be on working duty at the school forty-eight weeks in the year with a four-week vacation period in the summer. There is so much to be done from February on to make plans for the closing of the school year and to prepare for the opening of the new year that a full working year is now necessary. We feel, from a more or less close contact with the students of the school, that there is a great need for a school dental program from the first grade up. Here at the high school we have a dental room with water and power facilities piped to the floor level. There is no dental equipment in the room at all, just a hole in the floor. We recommend that this room be outfitted for the start of a dental program in this building because we are convinced there is a need for it. We also believe this idea should be incorporated into the plans of future buildings.

Our study of the curriculum, started last year, is still continuing and at present writing, is rapidly taking shape, but is not yet finished. Present indications call for enriching the curriculum in some areas, but as this will call for more room, we are afraid that it will be necessary to wait until we have our normal full time program back before we can put it into operation. It will be done as soon as physically possible.

It is pleasing to note the growth in the use of the Library, which, by the way, is still not in full use because of the need to use it as a classroom. Circulation of books is increasing to the extent of averaging 500 books loaned per month. The loss of books was negligible and damage to books was practically nonexistent, which seems to point out an awareness of civic responsibility on the part of the students. Some 350 new books were added to the Library during the past year, increasing our collection to approximately 3,000 volumes. However, for the size of the school, this is not enough, and it is our hope to add to it each year. Much praise should be given to Mr. Alvin White of the faculty for the efficient way in which he has organized the Library, cataloging, developing student librarians, inaugurating a library training class, all of which work is still continuing.

We are seeing some fine teaching jobs being done in the various departments, convincing us that the young people in this school can receive a fine training here, provided they are receptive and wish to take advantage of it. To illustrate, five Randolph High School Seniors were invited, with their teacher Miss Mary Louise Fitzgerald, to be the guests of Boston University to give a teaching demonstration and present a typical high school literature discussion on their current high school assignment on the American novel, "The Virginian." This was brought about by the interest of Professor Harold B. Leavitt of Boston University in some of the new methods of teaching literature being used by Miss Fitzgerald.

In addition to classroom activities, an important part of school life is that of extra curricula activities. Through the means of such activities, in proper perspective, we hope to instill in our youngsters, school and civic responsibility and how well these activities achieve results can be best illustrated by two such activities which are called Student Council and Future Homemakers of America (F. H. A.), both of which are affiliated in national organizations. In 1953, the Student Council received a citation from the State Department of Educaiton and the M.S.S.P.A. in its "Responsibility is the Price of Freedom" program. This citation was presented in 1955. In 1954, we received an Honorable Mention from the National Association of Student Councils. In 1956, a $50.00 cash prize and Citizenship Award from the A. K. Oliver Foundation and Scholastic Magazines was presented to our Council. 1957 saw us named for a Certificate of Honor for outstanding service to the school and community by Parents' Magazine. Finally, in 1958, we received a Defense Bond as one of the first prize winners in the Denim Council National Decency program. All this was achieved under the capable direction and ceaseless effort of Mr. James Santry, teacher, who is the faculty advisor to the Student Council.

The girls of the F. H. A. were equally busy and brought honors to themselves and the school. In 1956, one of our girls was elected as National Treasurer, one as State President and one as State Secretary. Two Randolph girls attended the national convention at Purdue University in Indiana, and one attended a conference at Washington, D. C. In 1957, a Randolph girl was State Historian. In 1958, Randolph girls were elected as State President, State Secretary, State Song Leader. Probably the fact that Randolph High School has one of the largest chapters in the state is due to the zeal and devotion to the work of this movement by its faculty advisor, Miss Katherine Schomer. There are many other groups doing equally as fine work and the two named are indicative of the type of thing our teachers and students are doing.

It is gratifying to note that seven new scholarships were presented to our graduates of 1958. These were presented by the John M. Sullivan Memorial Golf Fund, Jonbridge Memorial, Randolph High School Oracle, Frank Diauto Memorial, Lt. John D. Crawford Post V. F. W.,

Randolph Rotary Club and Randolph Boy Scout Troop No. 44. Our sincere thanks go to these organizations as well as to those which have been providing financial aid over the years to the graduates of our school. It is difficult to say that these scholarships provide the means for so many youngsters to further their education but we like to believe that it helps.

It is our hope this year to provide recognition for pupils who do well scholastically, in the form of letters and testimonials such as we do for athletics, for we believe the development of high scholarship is one of the major purposes of secondary education and we expect that any device which will spur a youngster to do his best, is certainly worth while.

HUBERT F. GILGAN,

GUIDANCE REPORT—1958

The school year just ended proved a challenging one in the field of guidance as in all fields of education. The problem of college admission is becoming more serious each year and apparently this trend will continue until about 1970. It is to be noted, however, that no qualified student from Randolph High School has ever been denied admission to college. We find our students at such colleges as Harvard, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston College, Stonehill, Northeastern, Bridgewater, and Boston State Teachers College and many others too numerous to mention. The importance of maintaining a "B" average should be stressed continually. The marks received in high school together with college board scores, aptitude tests, and recommendations determine acceptance at schools beyond high school. It is impossible to set an exact score that will be considered satisfactory on the college board as they vary from college to college.

A large number of our students secured part-time work in the stores of Randolph, Brockton and Boston. A Great number of business department girls also find part-time jobs in various offices.

The Junior Class took a series of vocational aptitude tests. These include an interest inventory, mechanical and clerical aptitude test, a reading test, and an intelligence test. These are interpreted in an interview with each student.

A number of Seniors going to work after graduation took a battery of tests administered by the Massachusetts State Employment Office in Brockton. The tests showed general learning abilities, verbal and mechanical aptitude, and finger dexterity and motor coordination.

Experts in many fields such as Social Work, Business, Engineering, Nursing, and many others, talked to interested groups. Representatives of many colleges and schools spoke to interested Seniors.

Despite the rise in enrollment and increasing problems we hope to provide the maximum service with the existing limited number of personnel available.

I want to express my appreciation to the counselors for their loyal assistance and also to Mr. Gilgan, Mr. Lynch, Mr. Warren and the School Committee for their encouragement and cooperation.

JOSEPH W. DALY,
Director of Guidance,
Randolph Public Schools

REPORT OF THE ART SUPERVISOR—1958

The art program, being an integral part of the educational curriculum, is particularly important on the elementary level. It is during this embryonic stage of artistic development, that it becomes necessary for the teacher to stimulate creative growth; not only in the field of artistic endeavor, but also inthe overall development of an appreciation of good taste which will be a necessary ingredient of later maturity.

In Randolph, we are fortunate in having a school committee which is cognizant of many of the current developments of modern educational methods. Because of this, the art department has been supplied with many stimulating materials which enable the children to expore a variety of media. Hence, the children are afforded the opportunity of performing many constructive projects. In this manner, it can be impressed upon them that art is more than mere fun; it is rather a development of skills, of imagination, of the ability to be observant, and primarily a development of the good taste which is the mark of an educated person.

Under the present art program, each class is visited once every second week. The curriculum involves not only painting and drawing, but also many varied crafts, such as paper-mache, weaving, and paper sculpture. Evidence of these endeavors can be seen on the bulletin boards of the various schools and also in periodical exhibits.

It is the duty of the art supervisor to remain abreast of all the latest trends and innovations current in the field of art education. However, in the final analysis, the overall success of an art program is a result of a harmonious cooperation between the art supervisor, the individual teacher, and the school board.

A. CAROL MORAN,
Supervisor, Elementary Art

ANNUAL REPORT ON READING—1958

The Randolph Elementary Schools have seen the inauguration of the Hay-Wingo Phonics, and a year's intensified instruction of this phonics in Grades one, two and three. As supervisors, we have worked with each teacher in the presentation of new lessons, to insure proper interpretation of the manual, and to illustrate devices for drill. In particular, the teachers have been made cognizant of the need to develop in each child auditory and visual discrimination of letters and words, and the application of phonetic principles to the ultimate end;—independent reading.

The Achievement Tests given in May showed substantial gains in both the areas of spelling and reading, as a result of the program in phonics; and this after only one year's use. Thus it is that we look ahead three years hence, when those children who have benefited from the repetitive program, enter the intermediate grades and exhibit their mastery of phonetic analysis as one of the aids to word-analysis.

We have given much time and effort to the establishment of room libraries in grades one through six. In compiling the lists of books, we have kept in mind the needs of the superior child, and the slow learner by providing books at least two or more grades above the grade level, and two grades below the grade level. These books, too, were chosen to meet the varied interests of all children and thus the types of stories cover a wide range; stories about animals, fiction, community workers, biographies, science, and etc.

Our aim is, of course, to build each year on the present number of books, and to encourage outside reading. The apparent pleasure shown by the children in the use of room libraries would seem indicative of the carry-over of reading in leisure time outside of school.

BARBARA A. CONLEY,
Supervisors of Reading

REPORT OF SCHOOL NURSES—1958

The major purpose of a school health program is to maintain, improve and promote the health of the school age child. This program includes the physical, mental, emotional and social aspects of the child. It is necessary that effort be made to coordinate all areas relating to health.

The Tuberculin Test known as the Mantaux Test was introduced into our schools in 1958. Grades 1-2-3 and 11 were tested. All positive reactors and their close contacts were X-rayed at the Norfolk County Hospital. This test provides a safe and effective substitute for a screening film of the chest.

This year the Legislature allowed a negative tuberculin test to be a substitute for a chest X-ray for school personnel.

A Diphtheria-Tetanus and Polio innoculation clinic was arranged for first grade pupils. The innoculations were given in accordance with the State's recommendations. An explanatory and educational form was sent to the parent to be signed if this service was desired.

Continuous follow-up of communicable diseases was carried throughout the year. The teacher's observation is vital so that the child with symptoms of illness may be excluded immediately.

Parents should exercise caution in determining whether the child is physically able to attend school or not.

Frequently children arrive at school ill. Arrangements must then be made for the child to be taken home. This is time consuming and often prevents the nurse from doing her scheduled work.

In case of accident or sudden illness, care is limited to first aid. Parents are notified and advised that further treatment should be from their family physician. When the emergency is of a serious nature and the parent cannot be reached a school physician is called. Many children now carry an accident insurance which is available at school.

The school doctors examine all children at specific intervals during the school life of the child. His findings are reported to the parent by referral slips, telephone or home visits. All interpretations of the findings as well as other information is recorded on the child's health card.

A yearly report and follow-up of physically handicapped children is made and their special needs as reported by parent or physician is made known to the school personnel. Home tutoring for those unable to attend school is arranged.

All children are screened for vision and hearing defects. It is recommended those failing the test be taken to a physician.

The faculty advisor for the High School Nursing Club is the school nurse. Regular meetings are held and field trips to hospitals arranged. In the spring a nursing course is given to the girls taking the Home-making Course.

Therefore, the key to effective health education is cooperation and co-ordination of the efforts of the school, home and community.

REPORT OF

The benefit of a good physical education program to which a child is entitled is the privilege of learning various forms of physical recreation.

The wholesome use of leisure time is as important as an educational objective in towns as in the largest cities. Since most of the opportunities for physical recreation will be out-of-doors after leaving school, we should emphasize in the school physical education program, recreational outdoor physical activities that are enjoyable as well as valuable, so that there will be a carry-over in the wholesome use of leisure time after school days are over.

When the town increases population-wise rapidly, schools are hardest hit for space and personnel. The Physical Education Department has found this so—at the present time we are operating on an A and B week in the grade schools and thoughts of the Junior High School boys and girls participating in physical education classes only once a week, are in the making.

Added facilities are a most for the schools, both indoors and outdoors.

JOSEPH J. ZAPUSTAS,

REPORT OF MUSIC DIRECTOR—1958

This report will be a brief synopsis of the music program up to my appointment as Music Director in September of this year, plus a report of the music program as it now stands.

The High School band performed many times during the year. Several concerts were given and the band attended the Southeastern Music Festival and the State Music Festival. Outstanding band members were selected to participate in the S.E.M.S.B.A. band and the All-State Band. The Dance Band composed of 15 high school band members played at school dances and at other school functions during the year.

The High School Chorus participated in several concerts, attended the Southeastern and State festivals. The outstanding singers were selected to perform with the S.E.M.S.B.A. chorus and the All-State chorus.

The Junior High band held rehearsals after school because of double sessions. A concert was given in May and along with the band, a girls glee club from grades seven and eight plus a boys chorus, performed under the direction of Miss Sansone, Elementary Music Supervisor.

An all-town Elementary concert was given in June consisting of 60 players in the all-town elementary school band along with glee clubs from the Stetson and Devine Schools. A June Music Festival in which over five-hundred children participated was held to show the results of their classroom music training.

A Band-Parents Organization was organized with its main goal being the raising of funds for new uniforms for the Junior High School Band. Through the efforts of this organization and the proceeds of the Spring Concert, sufficient funds were raised to purchase new hats and jackets for the band.

In September I was elected to the position of Music Director. The following items will consist of facts pertaining to the Music Department from September through December.

The High School Band numbering 42, played at all of the football games, the dedication of the Lyons School and the Christmas Assembly. The mixed chorus of 62 members made its first appearance under my direction at the Christmas Assembly.

The Dance Band rehearses from 7 to 9 p. m. every Thursday night, with a membership of sixteen.

The Junior Band numbering 35 continues to rehearse after school on Thursday, 4:15 to 5:15. Class lessons are given to this group on Monday afternoon for grade seven and before school on Tuesday for grade 8. The class lessons serve a dual purpose being primarily to increase the general performing ability of each band member and secondly to supplement the rehearsal time of the Junior High Band.

Because of the decreasing number of children playing instruments in the elementary schools, instrumental instruction on all band instruments was opened to all children in grades 4, 5 and 6. Over 150 children started a three month trial period on instruments this fall. Only those who show satisfactory progress will be allowed to continue their lessons after the three-month trial period. In order to keep the children's interest in instrumental music high, elementary bands in each school are being organized. The Devine School Band numbering 32 and the Tower Hill Band numbering 26 have already been organized. Bands in the Stetson, Belcher and Lyons Schools will be organized after the Christmas vacation. In addition to each individual school band, an all-town band which should consist of 150 players will meet once a month. Without this program of instrumental music in the elementary schools, it would not be too long before the band in the high school would dwindle to nothing due to the lack of trained children on instruments. As part of the program of developing the elementary school band, the Band-Parents Organization has taken the project of raising funds to secure uniforms for the Elementary School Bands. Realizing the magnitude of the elementary instrumental program, the School Committee appointed Mr. Michael DePasquale to the music staff two days per week. This appointment has helped greatly, but additional time is still needed to satisfactorily continue the instrumental program in the elementary school.

Miss Sansone reports that because of the 18 classes at the Lyons School, plus the glee clubs, there are 86 classes to be supervised. In order that classes may be visited once every two weeks, several classes at the Lyons and Stetson Schools have been doubled. This doubling of classes is proving to be inadvisable for the children as it definitely fails to meet their individual musical needs. In order to surround each child with situations that bring him all types of musical experience which he can enjoy and through which he will grow and develop in his own way towards a deeper love and understanding of music, additional personnel in the elementary vocal music department are surely needed.

I would like to thank the administration for their assistance and cooperation, plus their diligent efforts in seeking immediate remedies for the lack of instructional time in the Music Department.

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERT M. LACEY,
Director of Music Education

NO SCHOOL SIGNALS

The "no school" policy followed by the Randolph School Department is in the interest of the welfare of the schoool children in health and safety. The calling off of schools depends not only on weather conditions at the opening time of school, but also on the condition of sidewalks and streets.

Parents are encouraged to use their own judgment on stormy days because they are in a better personal position to judge the adequacy of the child's clothing for facing the elements.

The "no school" signals in effect in the public schools are as follows:

Fire Signal Box 3 repeated 4 times at 7:00 a. m. will indicate no school all day for grades 7, 9, 10, 11, 12.

Fire Signal Box 3 repeated 4 times at 7:30 a. m. will indicate no school all day for grades 1 through 6.

Fire Signal Box 3 repeated 4 times at 11:00 a. m. will indicate no school for grade 8 pupils.

Radio announcements will be made from stations WBET (1460), WJDA (1300), WCOP (1150), WBZ (1030), and WHDH (850) at 6:45 a. m. and 11:00 a. m.

Please Do Not Call the Fire Department

Keep turned to those radio stations and you will be the first to know about "no school."

Report of Planning Board

The Planning Board submits herewith the annual report for the year 1958.

The Master Plan Study of the Community by the firm of Shurcliff and Merrill is going well and will be completed in the Fall of this year. Preliminary reports on land use, school needs, drainage, water, parking and traffic have been received and are being reviewed. A Public Meeting to explain the various phases of these preliminary reports was held on January 28, 1959 in the High School Auditorium. The Planning Board welcomes suggestions and recommendations on these reports and will be pleased to discuss them at any time. The Master Plan for the Town is intended to be a flexible guideline to insure the healthy progressive growth of the community providing the schools, recreation areas, roads, drainage and other public improvements needed by the community at a capital outlay rate that the Town can afford.

The Board has presented for your consideration at the Annual Town Meeting several articles which they believe are in the best interest of the Community.

The Planning Board wishes to sincerely thank the Town officials and citizens of Randolph for their continued courtesy and cooperation.

Respectfully submitted

Report of Board of Selectmen

Citizens of Randolph:

Your Board of Selectmen submits herewith their Annual Report of the year 1958.

We regret the loss to the Town of such dedicated personnel as Leslie Post, Ashley Smythe and John Welch.

Their efforts for a better Randolph will be sadly missed.

A broad increase in population necessitated the expanding of many public services in the town to the needs and demands of a fast growing community that has nearly doubled in population within the past ten years.

We, as a Board, are always cognizant of the fact that much has to be done to keep pace with this rapid growth and are trying our utmost to attract industry so as to lessen the burden for the homeowner. We feel sure that with the new highway program, Randolph will be a center of attraction for industrial growth.

Some of the accomplishments which have been witnessed during the past year are as follows:

Through the assistance of the State Dept. of Public Works, speed zones were established on North and South Sts.;

We are still trying to expedite additional traffic lights at Stoughton St., Oak St., Liberty St., and Vesey Rd. to alleviate probable accident causes on Rte. 28;

Held hearings on all public matters covering gravel removal, license violations and all types of complaints;

Are trying every method within our powers to bring about a settlement in the Eastern Mass. bus situation.

We are fully aware of the many problems facing us and ask your participation as we go forward into the year 1959.

Our sincere gratitude to all that have been so cooperative and have assisted us in any manner.

Board of Selectmen
GEORGE H. KILEY, JR., Chairman
GEORGE F. CULLEN, Clerk
RALPH H. HUTCHINSON
JOSEPH J. SEMENSI
THEODORE S. LUDDINGTON

Report of Business and Industrial Commission

"We must have more business and industry in Randolph."

That statement is familiar to us all.

This business or industry however must be located where it will disturb no one with noise, traffic, or mere proximity, because if it does, sleep will be impaired, life will be endangered, and homes will lose their value.

Everyone agrees to tax revenue derived from commrcial property is necessary to help pay for the schools, sewer lines and other services needed by a growing community, but only if they are located 'somewhere else'.

Now, a Master Plan for the town is being completed. This plan recommends the creation of two new industrial areas, and further recommends these areas be zoned for industry only.

Your Business and Industrial Commission unanimously regard these recommendations as sound planning for Randolph's future.

The first area, now known as Bear Swamp, can be drained and developed; is accessable to the Fall River Expressway, Routes 28, 128 and 139; is of sufficient size to construct an industrial park, and is adjacent to presently used industrial land. The second area would have frontage on the expressway; is now partially zoned; and should create no drainage or fill problems.

Before a developer of industrial parks will interest himself in any location, he must be certain the land will be used only for the purpose zoned. Without this guarantee industrial realtors will look elsewhere, and individual builders will act with extreme caution, if at all.

Before our presently zoned area on North Street will be attractive as a commercial location, the Cochato River will have to be lowered for a distance of several miles. When a Federally aided project will do this work is unknown. At present this is our only large zoned area.

This year, and the years just ahead, industries and businesses will seek locations in the Randolph area.

Will they choose Randolph, or this vicinity? The answer will be Randolph if we have the desired locations, properly zoned. In the last analysis, the answer is in the votes of the Town Meeting Members. If this 'answer' continues negative and we find ourselves without a desirable location, taxpayers will change their question to, "Why didn't somebody do something?"

In the meantime, your commission will continue advertising, contacting, compiling, checking progress of local, area and State projects that will effect our future, and in general working to keep Randolph attractive to industry.

The commission welcomes the interest being shown by the Chamber of Commerce in this selling task, important to us all. We wish also to express our appreciation to the Town Manager and town departments who have cooperated with the commission, particularly the assistance of Miss Geneva Nunes and Frank Teed of the assessing office.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK B. KESPERT, Act. Chm.

Citizens of Randolph:

1958 was a year of substantial achievement — the Elizabeth G. Lyons School was finished and occupied — construction of the sewer system was started—several sidewalk, drainage and highway projects were completed —and many improvements at the several school buildings and grounds and the Town Hall were accomplished. Details of the foregoing will be found in the reports of the Department Heads, Boards and Committees.

The effort to improve services and build projects which will contribute to the education, health, safety, welfare and convenience of the people of Randolph goes on unceasingly.

Recognizing that the construction of new schools, the sewer system and other urgently needed projects, imposes a heavy burden on the taxpayers; we are constantly seeking ways and means of alleviating the burden. Apropos of this, our energies are presently directed toward securing the answers to the following:—

(a) How can we attract industry to Randolph?

(b) Should the Town have a Municipal Light and Power Dept. of its own?

(c) Should the Town own and operate school buses?

(d) Can we obtain Federal aid for new school construction?

(e) Can we obtain Federal aid for sewer construction?

(f) Can we obtain Federal payment in lieu of taxes on the Capehart Housing Project?

(g) Can we obtain State and/or Federal aid for improving surface drainage?

(h) Should we repair the Prescott School Building for use as a Recreation Center?

(i) Should we build a Municipal Incinerator (jointly with another town or towns)?

(j) Should the Town "self-insure" Workman's Compensation Insurance?

The accomplishments of 1958 were possible because of the "team-work" between Department Heads, Boards, Committees, employees and citizens. My sincere thanks are hereby extended to you all for your splendid effort. Let's continue that way.

ROBERT A. HANCOCK,
Town Manager.

Report of The Board of Health

COMMUNICABLE DISEASE REPORT

During the year 1959 physicians submitted 153 reports concerning communicable diseases or other conditions that are reportable to the Board of Health, as follows: Chicken pox 16; Dog bite 114; German measles 1; Measles 6; Mumps 1; Scarlet fever 11; Whooping Cough 4.

Polio vaccination clinics were held during the year for approximately 3500 adults and children. This program was sponsored by the town physicians in co-operation and with the assistance of the Board of Health. Health department employees, volunteer nurses and clerical workers, and school department custodial personnel, aided the program in their various capacities. It is believed that the citizens of the town have been given every opportunity through the clinics operated during the past years to have been completely immunized against poliomyelitis. We do know, however, that many persons who should have received the inoculations have not done so, and, strangely enough, the majority of the non-inoculated are among the male population the so-called bread-winner of the family.

Town employees were given the opportunity again this year of receiving influenza vaccine inoculations at two clinics held at the Health Center. The vaccine was provided by the Board of Health without cost to employees. The number of employees taking advantage of the opportunity to receive the inoculation was disappointing, particularly, when it is expected that there will be a high incidence of influenza this winter.

Approximately 300 children in the Randolph public school system received diphtheria-tetanus and polio vaccine inoculations in the continuing program to have all pupils in the school system completely immunized.

PREMATURE INFANT PROGRAM

Reports of 21 live premature births were received by the Board during 1959. However, financial assistance was not required of the Town in any case. The Public Health Nurses rendered care and parental instructions in all of these premature cases.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING PROGRAM

Three registered nurses, Miss Beatrice Scannell, Mrs. Janet Dimmick, and Mrs. Mary Bonney, continue to do the public health and visiting nursing work for the Town.

Prevention of disease is the most important phase of the Public Health program and we are pleased that the clinics held for this purpose during the year were so well attended.

The Well-Baby Conference, better known as the well-baby clinic, was held once each month for children up to school age. The clinics were well attended. At these conferences, inoculations against diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus and poliomyelitis were given as needed. Physical examinations were also given and home visits made by our nurses following the clinics when necessary to insure that any orders given by the physician were carried out.

Premature births reported to the Board were followed through by a Public Health nurse and a home evaluation visit was made to prepare for the home-coming of the baby. A visit was made following the home-coming to assist the mother to better understand the care of the baby and to assist in any other way possible in the proper home care of the child.

Instructions before and after the birth of any child was made to any person desiring this service in order to give instructions in care, formula making, or any part of home care ordered for the mother or baby, also, any pre-school child in the home.

Communicable diseases of major importance were followed closely and instructions as to care and prevention for the rest of the family explained. Tuberculosis patients, contacts of the disease, or suspects were followed routinely.

The Boston School for the Deaf was covered by a Public Health Nurse to assist in school nursing and supervision.

Bedside nursing and all forms of home care continue to be the major part of the Visiting Nurse work and all care and treatment ordered by the physician were ably carried out. Each visit consisted of care of the patient and instructions to some capable person for the care of the patient between the nurses visits.

Office visits increased in number and the convenience of being able to come to the Health Center for certain treatments ordered by physicians have been favorably received.

Conferences, classes and seminars on new methods were attended by the nurses so that the best possible service could be rendered to the townspeople.

ENVIRONMENTAL SANITATION

Nuisance complaints of many varieties were investigated during the year. The majority of complaints, as usual, concerned sewage disposal systems. In addition to complaints received, advice and recommendations were requested of the Health Agent by householders in a number of cases concerning malfunctioning sewage disposal systems. In most cases the agent was contacted early enough so that serious damage was prevented. The use of chemicals in septic tanks was a factor in some cases, the chemical disturbing sewage in the septic tank to such a degree as to cause solids to go into leaching fields and clog the pipes.

One residence was declared unfit for human habitation by the Board, and two others, who were found to have outdoor privies, were ordered to comply with Board of Health regulations and install proper toilet and sewage disposal facilities.

Bids were received in November for the collection and disposal of garbage contract. Because the bids were considered to be too high by both the Board and Town Manager all were rejected and bids were invited and received in December. The contract for a one year period will be awarded upon appropriation of funds at the March Town Meeting.

ANIMAL AND SLAUGHTER

Mr. Cornelius J. Crowley, Animal and Slaughter Inspector reports as of Dececmber 31, 1959, that there were 114 dogs quarantined, one horse had to be disposed of. All barns in Randolph were inspected, at the present time there are 57 cows and 33 horses. Two dogs heads were sent to Wasserman State Laboratory, 6 cows were quarantined for tuberculosis and brucellosis test, no reactors. Four hundred and three calls were investigated during the year from calls received from Board of Health, Police Department and the Division of Livestock Disease Control of Massachusetts. There were no cases of encephelomyelitis (sleeping sickness in horses) within the town.

PLUMBING INSPECTIONS

Mr. Thomas O'Riley, Plumbing Inspector, issued 107 licenses. Fixtures installed included 202 toilets, 146 sinks, 186 wash bowls, 131 bath tubs, 36 wash trays, 3 urinals, 7 shower baths, 3 slop sinks and 21 drinking fountains. The sum of $990.00 was collected and turned over to the Town Treasurer.

MOSQUITO CONTROL

The following work was performed:

Aerial spraying 1500 acres; ground spraying 2098½ acres; pre-hatch dusting 2588 acres; drainage 4788 feet; clearing brush 810 feet; culverts cleaned 2; catch basins treated 1711.

FOOD SANITATION

Food service establishments received at least two inspections during the year, and swab-testing for bacteria was performed in each establishment during the year. Re-swabbing was done in those places exceeding the maximum bacterial count allowable. Stores and markets are continuing to be checked with emphasis this year placed on frozen foods being kept at proper temperature.

Many improvements in lay-out and equipment in the food service establishments were made by the proprietors during the year. The sincere effort being demonstrated by the food service managers and owners to maintain good, clean establishments is certain to bring fine results.

MILK INSPECTOR

The milk inspection program is performed by Henry Merrill, Milk Inspector.

Milk licenses issued were 41-$20.50; vehicle licenses 21-$10.50; pasteurization licenses issued 1-$10.00; Oleo licenses 35-$17.50. Total $58.50.

OTHER ACTIVITIES

Mr. Seth W. Swain resigned from the Board after 13 years service effective April 30, 1959. Mr. Robert

A. Corey was unanimously elected chairman of the Board and Mr. Jospeh W. Curran was appointed by the Town Manager to the Board of Health to replace Mr. Swain.

A diabetes detection program to be sponsored by the Ladies Junior Library Association with Board of Health assistance, is being planned for April 1960.

REVENUE PRODUCED BY THE BOARD OF HEALTH

Sewage disposal permits and general licenses —$371.50; Hospital subsidies—$525.01; Plumbing licenses—$990.00; Milk and Dairy Products—$58.50. Total revenue—$1945.01.

Tuesday and Wednesday	1 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.
Friday	1 p.m. to 6 p.m.
Saturday	10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

(Closed on Sundays and Legal holidays)

To the citizens of Randolph,

In accordance with the provisions of Article III of the By-Laws for the Government of the Trustees of the Turner Library, this eighty-fourth annual report is submitted to show the condition of the Trust—the library, the funds and the building—for the calendar year 1959 and to mention such other matters concerning the Library as may be of general interest.

The Trustees wish to call to the attention of all residents the increased hours during which the Library is open for service. The schedule shown at the head of this report represents a total of 44 hours per week—an increase of 7 hours over the schedule previously in effect. Under normal conditions, the Library now is open three mornings per week compared with two mornings per week last year; and now is open for service on three days of the week at 1:00 o'clock instead of 2:00 o'clock. These changes have been considered necessary and advisable in order to care for the greatly increased use of the library's facilities by both adults and school children and have been made possible by the improved financial support given the Library by the town.

The increasing use of Turner Library by the public has been evidenced by the fact that 4,660 library cards (renewable after three years) have been issued to borrowers during the past three calendar years. This steadily increasing number of borrowers represents approximately one-quarter of the total population of the town—as currently estimated. And since several members of a family often make use of books "charged out" on one borrower's card, the number of persons actually enjoying the library's resources is undoubtedly considerably more than one-quarter of the total population.

During 1959 there also has been a further very substantial increase in the number of books and periodicals borrowed by townspeople. Whereas this "circulation" totalled 43,544 volumes during 1958, during 1959 it rose to 60,795—an increase of 17,251 volumes. In this connection it may be of interest to point out that these circulation figures never include the many books and periodicals merely consulted by people while at the library. Nor do these figures include the thousands of questions that are asked by patrons and that require reference work by members of the Library Staff. Rather, they reflect only the reading material charged to borrower's cards and taken from the Library's premises.

While there are many factors that have a bearing on the quality of any library's service to the public, one of the most important is an adequate supply of books—books that meet high standards of quality in content, expression and format. The library's book collection also should meet the needs of various groups—children, business, gardeners, home keepers, to name only a few. The collection should retain the classics of the past, yet keep up to date with the best of current fiction and non-fiction. It also should have more than one copy of the most popular titles so that patrons will not be obliged to wait excessively before being able to use them. Furthermore, each book should be clean and neat in appearance—for, no matter how much a reader might enjoy its contents, he or she simply will not be attracted by a book that is soiled, worn and dingy in appearance.

At the end of 1959, Turner Library had a collection of 26,139 books. But, as the Librarian, Mrs. Lucia Faulkner has indicated in her annual letter to the Trustees (which letter I have appended as a part of this report) this number falls considerably short of being an adequate supply of books for a public library in a town the size of Randolph. According to the latest statistics of Free Public Libraries in Massachusetts prepared by the State's Board of Library Commissioners, the average number of books in the libraries of Massachusetts towns with a population of between 10,000 and 25,000 persons, is over 44,000 volumes. Therefore, during coming years it is hoped that increased funds will be available through the town to permit a steady and substantial increase in the Turner Library's book collection.

At the same time the Trustees gratefully acknowledge the numerous book gifts made by both organizations and individuals interested in the Turner Library and hope that these will continue. In fact, a gift that is always thoughtful and appreciated is one made to the Library in memory of a friend, a neighbor or a member of one's family. Whether it be one book or several or a fund for the purchase of books, the gift can be acknowledged and identified in accordance with the wishes of the donor. The Librarian is always ready to assist prospective donors in arrangements for memorial gifts.

On the personal side, it will be of interest to Mrs. Faulkner's many friends and acquaintances to know that she has been elected Secretary of the Old Colony Library Club—the professional association of library people in the Old Colony Area. Mrs. Faulkner's election is for a two-year term.

The Trustees are pleased to announce that Mrs. Edmund F. Keough has accepted a position on the regular staff of the Turner Library and will begin her new duties the first of February, 1960. Mrs. Keough, whose home is in Raynham Ctr., Mass., is a graduate of State Teachers' College and has taught school for a number of years. She also has had nine years of experience in library work, some of which was at the Taunton Public Library and, most recently, as Librarian at the Raynham Ctr. Public Library. We are confident that Mrs. Keough will be a valuable addition to our library's present excellent regular staff.

The Trustees were saddened, on the other hand, by the death on April 14, 1959 of Mr. Joseph D. Wales who faithfully had served the Library as a Trustee since April 7, 1930. For many of these years he was Secretary and Treasurer of the Trustees and his knowledge and understanding of the details of library administration were evidenced by the care and thoroughness with which he at all times carried out his special responsibilities. This kindly gentleman's valuable contribution to the work of the Library and the Library Trustees will indeed be missed.

During the past year, the Library Building has been maintained in satisfactory general repair; the renovation and painting of walls in the Reference Room was completed early in the year; and the recommendations made by agents of the insuring companies (who inspected the building at the Trustee's request have been given prompt and effective attention. In addition, a boiler was installed to provide hot water for library purposes.

In March 1959, the sum of $22,400 was approved by Town Meeting members for necessary expenses of operation of the Turner Library. Of this amount, $16,400 was for Salaries and $6,000 for Expenses. All of the latter amount was expended except $1.17; but there was an unexpected balance of $1,630.75 in the salary account. This balance developed because, once the additional expense had been approved, time was required to locate a person who would meet the particular needs of the Library at this time. The annual report of the Treasurer of the Library is appended as a part of this report in order to provide a complete financial picture. For the coming year, it has been necessary for the Trustees to request favorable consideration of an increase in operating funds for the Library—to care for necessary salary increases, for additional book purchases and for essential repairs and changes in the building.

In conclusion, the Trustees wish to pay tribute to the loyal and effective service rendered by Mrs. Faulkner and her capable staff. The Trustees also are appreciative of the excellent cooperation of Town Officers and Department Administrators throughout the year. With the continued understanding and assistance of everyone concerned, the Trustees look forward to further progress toward meeting this growing town's library needs.

Report of The Librarian

Turner Free Library

To the Trustees of the Turner Free Library

Dear Friends:

Once again, at the conclusion of a very busy year, the staff of Turner Free Library reports progress toward some, at least, of our many goals. We are gratified at the increasing interest of town residents, convincingly apparent in what is commonly known as "cold figures." Some of these figures, however, serve better than anything else to give our townspeople a graphic picture of library progress.

Interesting and significant are the figures on "circulation," or outgoing books. The largest day, the largest month and the largest year in the history of the library came in 1959. The five years of 1952 through 1956 saw a total circulation of 50,791 books. 1959 ALONE saw a circulation of 60,795! To pursue it a little further; the ten years of 1947 through 1956 saw a circulation of 122,862. The last THREE years have seen a circulation of 129,849!

In the five years of 1952 through 1956, town interest was reflected in the registration of 3,051 people. In the last THREE years the figure swelled to 4,660—an increase of 1609 readers in three over five years. Best of all, boiled down it means that Randolphians are reading—are evidencing a sound perspective on the lasting value of culture in their community.

2,548 new volumes acquired in 1959, are now circulating in the library, 400 of which were gifts, the largest being that donated by the Junior Ladies' Library Association. Although the number of new volumes may seem to be a large one, I should like to point out that many of the books in our collection are very old non-fiction, of little practical value today. Others have become gradually or suddenly outdated by advances in the arts and sciences; and still others should be discarded as worn beyond repair. Thus it is important that we do everything possible in 1960 to increase our supply of usable books, with a particular view to strengthening those areas of special interest where our collection is most in need of new and up-to-date material.

The staff operated yet another year without the assistance of a fourth regular staff member. This, we are glad to say, and with much relief, will not need to be the case in 1960. In this year just terminated, with increases in everything, and lacking that fourth member, splendid service has been given us in small, part-time lots by Miss Alice Raymond, Mrs. Gertrude Walsh, our library pages and some outside typing service. Without this sporadic assistance we simply could not have functioned to the extent that we did.

Library service to the public took yet another upward swing from 37 hours to 44 hours.

Perhaps one of the most significent gestures was that made by many of the retail merchants and business houses in Randolph during 1959's National Library Week. During that week the following made not just token gestures, but provided generous window space plus tie-in displays with pertinent books from this library; Curran's Hardware Store, Hill's Five and Ten, Trinque's Drugstore, Gan-non's Hardware Store, Weymouth Light and Power and Whitey's Bakery. Brodil's Bootery and the Randolph Savings Bank were glad to carry an announcement, in the absence of additional display material; and other merchants evidenced friendly cooperation. The Randolph Town House, Cathay City, Randolph Food Shop, Harry's Diner and the Shamrock carried table tents on their tables the full week; and the elementary schools and various P.T.A. organizations cooperated beautifully by sending our announcements into the homes. The Randolph Cooperative Bank has consistently supplied us with bookmarks, giving our library hours. This glimpse of the tremendous potential in community-library relations made all the high-pressure times doubly worth the effort!

Again all this has been made possible through the continued understanding and support of your board and of the town. Our sincere appreciation can best be expressed by an even more accomplishful 1960!

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) LUCIA S. FAULKNER,
Librarian.

Report of Business and Industrial Commission

During the past year it has become apparent industrial expansion is moving from a northerly and westerly direction in the Boston region to a more southerly one. The next two years will find this trend increasing in momentum. Randolph is now attracting inquiries and investigations from interested business and industry.

The recent announcement of Trim-Alloys, Inc. plan to join our community and build here is but one indication of this growing industrial interest in our town. The features Trim Alloy found desirable in Randolph, we believe other industries will also find desirable; nearness to major highways and truck routes, sewerage facilities, abundance of electrical power, an adequate labor pool, and a cooperative Town government. We wish to congratulate Town Manager Robert Hancock and Building Inspector Frank Teed on their efforts in "Selling Randolph" to this new industry.

To aid in and keep abreast of the southerly industrial trend, your commission has prepared articles for the annual town warrent which we believe will make us more attractive to industry by safeguarding residential, business and industrial zones.

We have attended seminars conducted by the Mass. Dept. of Commerce on the advertising, financing and planning of industrial areas; met and consulted with town planners; attended meetings of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce, and continued our distribution of literature for the Town of Randolph.

The Master Plan of our Town has been completed and a planned approach to the location of business and industrial areas given. These recommended areas, your commission feels, are in good locations, based on a careful study and should be used as a guide to insure our future attractiveness to business and industry.

During the coming year your commission plans to continue attendance and participation in Mass. Dept. of Commerce seminars and meetings, meet with Industrial Commissions of neighboring communities and increase distribution of advertising brochures.

The commission wishes to express appreciation for the cooperation and assistance given by Town Departments and local servce organizations.

Can YOU help us ... "SELL RANDOLPH"?

FRANK KESPERT, Chairman
HAROLD VROOM, Clerk
FRANCIS BOURBEAU

Report of The Dog Officer

I hereby submit my report as Dog Officer for the year 1959.

Report of The Civil Defense

Civil Defense can save the tax payers money by providing equipment through Federal Surplus Property issues, and by using Federal and State Matching Funds.

To qualify for these benefits it is required that the various Town Departments personnel be supplemented for emergency purposes by Civil Defense auxiliary membership, as CD Police, CD Firemen, Highway and Water departments, Welfare and Rescue services, and Communications.

The more efficiently civil defense is organized in all departments, the more opportunity afforded Randolph for government assistance in procuring for our own town equipment, and supplies that will be available for any type of emergency.

The Civil Defense Agency of Randolph has qualified to receive government equipment and supplies of surplus property, and is one of the 351 cities and towns of Massachusetts so qualified.

At present we are equipped to establish one First Aid Station. We need two more. Randolph has a Communication Section that meets once each week, and is efficiently organized under the direction of George Foley.

We need CD volunteer firemen to receive instruction under Chief Paul Anderson. Chief Patrick McDonnell will provide instruction to CD Police for emergency service.

A balanced CD organization for Randolph, can save lives and property at a time when outside help may not be available. Every person in our town should interest himself or herself in the advantages for self protection, in case of fire, explosion, storm, or unforseen calamity, as provided in our Civil Defense Agency.

RALPH E. MacLEOD,
Colonel, USA, RET.

Report of Director of Veterans' Services

The year 1959 was one of the busiest years since the town adopted Chapter 115 of the General Laws.

Our office developed and processed over 700 claims for veterans benefits, under both Federal and State Laws. Most of the year our average on veterans benefits alone was over 100 cases. Our appropriation for 1959 was $55,000.00 and we disbursed the sum of $52,209.67, therefore turned back to the E. and D. Account $2,790.33. The Town of Randolph will be reimbursed by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts 50% of our disbursement, which amounts to $26,104.83. On Assignment and Lien Cases, we have recovered the sum of $2,678.03 that was paid to veterans benefits cases, making a total turned over to the Town Treasury $5,478.36, plus the $26,104.83 from the State.

We gratefully acknowledge the splendid cooperation from the Town Manager, Town Officials and Veterans Organizations for making the year 1959 a most successful one.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM S. COLE,
Director

Report of The School Planning and Building Committee

The expenditures for the Lyons School, dedicated and occupied on December 2, 1958, have nearly been completed. Starting the year of 1959 the School Planning and Building Committee had a balance of $102,968.68. Expenditures such as additional fencing, additional equipment and payment on contracts have reduced the balance as of December 31, 1959 to $9,265.69. This sum will be used to make final payments during 1960.

The $10,000.00 appropriation for preliminary plans and specifications for an 800-pupil Junior High School was still intact on January 1, 1959. The committee continued its interviews and investigations of architects until June 1959 when it made known its selection of the firm of Stoner Associates of Boston. In July of 1959, after approval by the town of its choice, a contract for preliminary plans and specications was signed.

At a special Town Meeting on November 9, 1959, where a preliminary presentation was made, the town raised and appropriated the sum of $1,135,000.00 for the design and construction of this school.

After expenditures of $8,455.00, which included payment to the architect, test borings and survey, there remained a balance of $1,545.00. No expenditures were made against the design and construction appropriation, so the $1,135,000.00 remained intact. All Junior High School expenditures through December 31, 1959 were against the appropriation for preliminary plans and specifications.

Progress on the design of the new Junior High School had reached approximately 25% as of December 31, 1959.

Report of The Fire Department

I herewith submit the report of the Randolph Fire Department for the year ending December 31, 1959.

Within the past ten years it has been necessary for the fire department to replace stations and apparatus which were outmoded and beyond repair.

While these were a part of the many, but necessary, burdens which the taxpayers' had to bear, it is gratifying to report these expenditures have resulted in lower insurance rates in the town. To further reduced insurance rates, recommendations of the New England Fire Insurance Rating Association will be followed to the best of our ability.

Our buildings, apparatus and equipment are now in good condition. However, the growth of the town makes it necessary to extend fire alarm lines and boxes. Several fire alarm boxes were installed as long ago as 1900. These are being replaced and it will probably require two more years to complete the project.

Randolph had only two major fires in 1959, and both were mercantile buildings. Property losses in dwellings were unusually low, which, I feel, is a merit to our department.

At this time I wish to commend the firefighters of my department who have helped make such a fine record possible.

The department responded to 421 fire calls classified as follows:

Building fires	65
Brush and grass	197
Lockouts	14
Automobile	36
False	15
Miscellaneous	70
Accidental alarms	12
Resuscitator	7
Aid calls	5
	421
Ambulance calls	348

Respectfully submitted,

PAUL D. ANDERSON,
Fire Chief.

Report of Tree Warden and Moth Superintendent

I herewith submit my report as Tree Warden and Moth Superintendent for the year of 1959. The regular program of repairing storm damage, trimming and removal of dead and dangerous trees was carried on during the year. As this work is spread over eighty five miles of road, it limits the amount of work to any one street.

1. Trees removed in year of 1959

During the year, 90 trees were removed. Also, 20 trees were removed for Highway Department in connection with street and sidewalk construction. Location of dead trees removed in the year of 1959 can be found in the Town Manager's office.

2. Tree Planting in the year of 1959

The restoration of the beauty of our town of Randolph by planting trees, both shade and ornamental, is an important function of our town. The rapid development of our town since the war years has created a great need for more tree planting. A total of 85 trees was planted in the year of 1959. Location of trees planted in the year of 1959 can be found in the Town Manager's office.

3. Tree Trimming

During 1959 extensive tree trimming was carried out on many streets throughout the town. Trees were trimmed around street lights as much as possible. Low hanging limbs and dead branches were removed where necessary. Three hundred truck loads of limbs, branches, and trunks of trees were trucked to town dump.

4. Safety of the town is very important

The economy of our country and our National Defense is entirely dependent upon the proper functioning of electric and telephone service without interruption. If large limbs or branches are in the way of the wires, or trees are in the way of wires, they should be removed for the safety of both electric and the telephone company.

5. Education

The educational side of our work is an important field as the public knows so little about trees and related problems. In the course of a year many hundreds of requests for information relative to trees and tree care, conservation, insect problems, etc., are answered or advice given where assistance may be had to guide them.

6. Moth Department

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts through its Insect Pest Control Department has notified this department that our liability for gypsy moth work for the coming year is $3,300.

As has been stated, we are taking down many more trees than are being planted, and our program of planting should be increased immediately.

At this time I wish to thank the Town Manager and Board of Selectmen and citizens for their splendid cooperation during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH J. HART,
Tree Warden and Moth Superintendent.

Report of The Sewer Commissioners

The Sewer Commissioners proudly report that the contract for Trunk Sewer No. 2 was advertised for bids on April 14-15 and 16, 1959.

Bids received were as follows:

1.	Civitarese-Piatelli	$855,225.00
2.	Wes Julian-Const. Co.	1,008,070.00
3.	Ralph Richard Co.	1,073,856.00

After careful study of all unit prices the contract was awarded to Civitarese-Piatelli.

Work on Trunk Sewer No. 2 was started on July 15, 1959. After work was started it was necessary for the Board of Sewer Commissioners to make changes for the benefit of reducing the length of the tunnel to be constructed at Clark Street and adjacent areas.

Trunk Sewer No. 1 and Trunk Sewer No. 2 are progressing on schedule. Trunk Sewer No. 1 is 92 % complete and ready for lateral connections from the Cochato River South Westerly to the North Street Bridge. 23 Manholes have been installed in Trunk No. 1, 4,361 ft. of 36" RCP, 258 ft. of 42" CinP, 875 ft. of 30" RCP, and 2691 ft. of 24" RCP have been used in this construction, given a total of 8,185 ft. of pipe. 6 manholes have been installed in Trunk No. 2, 1,588 ft, of 30" RCP. To date 1,660 ft. of rock tunnel is complete.

The Randolph Trunk Sewer and the Metropolitan Trunk Sewer at the Cochato River was tied in on January 25, 1960, therefore, making the Randolph Trunk Sewer usable.

With the additional funds requested, we will start our lateral lines in the spring of 1960. The Sewer Commissioners and the Town Manager have used every engineering method and means to cut construction cost to a minimum.

We have had several construction difficulties during the sewer project, because of unforeseen circumstances underground. With the continued cooperation of the Town's people and the Town Manager we will have an operating sewer system in 1960.

The population of Randolph is steadily increasing and I believe the time has now come when the station should be covered on a 24 hour basis. An article to this effect is in the Town Meeting Warrant and I strongly urge the voters of Randolph to give it their most careful consideration.

In spite of continuous patrol on the highways, we have had 4 fatal accidents during the past year, also many accidents involving personal injury and property damage. In many instances we have had to call in the State and Registry officers to assist us in traffic enforcement and both departments have been most cooperative.

Before closing, I again wish to thank the Townspeople of Randolph, the Board of Selectmen, Town Manager and all Departments who have assisted us during the past year. You may also be assured that the department will continue to serve you to the best of our ability.

Sincerely yours,

PATRICK T. McDONNELL

ANNUAL REPORT

of the

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

of the

TOWN OF RANDOLPH

For the Year Ending December 31

1959

1959

The Randolph School Committee herewith submits its annual report to the Citizens of the Town of Randolph:

The School Committee meets regularly on the second and fourth Tuesdays of every month at 8:00 p.m. in the High School, and the public is invited to attend these meetings. Committee members are elected for a period of 3 years, and serve without pay.

Due to the ever-increasing requirements and demands for students by American colleges today, the School Committee has inaugurated a stepped-up academic program in the High School, and the High School Principal, under the guidance of the School Committee, has instituted special afternoon classes to better prepare the students for the college entrance examinations.

The high calibre of the elementary grades is evidenced by the fact that in all classes, and in all subject areas, Randolph stands well above the national norm. Due to highly modern and accepted methods of education, such as the administration for the first time this Fall of the Iowa tests of basic skills in grades 1 through 6, we have been able to individualize instruction for all pupils in all classes, and in all schools. The high standards of the Randolph elementary grades are the result of the cooperative efforts of the administrators, principals, supervisors, and teachers.

The school budget for 1960 has been arrived at after many special meetings of the School Committee, during which the members appraised the budgetary requests of all principals, taking into consideration the educational needs of the students, and the cost to the townspeople. In view of the fact that the firm of Shurcliff and Merrill, hired by the town to prognosticate the future needs of the town, including school budget, have forecast a school expenditure of $1,336,000. for 1960, the School Committee feels its request, which is some $200,000. below this figure, is justifiable and serves the best interests of all. Without neglecting the educational needs of Randolph children, the Committee has been able to keep the per pupil cost approximately $30.00 below that of comparable communities in Massachusetts.

We express our appreciation to the Superintendent of Schools, the Assistant Superintendent, and the staff of administrators, to the teachers, clerks, custodians, cafeteria workers, and all personnel for their cooperation and loyalty.

To the Members of the Randolph School Committee and all the citizens of the Town of Randolph, I hereby submit this, my fifth annual report:

During the past year we have to the best of our ability, with the aid of a very good staff, accepted and carried a tremendous responsibility, namely, the education of 4053 sons and daughters of Randolph. Every day in the life of each and every one of these youngsters is of the utmost importance to them as individuals, and to the community, state and nation. As trite and threadbare as the expression "they are the future of our country" may seem, it is, nevertheless, completely true. The entire staff, working under the leadership of the school committee members, the Superintendent, the Assistant Superintendent, and the Principals, has worked diligently to assure the success of the future of these children entrusted to our charge.

I wish to commend the members of the School Committee for the positive action which they took in establishing Rules and Regulations for the conduct, dress, and attention to studies for the pupils of the High School. Special meetings of the committee with some pupils and their parents to discuss violations of the Rules and Regulations, along with the cooperative attitude of the vast majority of the students, have brought about excellent results. Visitors to the high school are quick to notice and comment upon the businesslike conduct and dress of our young people.

Our efforts to improve the entire school system at every level has continued throughout the year. In the elementary grades, the improvements, particularly in the field of reading has been most gratifying. The fact that school officials from a number of communities, even as far as upper New York State, have come to see our reading program in action is proof that we are performing outstanding work.

The reports of the high school principal and the Director of Guidance point out ways in which we have moved to meet the challenge of the ever-rising standards for admittance to college. I suggest strongly that you read all of the parts of the school report, in order that you may be aware of what your schools are doing.

If you wish to further strengthen your knowledge of the schools, we would be happy to arrange for you to see any grade or grades in action. Even with the greatest efficiency and economy, schools cost a large part of the tax dollars, despite the fact that our cost per pupil is consistently less than the average for the other communities in the Commonwealth.

You are urged to read the report of Shurcliff & Merrill, "A Master Plan for the Town of Randolph, Massachusetts." Mr. David Young of Shurcliff and Merrill worked very closely with us in covering the "schools" phase of the report, which is very explicit and complete.

The unanimous vote for the new junior high building indicated the desire of the townspeople to provide adequate school building facilities. The immediate construction of an elementary school is imperative. If St. Mary's elementary school is ready by the fall of 1961, it is anticipated that three grades, accommodating approximately 270 pupils will be utilized. This would still leave a shortage of 487 pupil stations in grades 1-6. Presently, we expect that it will be necessary to place approximately twenty-four elementary groups on "double-session" in the Fall of 1960. At the moment it is not known in what schools this will take place, and it will be determined only after a detailed study of school populations in the various school districts.

Staff changes during the past year have been very few, which is a strong factor in giving stability to the system. A competitive salary schedule and pleasant working conditions make it possible for us to retain our staff and to recruit desirable replacements.

The entire school community, particularly the high school teachers and pupils, was shocked and saddened early in May because of the untimely death of Mr. Joseph Daly, Director of Guidance. A veteran of twenty-seven years in the Randolph Schools, Mr. Daly held the confidence and trust of teachers, parents, and pupils. The tremendous number of present and former pupils at his funeral was a fitting demonstration of the esteem in which he was held by all.

Mr. Thomas F. Grady, Jr., was finally chosen to be Director of Guidance after a careful evaluation of the qualifications of twenty-one candidates It was particularly important that a properly qualified person be chosen for the guidance staff and function are about to expand, as is true throughout the country. It is of the utmost importance that people in grades 7 throughout 12 receive proper and sufficient guidance counselling, in order that they become aware of, and fully utilize, their latent, natural abilities. We expect, by staff additions, to be able to adequately care for these needs by September, 1960.

Mrs. Marie H. Cormey, Principal of the Tower Hill School, retired in June, after a career in education of forty-two years. Her energy and enthusiasm were endless and infectious. Hers certainly has been a life of service to the youth of Randolph, and the many testimonials given to her in the closing weeks of the 1958-59 school year were concrete testimony of the love and appreciation of her former pupils, parents and associates. She now functions as one of our most energetic substitutes to the extent allowed under the retirement laws.

In an operation as large as that of the Randolph Public Schools, all cannot be perfect, and misunderstandings will certainly arise. If and when they do, come to see us and let us sit down and talk things over so that the solution which is best for the child may be arrived at amicably and quickly. Your helpful suggestions and kindly criticisms are always appreciated.

I wish to thank the members of the School Commitee, Mr. Lynch, the Assistant Superintendent, and all other members of the school system for their continued support and cooperation. We are also most appreciative of the excellent cooperation which we have received from all other departments of the town.

THOMAS L. WARREN

REPORT OF THE HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

The year of 1959 climaxed a situation which has been long expected, but postponed as long as it was possible. For two years, Randolph High School had been on a partial shift because of a large enrolment, wherein only the seventh and eighth grades were affected. During the year of 1959, however, it was necessary to put the whole school on shift with the high school in session from 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon and the junior high school from 12:15 p.m. to 4:15 p.m.

From an administrative point of view, this program is functioning efficiently and smoothly. Educationally, there is not too much loss to the pupil. There are, however, some exceptions in the area of science laboratory and music classes, which must be scheduled after school hours. It has been necessary to cut class periods from six to five daily and we have been able to program all pupil schedules into these five periods but since the junior and senior class schedules are heavier than those of the other two, the upper classmen have no time for anything except regular academic work. Therefore, the laboratory and music classes must be scheduled after school hours.

With this shortened day, it should not be considered that the teachers' load is lessened, because actually it is not. Each teacher has just as many teaching periods as before; he has just as many pupils to teach and just as many papers to correct. In fact, it could be said that the teachers' work, in many cases, is made more difficult because of the shortened hours, as in the case of the pupils.

Everyone, pupils and faculty alike, is looking forward to the completion of the new junior high school building, so we may get back to a normal school day and a normal program.

The future of the high school cafeteria, under the double session plan, was uncertain, especially with one group leaving at twelve and the other group arriving at the same time. Stetson School pupils are now patronizing our cafeteria daily and with many of our own pupils who continue to eat there, we have been able to keep this service operating. Much credit is due Mrs. Simmons, our cafeteria manager, and the other ladies who keep our cafeteria " in the black " as usual, even under the trying conditions of the present situation.

The year of 1959 has seen a number of innovations in the form of after-school activities. We now have special after-school classes in English and Mathematics for pupils in the Senior and Junior years of the college preparatory course. These classes are intended to better prepare the pupils who plan to take College Board Examinations. They are, obviously, no guarantee of high scores in the examinations, but we felt that these classes would be of help along these lines.

These extra classes are staffed by volunteers from our faculty, including Miss Brewster, Miss Foley and Mrs. Noblin in English, with Mr. Lehtinen, Mr. Drey and Mrs. Lynch taking care of the Mathematics. Also, 1959 saw an afternoon class in Anatomy sponsored by Mr. Thompson of the Science Department. This group made a definite contribution to scientific advances by pupils but although at present this group is not functioning, we hope that difficulties may be resolved so that this class may be revived.

Mr. Sherman, also of the Science Department, has sponsored another group of young scientists in the form of an Oceanographic Laboratory, which I believe, is the only one in existence in any high school in the country. Inasmuch as the National Government is placing such great emphasis on this subject, we feel that it is an important field of scientific research and the youngsters of Randolph High School are making and will continue to make an important contribution to the work being carried on in this area. Mr. Santry of the Commercial Department is conducting afternoon classes in advanced work in the commercial field. Space is lacking to adequately mention all of the fine things our teachers are voluntarily doing to help the students of the school progress and grow in their particular specialty. We are particularly pleased with the spirit and enthusiasm.

Randolph High School suffered a heavy loss during the year in the passing on of Mr. Joseph W. Daly, our Guidance Director for many years, and a veteran in the guidance field. He was a fine man, the depth of whose work with the pupils was unknown to most of us, yet who carried out his duties in such a quiet, unassuming way as to win for him the admiration and gratefulness of many, many people. The unexpected death of Mr. Daly has been a decided loss to the school and the community; certainly the young people have lost a sincere friend. After a careful study of applicants to fill the vacancy of Director of Guidance, the choice of Mr. Thomas F. Grady, Jr., was made to fill this most important post. Mr. Grady comes to us with a wealth of background and experience and we feel that the longer he is with us, the more his value to the students of the school will be in evidence. We are pleased to have Mr. Grady with us and attention is called to his first annual report.

To assist Mr. Grady in his work, Miss Winifred M. Brennan is now working as full-time counsellor in the Guidance Department and has been appointed to act as Dean of Girls. We feel that Miss Brennan is eminently qualified for this work because of her long and successful career working with young people and especially the girls. An important work has been officially put into the hands of the right teacher.

We wish to extend our thanks and appreciation to students and faculty for their patience and co-operation in helping to make these trying days of double shift as productive as they are. Certainly those who do their after-school work with so much enthusiasm are worthy of commendation.

HUBERT F. GILGAN

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF GUIDANCE

My Predecessor, Mr. Joseph W. Daly, was a most unusual man. He combined a rare personal magnetism with an outstanding professional background, and by doing so became a leader in his profession and a second "Mr. Chips" in the hearts of his students. To follow such a man is a great and difficult task; to carry on the traditions of his work is an honor.

During the first months of my administration of the guidance services in the Randolph Public Schools, I have been impressed with the excellent tenor which extends from the School Committee and the Administration, through the faculty, to the parents and students. The Administration and School Committee are certainly forward-looking and eager to provide the finest possible educational experience for Randolph's youth, which is, of course, the obligation of everyone concerned with public education.

Although there is not yet a coordinated guidance program from Grade I through Grade XII, such a program is being formulated and studied. Guidance services in the Junior High are of the highest quality, but seriously overtaxed.

The high school students have full and free use of the guidance library at all times and are always welcome to make appointments to confer with the girls' counselor, Miss Winifred Brennan, or with me. The problems we encounter throughout the school day include those connected with curriculum choice, future planning, personal and emotional adjustment, health, job placement and college entrance. Close contacts with referral agencies, employers and institutions of higher education are maintained.

Randolph's non-college students receive a high type of training and have always been welcome in Boston business and local firms. For example, our business education department is one of the most active and efficient I have ever seen. Our automotive shop offers a very thorough training, although to a seriously limited number of boys. The over-crowded facilities prevent our offering a general shop or woodworking course.

I doubt if any citizens are unaware of the college admissions crush which has caused a national dilemma in recent years. As the numbers of applicants have increased each year, so have the admissions standards of our colleges, until today, every high school is engaged in a constant self-scrutiny aimed at insuring for each entering freshman the maximum opportunity for preparation and eventual qualification even for the nation's most august universities.

I would repeat " opportunity for preparation " because it is the student's responsibility to engage in a spirited—not passive—scholastic endeavor from his earliest years. No high school " gets a student into college " or "keeps a student out of college", as is commonly heard.

Randolph High School students, I find, have always been welcome at the finest New England colleges, and the records of our boys and girls now engaged in collegiate study prove this point.

Nevertheless, according to the president of the College Entrance Examination Board, Mr. Frank H. Bowles, "Within ten years, about 100 quality colleges will admit only students who, by today's standards, will have completed the equivalent of one year of college-calibre work in high school. Many private and public high schools now offer the entire content of the college freshman year," (He refers to advanced study for the bright student, which is sponsored by the College Board Advanced Placement Program).

Advanced study in high school for the bright and eager students is an imperative "next step" for our high school. The serious over-crowding of the physical plant renders this step difficult, and such vital adjuncts as a language laboratory well nigh impossible.

Regardless of these trying handicaps, the administration joins the faculty and me in our determination to offer to every youngster in our charge the optimum in teacher time and encouragement, to the end that no Randolph student will suffer college rejection because of inadequate opportunity for qualification.

I would be remiss in my duties if I did not serve notice on our Randolph parents that apathy and mediocrity in home study will almost certainly prevent entrance to first-rate colleges. Homework is a vital supplement to class instruction. Our students must learn to devote hour upon hour to independent research, study, review, and to extensive extra reading if they expect to hold their own in College Board Exams because, regardless of a student's standing in his class or local school, he must be able to compete successfully for admission with others from our nation's top schools, and, once in college, he must be accustomed to the long hours of hard study which will be demanded of him.

Parents whose children are producing only mediocre work in college subjects cannot logically expect college admissions deans to refuse other students in favor of accepting a weaker record of grades, regardless of how many activities or recommendations are appended thereto. For a student who expects to apply for college entrance, a minimum of three hours per night of the aforementioned homework, review, study and independent reading is the standard recommendation.

Only through the closest teacher-parent-student-counselor cooperation can we expect to uphold Randolph's splendid record in this period of break-neck competition for every college acceptance. To this end, our faculty have generously offered their free time for the after-school instruction of those students who desire extra assistance in college subjects. This is a tribute to their devotion to their students and a tribute, too, to those boys and girls who place schoolwork above all other considerations.

It is not my intention to capitalize on college preparation in preference to our other curricula, but college interest among our students and parents is at an all-time high, as are visits to our school from college deans. Furthermore, the success in college of the student from a local high school has become a rule-of-thumb evaluation of that school.

Our new testing program will provide us with the latest and best in standard test results, which are the keys to understanding pupil potential. I am grateful to Dr. Roland Darling of Northeastern University for sending so many excellent representatives from every phase of industry, business, and education to speak to our high school students. This service of Northeastern University is completely free and an outstanding contribution indeed.

The multitudes of facets which constitute the Guidance system are too numerous even for listing, let alone description. I must say that Randolph's boys and girls are very fortunate to be in the care of a School Committee, an Administration, and a Faculty who are so keenly and so constantly aware of their high obligations to educate—and to care.

I am grateful to these professional colleagues for their unqualified support, and will ever be grateful to Randolph's parents and her young people for their warm and hospitable welcome.

Theodore Roosevelt said, "A school is worth only as much as the interest it takes in its most insignificant freshman." By this rule the Randolph school system is one with which it is a pleasure to be associated.

REPORT OF THE ELEMENTARY ART SUPERVISOR

The Elementary Art Program in the Town of Randolph is under the direction of Mrs. Carol Carney and Miss Joan Buturlia. With the addition of a second Art Supervisor during the current school year, it is now possible for each class to be visited on a weekly basis. Through these more frequent visits the Art Supervisors are able to maintain a closer study of the creative developments of each individual pupil.

Throughout the school year there are periodic displays of the art work being done by the children. In June of 1959, all the schools participated in a project which utilized the front window of Fernandes' Supermarket for an art exhibition. In the month of November, in observance of National Education Week, there were individual classroom displays in each school while a live exhibit was being presented at the Weymouth Light and Power Company store on North Main Street. A showing for the Parent-Teachers Association is planned for February of 1960 to take place at the Lyons School. Aside from the public exhibitions, the bulletin boards in all the schools serve as constant displays of art development.

The school department provides a variety of art materials which are designed to instill in the child a desire to formulate his own concepts and ideas concerning his experiences.

Through the cooperation of the classroom teacher, an attempt is made to integrate the academic and art programs, in order to make various studies more meaningful to the child by allowing him the opportunity for creative expression.

It is not the goal of the art department to merely advance the skills of the more gifted child, nor to transform elementary school children into talented artists. Rather, our desire is to stimulate in all children a realization that art is more than a mere facility in " making things ", more than an experience reserved for the talented few. Art takes many forms which permeate our whole existence.

It is only our sincere hope that every child will develop through each succeeding art lesson an aesthetic awareness and appreciation of all that surrounds him.

ANNUAL REPORT OF READING SUPERVISORS—1959

September 1959 marked the beginning of the third school year with the Hay-Wingo system of instruction in phonics. Our efforts have been concentrated in the primary grades, in making phonics a more valuable tool for improving spelling, reading and further application in written expression.

This is evidenced by the success in achievement as was noted, for example, on the second grade level. A survey of the results in the subject areas from 1956 to and including May 1959 shows that the number of children falling below the national norms has decreased appreciably. In paragraph meaning the number has decreased (page 18) from 47 per cent to 19 per cent; in word meaning from 50 per cent to 21 per cent; and in spelling from 36 per cent to a minimum of 7 per cent.

The mastery of phonics, and therefore the full use of this particular skill comes, as does all learning, at a different rate and at various stages to each child. However, regardless of whether a child is able to read and spell two and three syllable words, or whether he, at this time, can only deal with words of one syllable, each and every child has shown some measurable progress.

It is difficult to express in words the ultimate satisfaction a teacher experiences in teaching our system and in finding so many children reading one year above the grade, plus the number of slow learners reduced to a very small percentage. Thus it was necessary to develop a tri-basal level, that is a level above the grade to provide a challenge for those whose achievement measured above the grade level. It is very apparent that all groups have been raised at least one reading level through the effectiveness of phonetic analysis.

The demand for supplementary readers beyond the basic readers for the grade, the excellent examples of dictation work, and the creative writing on the several levels all acts as additional testimony of the continued success of our reading program.

REPORTS OF SCHOOL NURSES—1959

The School Health Program has continued to expand with the rising school enrollment.

Physical examinations were performed by the School Physicians. Ratio of referrals necessary for significant physical defects was reduced indicating a good general health picture in our school population.

Vision screening tests were given to all students. Referrals for defective vision were sent to parents with good response.

Audiometric hearing tests were also performed. These hearing tests were particularly helpful in that they measure accurately in decibels hearing deficiencies throughout the entire human frequency.

The Tuberculosis Screening Program was continued in the eleventh grade. Mantaux Test was given by Norfolk County Hospital. Positive reactors were x-rayed and further evaluations were done at the Norfolk County Hospital.

School personnel as required by law were x-rayed in October. This clinic was conducted by the mobile unit of the Norfolk County Hospital and was held at the High School.

Immunization for Diphtheria, Tetanus and Polio were given in the first grades.

All physically handicapped children were checked on regularly so that they could have home instructions.

First-aid is given to accidents and sudden illnesses. Further treatment should be by the family physician.

The School Physician is called for emergencies if the parent cannot be reached.

A nursing course is given to all the girls taking the Homemaking Course. Our Future Nurses' Club, a group of students interested in a career of nursing, gave a scholarship to a member of the 1959 graduating class.

Any suggestions aimed at improving the health of our school population will be greatly appreciated, for only with the cooperation of all will the physical, mental, emotional and social welfare of our children be the best.

REPORT OF SCHOOL NURSE—1959

Following is a brief report covering the major health activities during the year 1959 in the schools assigned to me, namely the Belcher, Lyons, Tower Hill, McNeill, Pauline and Devine Schools.

The basic purpose of the school health program is to bring each child up to his own best level of health. This is achieved through the various school and community services. The program includes health instruction, health appraisal and the follow-up services and healthful school living. Children of today are provided with a safe, pleasant and comfortable place in which to learn.

During the year the school physicians, Doctors Justin McGuirk, William Sloane and Russell Thompson completed the physical examinations of 673 children in grades one and four. These examinations are made to determine the health status of the child and to detect the presence of physical defects or impaired health. If such a condition is found the child is referred to the family physician for diagnosis and treatment.

Emphasis is placed on pre-school examination just prior to the admission to the first grade. Correction of defects should be made before the child enters school.

Children should be vaccinated against small pox and immunized against diphtheria and tetanus, whooping cough and poliomyelitis in the pre-school years. Twenty-two children who had never had diphtheria-tetanus shots were immunized at the school clinics. One hundred sixty-nine children were given a booster shot and 33 children had the polio shots.

Vision and hearing screening tests were carried on throughout the year. One thousand eight hundred and eighty children were tested with the Massachusetts vision test equipment and the pure-tone audiometer.

Eighty-four children failed the vision test and sixty-seven failed the hearing tests. All but seven of these children were taken to an eye or ear doctor.

Weight and height of all the children was completed in all grades and recorded on each child's health record card.

Home visits and conferences with parents were made whenever necessary.

As in other years children with a physical handicap which prevent their attendance at school have a teacher instruct them in their homes. In September two of these children who had had home instruction for several years were able to attend regular school classes for half a session for the first time.

REPORT OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND ATHLETICS

The aim of physical education must be in harmony with the aim of education and its determining criteria. An acceptable aim is the optimum development, through total body activities, primarily on the play level, of the physically, mentally and socially integrated and effective individual. I feel that the physical education program through the instructors has contributed such in the Randolph School system.

Our youngsters receive physical education from the first grade up through high school. Because of lack of facilities and lack of instructors the grade schools and Junior High School has physical education only once a week. My thought on this matter is to develop the program so that all students in the Randolph School system must be compelled to take physical education at least twice a week. With the new Junior High School, in the near future, some of our problems involving lack of indoor and outdoor play facilities may be overcome. However, as a town of such population we are definitely far behind regarding recreational, and play areas.

Our athletic programs in the high school have been very good. However, for many years because of the double sessions the Jr. High school boys and girls have not been able to participate in any athletics.

Tests and measurements have been given to the entire school system and comparing our system with others we rank better than average. Our weakness in the tests prove that youngsters ride too much instead of walking and push shopping carts instead of carrying—result being that many boys and girls have not developed legs and arms. Parents would be doing their children a great favor by eliminating the family car to the child.

Our school system is growing and I sincerely hope that it grows in personnel and facilities for the betterment of the town.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF MUSIC—1959

The Randolph Music Department has been greatly expanded this past school year both in terms of increased participation in music activities and through the addition of Miss Beverly Bakally and Mr. Leonard Rapoza to the Musc Staff in September.

The High School Band appeared many times during the year, giving concerts both at the high school and away, plus performing at all football games and marching in various parades.

Despite the fact that the band rehearsed after school, because of double sessions, the band has inincreased from 42 to 54 members. Outstanding band members were selected to participate in S.E.M.S.B.A., the Southeastern District Festival and All-State.

The dance band composed of 16 high school band members rehearsing every Tuesday night from 7 to 9 p.m., played at school dances and other school functions, plus several out-of-town engagements.

In addition to the regular dance band, a junior dance band was organized to give additional students experience and train replacements for the senior dance band.

The chorus participated in several concerts and the outstanding singers were selected to perform in the S.E.M.S.B.A., District and All-State Choruses. A high light of the year was the performance of Gilbert and Sullivan's, "The Mikado" by the chorus.

A new group organized in September of this year is the Girls Drill Team. This group performed with the band at all the football games and added much color to the half-time shows.

The Junior High School Band which continues to rehearse outside of school time due to double sessions, has doubled in size, now numbering 70 members.

Last year because of limited personnel it was impossible to offer vocal music to the Jr. High School students. With the additional staff we have now organized a Jr. High Girl's Chorus, numbering 106 students under the direction of Miss Bakally, a boys chorus numbering 35 students, meeting under my direction. These organizations meet before school because of the double sessions. These groups made their debut at the Christmas Assembly.

There are elementary school bands in the Stetson, Devine, Lyons, Belcher and Tower Hill Schools. These bands combined constitute the All-Town Band numbering 150 players, which is an increase of 90 members over the past year.

Through the efforts of the mothers of the Band Parents Organization uniforms were made for the elementary bands and were first seen in the Memorial Day Parade.

The All-Town Band also performed at the All-Town Elementary Concert in June at which time over 500 children participated, demonstrating the results of their classroom music training.

In September the enrollment in the elementary instrumental music program increased to 181 pupils.

In addition to the regular instrumental program, a band has been organized in the Pauline School numbering 12 students.

There are 85 classes to be supervised plus three elementary glee clubs The third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades plus the glee clubs meet once a week, but the first and second grades are still on a A-B schedule because of the heavy teaching schedule of Miss Bakally and Mrs. Marie Sansone Volpe.

All third graders are studying flutophones, as playing an instrument is an essential part of the five-fold general music program in the elementary school. Special time is allotted for flutophone lessons at the McNeill, Stetson, Devine and Tower Hill Schools. Due to the extra class at the Lyons school the third grade pupils have their lessons during the thirty minute weekly music period and this is proving to be inadequate.

During the year many programs were presented by the elementary schools. The Belcher school presented "Around the World in Eighty Minutes" of Music and Dance, for the P.T.A. The Stetson school band presented a concert for the P.T.A. as did the Devine school glee club and band, plus an operatta by grade 2. Christmas programs were given at the Stetson, Lyons, Devine and Belcher schools.

In January three one hour music workshops were given by Mrs. Volpe for elementary grade teachers.

We are making progress in the acquisition of new equipment for the music program. In September each school received at least one or more new record players, teacher guides for their new music series, a set of Music appreciation books, new rhythm band equipment and several new recordings, as we are striving to enlarge our present record libraries. Additional equipment is still necessary. It is our hope to eventually have a phonograph in every classroom. The pianos are in very poor condition and additional pianos are needed in all elementary schools.

I would like to thank the School Committee and the Administrators for their assistance and cooperation in making 1959 school year a year of much progress in the music department.

"NO SCHOOL" SIGNALS

The "no school" policy followed by the Randolph School Department is in the interest of the welfare of school children in health and safety. The calling off of school depends not only on weather conditions at the opening time of school, but also on the condition of sidewalks and streets.

Parents are encouraged to use their own judgment on stormy days because they are in a better personal position to judge the adequacy of the child's clothing for facing the elements.

The "no school" signals in effect in the public schools are as follows:

Fire Signal Box 3 repeated 4 times at 7:00 a.m. will indicate no school all day for grades 9-10-11-12.

Fire Signal Box 3 repeated 4 times at 7:30 a.m. will indicate no school all day for grades 1 through 6.

Fire Signal Box 3 repeated 4 times at 11:00 a.m. will indicate no school for grades 7 and 8 pupils.

Radio announcements will be made from stations WBET (1460), WJDA (1300), WCOP (1150), WBZ (1030), WHDH (850) and WEZE (1260), at 6:45 a.m. and 11:00 a.m.

Please Do Not Call the Fire Department

Keep tuned to these radio stations and you will be the first to know about "no school".

Report of The Planning Board

The Planning Board submits herewith the annual report for the year 1959.

The Master Plan Study of the Community by the firm of Shurcliff and Merrill has been completed and copies will be available immediately after town elections and before town meeting. The Planning Board welcomes suggestions and recommendations in regard to putting into action the recommendations of said Master Plan.

The Board has revised and brought up to date its rules and regulations so that the town will be assured of adequate roads and drainage and with the hopes that the town in the future will not have to assume the burdens of capital outlays to improve and correct roads and drainages as they have had to do in the past.

The Planning Board has instituted a plan for approval of sub-divisions which it considers will lead to an orderly development and growth of the town.

Respectfully submitted,

Randolph Planning Board

Report of The Town Counsel

To Robert A. Hancock
Town Manager

The Legal Department has concerned itself with Appellate Tax Board hearings, suits on bonds, tort claims, suits concerning welfare matters, and appeals from Planning Board decisions.

In addition to actual litigation, the Department is called upon by other Town Agencies, Boards and Deparments to render legal opinions and advice concerning transactions involving the Town.

Questions arise concerning departmental jurisdiction, rights, duties and obligations of Town employees. Many of the questions arise for the first time because they involve new legislation which may be difficult of interpretation or upon which a Court has not passed.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM J. CARR,
Town Counsel

Report of The Board of Selectmen

Citizens of Randolph:

Your Board of Selectmen submits herewith their annual report of the year 1959.

During the year we were saddened by the loss of four former conscientious Town Employees, Joseph Daley, Joseph Wales, Edward Lloyd and Weston Leon Mann. Their contributions of service to our community will provide inspiration for those who carry on in the future.

The rapid growth of our town during the past several years has created a multitude of problems and needs as has been the case in many other Massachusetts towns where fast growth has occurred. Randolph is striving to meet your needs and progress has been made. Many of the public services have been expanded and many needed construction projects have been built or are being built. This "catching-up to your needs" process is producing a severe impact on your tax bill. We are keenly aware of this impact and we hope it can be offset by industrial growth in the town.

The state's road-building program around us is nearing completion. We hope and expect that some of our traffic problems will be alleviated when the last link of the new Route 128 is opened in May.

We believe that the completion of these state roads will be a boon to future industrial growth here.

Rest assured that your Board of Selectmen will do everything possible to encourage the growth of industry in Randolph.

We are faced with four major elections this year and we urge each and every citizen to express their right as a free American and vote for the candidate of your choice. "You the people are the government".

Our sincere gratitude to all that have been so cooperative and have assisted us in any manner.

Board of Selectmen,

GEORGE H. KILEY, JR., Chairman
GEORGE F. CULLEN Clerk
RALPH H. HUTCHINSON
JOSEPH J. SEMENSI
THEODORE S. LUDDINGTON

Report of The Town Manager

Citizens of Randolph:

REVIEW

Under your Selectmen—town manager form of government (now in its 6th year) progressive action continued throughout the year 1959. The difficult trunk sewer work went forward on trunk line No. 1. Trunk line No.

2 was started and partially completed and a Federal Grant of $250,000.00 (the 2nd Federal Grant of $250,-000.00) was obtained for trunk line construction.

Work was started (foundations completed) on the new water standpipes. Five water main replacement or extension projects were installed. Seven sidewalk projects were built. Drainage work was done at fifteen locations. Ten sections of highway were improved. Many maintenance and improvement jobs at the various school buildings and grounds and the Town Hall were completed and the preparation of plans and specifications for the new North Randolph Junior High School was nearly finished. Details of these and other activities will be found in the departmental reports.

COSTS

The services and projects needed for the education, health, safety, welfare and convenience of the people of Randolph are costly, especially the construction of new schools, the sewer system and the improvements to the water system. Our continuing population growth imposes budgetary increases in the School Department and in the other departements also. Because of these things real estate taxes will necessarily increase in 1960.

TAX RELIEF

Our efforts have been and will continue to be directed toward efficient operation and savings wherever possible so as to minimize the tax burden and to obtain the greatest possible value for your tax dollar.

However, "subsantial relief" for the families paying taxes on homes and for other property owners too can be achieved only through two possible avenues—1. Industrial Growth—2. More State and Federal Assistance.

1. Industrial Growth

On this subject it is encouraging to note that one local industry (Randolph Manufacturing) started expansion during 1959 (construction of a new building) which will provide additional tax income for the town and employment for about 125 more people. A new industry (to Randolph) Trim Alloys, Inc. of So. Boston, acquired land and made plans to build a new plant which will also provide tax income and employment for our community.

In addition, an Industrial Development Firm of excellent reputation made inquiry and have offered to establish in the future an "Industrial Park" in Randolph. I am sure that all Departments and Town Officials will cooperate to overcome whatever obstacles presently exist, so that the town can eventually receive the benefits that will accrue from a desirable Industrial Park.

Our Sewer Program and our Water System Improvement Program must be developed to the extent that we can provide these vital services which will be needed by industries locating here.

2. State and Federal Assistance

In addition to the present regular State and Federal Annual Aid Programs, we obtained during 1959, approval for the aforementioned $250,000.00 Federal Grant on the North Randolph Intercepter Sewer. But, our needs are so great that present State and Federal Assistance is NOT sufficient to enable us to either stabilize or reduce the Real Estate Tax Bill. Therefor, all of us should urge our Representatives to provide more financial assistance for the town.

APPRECIATION

My sincere thanks are hereby extended to all Department Heads, Boards, Committees, Employees and Citizens whose cooperation helped to make possible the accomplishments of 1959.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT A. HANCOCK,

Town Manager
